

"CUT IT OUT"

says the doctor to many of his lady patients, because he doesn't know of any medicinal treatment that will positively cure womb or ovarian troubles, except the surgeon's knife. That such a medicine exists, however, has been proved by the wonderful cures performed on diseased women, in thousands of cases, by

GAVE UP SUPPORTER.

"I was a supporter for four years, to keep up my womb, which had crowded everything down before it. I wrote Mrs. J. J. Cardui, of Mansfield, N. Y. 'My doctor told me no more, and could hardly walk. After taking two bottles of Cardui I gave up my supporter, feeling as formerly, and can be on my feet half a day at a time. I strongly recommend Cardui to every suffering woman.'"

cles are looking forward with intense interest to the American debut of Miss Marie Hall the young English violinist, who will make her first appearance in this country with the New York Symphony orchestra at Carnegie hall to-night. According to foreign critics Miss Hall is the greatest woman violinist of the century, and the critics of Europe have spoken of her remarkable ability with unusual enthusiasm. She is under contract to play in fifty concerts and will remain in this country until March of next year. Miss Hall first appeared in public three years ago, playing first in Vienna, then in London. Her success in both places was sensational and since then her career has been unusually brilliant.

Miss Hall has a rather romantic history. She is the daughter of a talented but poor musician who was her first teacher. They were so poor that they were compelled to earn a living on the streets in small English towns. In Bristol some music lovers became interested in her and furnished her with funds to go to London and try for the Wesley scholarship at the Royal Academy of Music. She won it easily, but being without money was compelled to forego the privilege of free tuition, until Canon Mallow became interested in her and enabled her to return to London to study. She studied with Prof. Kruse Wilhelm and finished her musical education under Savak, the teacher of Kubelik.

An Interesting Discovery.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 8.—After more than three centuries a record of the De Soto expedition has been found on the shore of Lake Itasca under a huge boulder, where it has lain ever since it was placed there. The record, written on the skin of an antelope, was found by Chester Gray, a farmer, living on the shore of Lake Itasca, which is the source of the Mississippi river. He has sent the record to the Smithsonian Institution at Washington. The record, which is barely legible, is dated August 9, 1547 and signed by Ferdinand and Villena and Sancho Cueva, members of the De Soto exploring party. The document states that the writers had named the lake, whence arises the great river in which De Soto had been buried six years before, "Lake De Soto."

Monument to Jefferson Davis.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 8.—The Virginia State Division United Daughters of the Confederacy opened its annual convention here today with a large attendance from all parts of the state. The convention has attracted an unusually large number of visitors from this and adjoining states owing to the fact that one of the principal features was to be the laying of the cornerstone of the Jefferson Davis monument in this city on the first day of the convention. The erection of the monument has been made possible by

"What a difference in the suffering at time of childbirth"

when Dr. R. V. Pierce's medicine is used," writes Mrs. Edmond J. Barger, of Barger, Iowa, U.S.A. "I had not heard of Dr. Pierce's medicine three years ago when I was confined, so had to suffer almost death. Before being born I could not be on my feet without two persons holding me. The baby was a boy, weighing 24 pounds and for some weeks after his birth I suffered severe pain. Last fall, following the advice of a neighbor, my husband bought me Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which I took during the winter, and in March I gave birth to a baby boy, weighing 10 1/2 lbs. I was only in labor two hours and was on my feet without help until thirty minutes before baby was born. He is now three months old and weighs 12 lbs. I know it was Dr. Pierce's medicine that saved me from suffering. I advise all women to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and his Pleasant Pellets, if necessary." the untiring efforts of the United Daughters of the Confederacy who have for years collected funds for that purpose until they have accumulated enough to pay for the cost of the memorial. The ceremony will take place this afternoon.

The monument will be erected on a site at Cedar and Franklin streets, which the city purchased for $7500 from the Richardson estate and set aside for the monument. The laying of the cornerstone will be under the auspices of the Jefferson Davis monument fund, of which Mrs. S. Thomas McCulloch is president, Mrs. E. G. Weed vice-president, and Mrs. E. D. Taylor treasurer. The monument will be unveiled on June 3, 1907, when the reunion of the United Confederate Vet-crane will be held there. The monument will be made of granite, with ornamentalations of bronze. It will consist of a colonnade of thirteen Doric columns, one for each of the secession states, inclosing a seat, a granite shaft fifty eight feet high, and a statue of Jefferson Davis on a twelve-foot pedestal. The figure will be modelled by Edward V. Valentine and the rest of the monument will be executed by Noland & Baskerville.

Virginia Methodist Conference.

Danville, Va., Nov. 8.—The Virginia conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, opened its session here today and will continue for about ten days. The attendance is very large and thoroughly representative. Several hundred clerical and lay delegates are present, and Bishop Charles B. Galloway, who is considered one of the best pulpits orators in the country, is presiding. One of the matters that will come up before the conference will be the election of lay delegates to the general assembly, which will meet in Birmingham, Ala., next May. The local Methodists have made extensive preparations for the entertainment of the visitors.
