

Typewriter Studies.

This is almost good enough weather to be called Indian summer.

Mr. Johns does not believe in getting into the newspapers too much as a candidate for the nomination for governor.

The coldest frost in years so early in the season may have some political significance for the Portland machine politician.

We could forgive Harvey Scott for his talk about removing the state capital to Portland. But that he should forever impose John Barrett on the people as an Oregon product is humiliation too deep.

Salem friends of the Oregonian who think the Salem papers have been the cause of the Oregonian's attacks on this city should read the papers in the other valley towns. They are all loyally standing up for Salem and their comments are on the red-hot order.

It is absurd to think that because some technicality of the U'Ben Primary Law has not been complied with that anyone will be excluded from becoming a candidate for the city council. The right to nominate by petition should be kept intact until the day before the primary. That primary law cannot be strictly complied with and nominate anyone.

The Journal is happy to have a subscriber in an old Iowa friend at Stayton in the person of Allen Drippa. He is 83 years old, hale and hearty, lives alone, and is a good deal of a philosopher, besides being a staunch Democrat. He does his own cooking, eating, washing and mending, and will live to a great age, as he reads the Capital Journal every day and enjoys the good-natured headlines and the nice easy-read type.

While Salem was shelling out its daily trainload of people for the Portland fair, not a Salem man during that fair was ever invited to a reception to any of the notables, not a Salem man was ever asked to be present at or speak at any of the innumerable banquets to governors and railroad presidents, and even the Salem commissioner, Hon. John H. Albert, was kept in the background as far as possible, when he was as brazen a man as there was on the board. Of course, Salem should take all the slanders that a Portland paper can throw at it, besides being systematically excluded from the columns of state news items. Some day Salem will wake up and Portland will have real cause to be obvious and jealous.

The Journal editor was happily surprised to meet Mrs. William Georgeson of Eureka, Calif., the other day at Portland. His last recollection of her was as a pretty girl in one of the inland county towns of Clayton county, when she was the daughter of a contemporary newspaper man, Hon. J. F. Thompson, of Elkader, Iowa. He went to Eureka and prospered to such a degree that he is a retired capitalist at San Francisco. Mrs. Georgeson is still a fine looking woman, with a family of grown-up children. Miss Ella Thompson, that was, has become a staunch Pacific coast matron, the center of social influences, and substantial circumstances that follow those who manifest goodness of character and are never weary of well-doing.

By some mistake a clipping from Collier's Weekly got into the Capital Journal editorial page of October 18th, without credit. It was entitled "Senator Mitchell in Jail, But What About Other Senators?" Of course, it did not reflect the views of this paper, which has consistently, through thick and thin, stood up for the Oregon delegation, and has been criticized for it. The mistake of the proof-readers in omitting the credit and running it into The Journal as an original editorial, put this paper in a wrong light. The destruction of the Oregon delegation in congress sustains the theory of Secretary Hitchcock and the raid on the people of Oregon who have handled public lands in many cases no doubt technically in violation of law (but not different from other states) is an outrage upon this state that it will take years to overcome. It will not only keep people and capital out of the state, but will demoralize the Republican party. The Collier editorial was right in saying that the United States senate is full of men who have stolen millions, where John H. Mitchell has received a cent, if he ever did receive one dishonestly.

TO THOSE WHO HAVE BEEN Deceived

BEING PRACTICAL SHOE MEN, HAVING THOROUGHLY LEARNED THE BUSINESS IN EVERY DETAIL FROM THE BENCH UP, AND HAVING MADE A LIFE STUDY OF THE SHOE BUSINESS, CERTAINLY ENABLES US TO BUY SHOE STOCKS THAT ARE FAR SUPERIOR TO THOSE BOUGHT BY COMBINATION STORES.

IF YOU WANTED A DIAMOND YOU WOULD NOT GO TO A BLACKSMITH SHOP FOR IT.

IF YOU WERE SICK YOU WOULD NOT SEND FOR A HORSE DOCTOR, OR GO TO A HARDWARE STORE FOR YOUR MEDICINE.

AND IF YOU WANTED A WATCH OR PIECE OF JEWELRY YOU WOULD NOT GO TO A SHOE STORE FOR IT.

BUT IF YOU WERE SICK YOU WOULD GO TO A DOCTOR WHOM YOU WERE CONFIDENT THOROUGHLY UNDERSTOOD HIS BUSINESS, AND YOU WOULD HAVE HIS PRESCRIPTION FILLED AT A RELIABLE DRUG STORE.

AND YOU WOULD GO TO A SPECIALIST IN DIAMONDS AND WATCHES IF YOU DESIRED A GOOD ARTICLE IN EITHER OF THE ABOVE.

THIS IS AN AGE OF SPECIALTIES. THE MANUFACTURER MAKING THE BEST SHOES FOR WOMEN AND CHILDREN CANNOT COMPETE WITH THE MAKER OF MEN'S SHOES, AND THE MANUFACTURER OF MEN'S SHOES CANNOT MAKE AS GOOD A GRADE OF SHOES FOR WOMEN AND CHILDREN. EVERY LINE IS DISTINCT IN ITSELF.

WE, BEING PRACTICAL MEN AND JUDGES OF THE BUSINESS, AND BUYING FOR CASH FROM THE WORLD'S BEST MAKERS OF ALL KINDS OF SHOES, WHEREVER WE FIND THE BEST, AND CONFIRMING OUR PURCHASES TO NO ONE MANUFACTURER, ENABLES US TO

Give Our Customers the Best in all Lines

AS EACH ONE OF OUR LINES COMES FROM A SPECIALIST IN THAT PARTICULAR BRANCH OF SHOE MAKING.

IS IT NOT A MATTER OF FACT THAT A PRACTICAL SHOE MAN WOULD KNOW MORE ABOUT LEATHERS AND SHOE MANUFACTURING THAN A DRY GOODS MAN? WOULD YOU COME TO US FOR AN EXPERT OPINION ON A GOOD SUIT OF CLOTHING, OR HOW TO RUN YOUR FARM?

WE DO NOT PRETEND OR MAKE CLAIMS TO UNDERSTAND THAT KIND OF BUSINESS, NOR DO WE CLASS OURSELVES WITH GENERAL STORES IN REGARD TO SHOE BUYING.

OUR SUCCESSFUL SEVERAL YEARS IN BUSINESS IN SALEM, AND THE CONTINUED INCREASE IN TRADE WE ARE ENJOYING IS CERTAINLY EVIDENCE THAT THE SHOE-BUYING PEOPLE HAVE FAITH IN OUR METHODS AND GOODS, AND GOES TO SHOW THAT WE HAVE TRUTHFULLY STATED THAT THIS IS AN AGE OF SPECIALTIES, AND IF THEY WANT

Good, Satisfying Shoes They Go to an Exclusive Shoe Store

FOR DRY GOODS TO A DRY GOODS STORE, FOR CLOTHING TO A CLOTHING STORE, AND SO ON DOWN THE LINE.

Our shoes in all lines are better than the same priced Shoes sold in combination stores, for we see to it in buying that every process and all the material that enters into a good shoe is put into the goods we offer to our customers.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The present enrollment in the grammar grades at the East building is about 450.

A system is being used at the East building of registering the attendance of the teachers before school hours. A roll is kept on the first floor, and the teachers register the time of their arrival in the morning. At 8:30 the roll is taken by the principal, and all teachers coming after that time are considered late.

More of the old social air is prevalent at the East building this year. The teachers have revived the old custom of all lunching at the large table. The old dinner table stood in the northeast room on the lower floor, which at that time was Miss Cooper's room. The teachers now, however, have their lunch table in the girl's basement.

After the first of next month Professor Graham is going to institute a new system of drawing in the East school, in all the grades below the eighth.

At last the Salem high school has arranged a football game with the Portland high school. This will probably lead to a close acquaintance of the schools.

Efforts are being made by the students of the high school, and also the faculty, to reorganize the high school chorus. It is probable that it will begin work in the near future.

The Demosthenes literary society has started its work again this year, and has inspired enough enthusiasm among the other pupils that they have organized another society in opposition. The rivalry that is liable to come will without doubt build them into two good societies.

A Neighborly Courtesy.
(From the Salem Daily Statesman of October 20th.)

To the Editor:
On first thought I was exceedingly indignant at the villainous and libelous attack of the Oregonian on the people of Salem, but from what I learn I am convinced that Scott, in his attitude, no more correctly represents the commercial and business interests of Portland, than Hofer, in his sheet, reflects the sentiment of Salem and Marion county on any question affecting their interests, and we all know that when Hofer opens his jaw, he only speaks for a hofer. So let us not get excited over what this man Scott has to say or do—Portland does not approve his actions.

The editor of The Capital Journal wishes to thank the Statesman for the courtesy of publishing above.

"Well, He Did It."
Robert Chauncey Bishop, the well-known second baseman and football coach, has hied himself to the tall timbers in the maple grove for a Chinese pheasant hunt. When last seen he was hiking for the 11 o'clock train for Corvallis and the surrounding country. He looked a typical sportsman, carrying his gun by the muzzle, and balancing a lone box of shells on his head. Under his arm he carried a sack of fine table salt to take the tails of the festive birds. Chauncey expects to arrive in Salem Monday morning, and he requests all his friends with a pheasant appetite to meet him at the train. It might be well to suggest to those who will undoubtedly meet him at the depot to bring their selves with them, as anything larger would undoubtedly let the game out.
