DIED.
LEE.—The funeral of the late J. H. Lee, who died suddenly at the family home at Marion Thursday evening, took place yesterday afternoon, and the body was interred in City View cemetery. Rev. B. F. Hinshaw conducting the services.
Mr. Lee was a pioneer of this state, and one of the most respected farmers in the county. His sudden death, while sitting at the supper table with his family, came as a great shock to his hundreds of friends, as well as to the immediate members of his own family.
He was born in Madison county, Indiana, October 9, 1837. Four years of his life were spent in the service of his country in the Civil War, out of which he came with an enviable record for bravery and service as a true soldier. He was married in 1866, coming to this country 11 years later, since which time he has labored for the up-building of the county and state.
He is survived by a widow and the following children: Mrs. L. M. White, of Stayton, and Nellie, Leona, Lillian, Charles and Chester Lee.

RHODE.—In this city, Saturday, November 4, 1905, Daniel F. Rhode, aged 67 years. Funeral Sunday, interment in City View cemetery.

Daniel F. Rhode was born in Lawrence county, Indiana, on the 8th day of December, 1838. He was united in marriage on March 21, 1868, to Sarah Taliferro, in the state of Iowa, to which state he had removed when 13 years old. Eleven children were born to them; three have gone before and eight remain to mourn the loss of their father, and to comfort their mother in the loss of her companion, who, for 37 years, shared with her the joys and sorrows of life. Mr. Rhode came to Oregon but a few weeks ago, to seek relief in a change of climate from the illness that affected him, and died at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Delany, the only members of his immediate family residing in Oregon. Funeral services were held at the residence of Mr. Delany, in South Salem, Sunday by the pastor of the Leslie M. E. church.

Mrs. Mattie Southwick-Norwood.

When death comes to the old, to those who have passed the full four seasons of life, it is but the fitting end, the harvest time, which must follow the blossoms of spring, the maturing of summer, the ripening of autumn. It leaves sorrow, it is true, but sorrow softened by the knowledge that life has had its full fruition. But when the icy fingers of death touch the lips of youth, with life's young blood and they wax white and chill; and eyes bright with youth and hope and all that makes life's springtime glad and beautiful, it is then heart strings break, and eyes grow dim with grief inexpressible. Thus was it with Mrs. Mattie Southwick-Norwood, who died at the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Apperson, at McMinville, at an early hour this morning. A bride of but a few months, the picture of health, and in the perfect bloom of young womanhood, it seems cruel that a life with all its hopes and promises yet to be fulfilled, should be so ruthlessly blotted out.
Born in Santa Rosa, California, 25 years ago Saturday, she came with her parents to this city at an early age, and here she grew to womanhood. Bright, cheery of a lovable, gentle and kindly disposition, she was loved by all with whom she came in contact, and her sudden and unexpected death has saddened many a heart.
She was married to W. R. Norwood June 21st of the present year, and some of Salem's daughters ever carried to her new home heartier congratulations or more heartfelt wishes for her happiness.

The young couple made their home in Los Angeles, and came to Oregon for a visit less than two weeks ago, going to McMinville. On the day they were to return to the home of her parents here, she was attacked with typhoid pneumonia. For ten days her vigorous constitution held out in the vain struggle, and then death, with icy fingers, made mute forever the parched lips, and touched the drooping eyelids, and she slept.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Southwick, and Miss Margaret were at her bedside when she passed away. Beside these, she leaves the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. J. Hastings, of Portland; Mrs. Carl Baker, of Harrington, Wa.; Mrs. J. A. Baird, of Portland, and Albert, Ronald and Ralph Southwick, of this city.

The funeral will be held from the family residence on the corner of Marion and Twelfth streets, but the time and the particulars will be announced later. Mr. and Mrs. Southwick are expected to arrive with the body on the evening's train.

To the Friends and Neighbors.

Who so kindly offered their help and sympathy in our hour of trouble we wish to extend our thanks.

Mrs. S. C. Rhode,
Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Delany.

Died at Albany.

Mrs. R. N. Griggs of Albany, died at her home at that place Sunday. The funeral will be held in this city Tuesday morning, immediately after the arrival of the 8:20 local.

Mrs. Griggs was an aunt of Miss Zaidie Palmer, of this city.

The Edison's New Bill.

The Edison has a new show to offer its many patrons tonight. In a way, it is a departure from the regular run of shows that come to this cosy little theatre. Two of the best known entertainments on the Western vaudeville stage are included in this bill. These two artists are warranted to put any number of trouble-beset people in thorough good humor.

One of the two, the inimitable Tot Young, says an audience commences to laugh at him before he appears on the stage. The other, J. H. Fielding, claims to do better than that. He will prove it to the audiences at the theatre tonight. The Pinard Brothers in their turn defy the laws of gravity. There is no way to describe their marvellous work, but to say it is wonderful. There will be the usual illustrated song and an entirely new set of moving pictures.
