RUSSIAN STRIKE SPREADS

Police Refuse to go on Duty, and Soldiers Refuse to Mount Guard

St. Petersburg, Oct. 27.—The strike is spreading through all classes of labor throughout European Russia today. Three leading papers were forced to suspend in this city for lack of workmen. There were conflicts in many towns, and numerous casualties, but the general situation is quiet, pending developments. General strike demonstrations everywhere were ordered by the committees Saturday. Witte is supreme. At Warsaw and Pabianice the police refuse to go on duty, and soldiers refused to mount guard, fearing the populace.

(Four O'clock Edition.)
St. Petersburg, Oct. 27.—During the afternoon the wildest rumors were circulated, and the city was seized with a panic. Students began to congregate at the university, announcing that they intended to hold the building in the Vassili Catrov district against the military. They held a big meeting tonight, to which workmen of all the social groups are invited.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 27.—The supply of food in this city is so low that the soldiers' rations consist of only a little salt meat. A message from Peterhoff, where the Czar is, says that all the warships are under steam, and the imperial yacht is ready to convey the Czar, at a moment's notice to Denmark, if it becomes necessary to flee for his personal safety. Order continues in the city.

Warsaw, Poland, Oct. 27.—On account of the fire the telegraph office, this city is practically cut off from Moscow and Berlin.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—The Daily News correspondent at St. Petersburg cables that the disturbances have increased to such an extent throughout the empire that there is practically no government. The provinces continue to report bloody struggles between the military and mob. The revolutionists triumphed over the soldiers at Khar'kov, Ekaterinoslav and other places. In every city they have taken the public treasury, seized the leaders of the forces, and, in obedience to their orders, shops and offices have been closed.

Arrested for Embezzlement.
(Four O'clock Edition.)
New York, Oct. 27.—Henry Bangs, arrested on complaint of the Chicago police, charged with embezzlement, was remanded to jail without bond to await extradition. Bangs is a Chicago clubman, a banker and a mining expert and said to be the son of a California millionaire. Albert Gohl, of Chicago, accuses him of the embezzlement of $2500. It is said several other complaints will be filed.

The Railroads Can, But Will They.
(Four O'clock Edition.)
Chicago, Oct. 27.—The "rump" rate convention was entertained by many speeches, the trend of which was that railroads could fix rates themselves. The speakers denied that the delegates were railroad men. A permanent organization was proposed by George X. Wendling, of San Francisco, who tried to speak just as the adjournment was taken for lunch.

Now the Country Can Sleep.
(Four O'clock Edition.)
Jersey City, N. J., Oct. 27.—Miss Roosevelt, en route to Chicago, positively denied her engagement to Longworth or anybody.

Operator to Be Tried.
Helena, Mont., Oct. 27.—C. C. Beach, a telegraph operator, who went on strike with the Northern Pacific and Great Northern operators in August, is to be tried under the Gravello law, which makes it punishable by five years' to interfere with the operation of trains. Beach pulled the plugs from the switch board, and for a number of hours stalled every train on the division.

World's Foreign News.
Revolutionary assemblies continue to be held in St. Petersburg, and are only dispersed by soldiers with bayonets.
German authorities announce suspension of traffic over government railroads with Russia.
The Suez canal is again open for traffic. It has been closed since September 28th, when a steamer blow up with 90 tons of dynamite.

Spanish Steamer Wrecked.
Hamburg, German, Oct. 27.—The Spanish steamer Zuria was wrecked this morning off Heligoland. The crew refused to enter the boats and ten were drowned.

Under the new civil service rule incompetents can be discharged without any further explanation than incompetency.

TEDDY GETS IN A MIXUP

New Orleans, Oct. 27.—The light-house tender, Magnolia, with President Roosevelt aboard, collided with the fruit steamer Esparta, near Nairn, La., shortly after midnight. The news reached this city through a message from Capt. William Rose, of the Esparta, asking for assistance. Rose said that both vessels were aground on the river bank, and said the Esparta would probably have to carry the President's party to the mouth of the river, where the West Virginia was awaiting. No one was injured. From this it is inferred that the Magnolia was badly damaged. The tugs Willmot and Woods left New Orleans at 4 o'clock this morning for the scene. Nairn is about 60 miles below the city on the west bank of the Mississippi. An effort to communicate with Nairn by telephone this morning was futile. The telephone operator at Empire, five miles below Nairn, telephoned at 8:15 this morning that the Magnolia passed that point at 2:30. She should have passed at midnight, had there been no accident.

New Orleans, Oct. 27.—A telephone message has been received by the United Fruit Company from Pilotown, saying the revenue cutter Ivy took the President off the disabled Magnolia, and proceeded down the river.

Washington, Oct. 27.—Members of the President's party, who left him at Memphis, returned this morning. Roosevelt entertained them at luncheon before their departure. Some one said: "He will make many trips next term." "There will be no next term, I'm serving my last term, and will not even be nominated," the President replied.

New Orleans, Oct. 27.—The President boarded the West Virginia at 9:40, being greeted with a salute of 21 guns. She immediately weighed anchor and sailed.

New Orleans, Oct. 27.—When the ship struck the President, who was asleep, was awakened by the jar. He put on his glasses and remarked calmly: "It appears the boat has struck a snag." He offered no criticism, but said he hoped he would not have to take a bath so early in the morning, but could enjoy it if necessary." Loeb sent a message to Washington in the morning after breakfast to notify Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Bixey that the President's boat had collided with a steamer, but that no one was hurt. After the Ivy came alongside the President did not retire, but preferred to sit up in the cabin. He enjoyed the accident hugely. It is said that the pilot of the Esparta was wholly to blame.

Hanged at San Quentin.
San Quentin, Cal., Oct. 27.—Joseph Sualdecki was hanged at 10:30 this morning for the murder of Mrs. C. Salmon, in July, 1904, at Los Angeles. The condemned man made a statement, reviewing the story of the crime, and admitting his guilt. The execution passed off without a hitch. The body will be buried in the prison cemetery. Sualdecki killed his victim with a file.

The Shamese Man.
Lawson—So your wife has been away all summer? I should think you would be anxious now about her return?
Dawson—I am. I'm afraid she's coming back next week.—Somerville Journal.

DOUBLE DUEL IN ALASKA

Two Partners Killed in Desperate Encounter With Bowie Knives

(Four O'clock Edition.)
Nome, Alaska, Oct. 27.—As a result of a double Bowie knife duel over a tundra claim, near Fort Davis, Edward Killilea and B. Shaughnessy, partners, were stabbed in a dozen places, and both will die. Homer Bounds and his son, Lee, are badly cut, but will live. They have been arrested and placed in the federal jail. All are well-known miners.
A later dispatch says: B. Shaughnessy, who participated in the double duel, is dead, and his partner is dying. Bounds and his son are recovering.

Patrick Must Hang.
Albany, N. Y., Oct. 27.—The court of appeals this afternoon denied a new trial to Albert T. Patrick, the lawyer, under sentence of death for complicity in the murder of the millionaire, William Marsh Rice.

Northwest News.
The Odd Fellows of South Bend will build a handsome temple.

Nothing Said About His Lighting.
Chicago, Oct. 27.—Adolph Perbener, president of the Equitable real Estate and Loan Co., accused of getting money under false pretenses, this morning, when approached by officers with a warrant for his arrest, jumped from the office window, four stories above the sidewalk.

tially destroyed by fire this morning. The second floor fell in, burying John Arata and D. Harrison. At the same time the wall fell out, carrying down Harry Wilson and Frank Casassa. All were rescued quickly except Arata, who was pinioned four hours under huge beams, and is probably fatally injured. The loss is $11,000.
