

PUBLIC OFFER

To All Persons in Salem Who Wish to Accept

Are you thin? Do you require more flesh to be really well and strong?

To every such person in Salem we make the following offer: Commence at once a course of treatment with Vinol, our cod liver oil preparation, without oil, and if after you have taken what we consider enough to restore your normal weight, and it has not succeeded, we will pay for all the Vinol you have taken.

A prominent New York physician recently said: "I am convinced that the best way to gain good, solid, firm flesh is to take Vinol, for in it you get all the curative, flesh-making and strength-creating properties contained in that grand old remedy, cod liver oil, without the nauseating oil itself. It is delicious, and the weakest stomach can retain it. Thin people are usually weak and ailing, and Vinol is what they need."

Vinol acts first upon the stomach, creates an appetite for good, wholesome food, strengthens and tones up the digestive organs. Rich, red blood is sent coursing through every vein, firm flesh is created wherever it is needed, and emaciated figures, hollow cheeks and sunken eyes are soon a thing of the past.

Every thin person in Salem should try Vinol on our guarantee. G. W. Putnam Co., Druggists.

PRESIDENT VISITS ALABAMA

The "Here We Rest" Gave Him One of the Strenuous Days of His Trip

Montgomery, Ala., Oct. 24.—Ever since yesterday thousands of people from the surrounding districts began to pour into this city eager to see and welcome President Roosevelt on his first visit to Montgomery. The hotels are crowded and there is more life and bustle in the streets than ever before to the recollection of the "oldest inhabitant." During the forenoon the last touches were put on the arrangements for the reception to the President and when the hour of his arrival came, everything was in readiness and order.

A battery of the Montgomery field artillery, stationed on the river bank, fired the first shot of a national salute of 21 guns, when the special train, bearing President Roosevelt and his party, rolled into the station at 12 o'clock this noon. The President was enthusiastically cheered by the enormous multitude surrounding the station, when he stepped off the train and was welcomed by Governor Jelks and the members of the governor's staff, who were dressed in full uniform. After having shaken hands with the governor, President Roosevelt exchanged greetings with Mayor W. M. Teague, who was assisted by a reception committee of fifty prominent members of the city council, the directors of the commercial and industrial association and others.

The President and his party were escorted to their carriages and driven to the state capital, along Commerce street and Dexter avenue. Governor Jelks rode with the President in the first carriage, which was surrounded by a mounted escort of citizens and members of the militia. The buildings along the route over which the presidential party drove were handsomely decorated with flags and bunting and presented a bright and cheerful picture. When the head of the line of carriages reached the capitol, the President escorted by the governor, the mayor and other officials, took a seat on the grand stand which had been built out from the west portico of the capitol building and the others as well as the invited guests occupied the remaining space on the platform. From that point of vantage the President reviewed the parade, which was headed by a platoon of mounted patrolmen and was led by the chief marshal and his brilliantly uniformed staff, the reception committee, the Montgomery city band, the various Montgomery military organizations and the visiting militia companies.

After the parade had passed in review, Mayor Teague formally welcomed the President to the city in a well chosen address. Then Governor Jelks introduced President Roosevelt, who delivered an address to the large crowd filling every available inch of space in front of the platform. His address was well received and frequently interrupted by cheers and applause. After the address President Roosevelt was escorted back to his train and at 2 o'clock he left for Birmingham.

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 24.—The special train with President Roosevelt and his party on board arrives here at half past four o'clock this afternoon and everything is in readiness for his reception and entertainment. Upon his arrival at the city the President will be received by a special committee, headed by Mayor Ward. The mayor will welcome the President in a brief address and will present him with a handsome gold medal struck in honor of the President's visit to this city. Then President Roosevelt and the members of the reception committee will take carriages and drive along Twentieth street to the capitol park, where the reviewing and speaking stand has been erected. The platform from which the President will review the civic and military parade, has been erected in front of the recently erected monument to the Confederate soldiers and sailors. One thousand school children, each bearing a small American flag, will assemble in front of the platform and sing national songs. The Jefferson County Choral society will also sing several numbers. Then Mr. Rufus N. Rhodes will address the President, welcoming him to the city and President Roosevelt will deliver an address to the assembled people. The President will leave in his special train shortly after 6 o'clock.
