

Vinol THE COD LIVER PREPARATION WITHOUT OIL

Vinol is fast superseding old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions because, without a drop of oil or disagreeable feature, it contains all the medicinal elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cods' livers. By our process the oil, having no value either as a medicine or food, is separated from the medicinal elements and thrown away. Unlike old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions, Vinol is deliciously palatable, agreeable to the weakest stomach, and therefore unequalled as a body builder and strength creator for old people, puny children, weak, run-down men and women, after sickness, and for all pulmonary diseases. Everything Vinol contains is named on the label.

OUR GUARANTEE—We have such faith in VINOL that if you will take it we promise if it does not benefit or cure you we will return you your money without question. We take all the risk.

Who Wouldn't be an Osage?
"The Osage Indian woman are about the wealthiest in the world," said John N. Florr, an Indian Territory man, to a writer on the Kansas City Star, "and before another twenty-five years have passed there will not be another pure bred left amongst them. I was present as a government officer thirty-three years ago when the treaty was made a few miles north of Independence, Kas., and there were 7000 pure bred Osages then. Now there are only 2000 Osages and that number includes the half breeds. Those 2000 people have $5,000,000 in the treasury, on which they draw 5 per cent a year and payable every ninety days. In addition to that they get $20,000 monthly in oil royalties and a large amount of money from cattle men who rent their lands for grazing. "They have all that wealth and nothing to do but spend it. When the two territories get statehood there will be a general divide, I suppose, with an allotment of 1000 acres for every man, woman and child amongst them. But they can't stand civilization. I have lived amongst them for thirty-five years and they have been steadily withering all the time."

Seagulls Tried as Ocean Carriers.
Experiments are being made in France in the utilizing of seagulls as ocean carriers instead of pigeons, which are soon tired after flying over a vast expanse of water. The gulls are called by the French "goelands" and also "mouettes." Two gulls from the Levant or Tithan island, the easternmost of the Hyeres group, were recently trained by their owner, M. Demarquey. They were dispatched from Tamaris, near Toulon island, about twenty-seven miles away, with messages. One was killed en route by a foolish custom official and the other was brought to Tamaris by a fisherman, who found it on the rocks with one of its wings broken.

Notwithstanding all these unlucky circumstances, M. Demarquey purposes to renew the experiment with new birds, which he will obtain as he did others, from the maritime biological laboratory at Tamaris, which belongs to the Lyons university school.
The director of this laboratory, M. Mor, fully believes with Professor Dubois, an authority on ornithology, that gulls can eventually be used as transoceanic messengers. Pigeons, he says, are all right on land and can do as much as 400 kilometers, or 248 miles, easily.—Ex.

Man's Unreasonableness. is often as great as woman's. But Thos. S. Austin, Mgr. of the "Republican" of Leavenworth, Ind., was not unreasonably, when he refused to allow the doctors to operate on his wife, for female trouble. "Instead," he says, "we concluded to try Electric Bitters. My wife was then so sick, she could hardly leave her bed, and five (5) physicians had failed to relieve her. After taking Electric Bitters, she was perfectly cured, and can now perform all her household duties." Guaranteed by J. C. Perry, druggist, price 50c.

Motion for Rehearing.
A motion for a rehearing in the case of the State versus J. C. Ryan was filed Tuesday afternoon, it being the last day on which it could be filed before the mandate of the supreme court was handed down.
A petition, asking for Ryan's pardon has been circulated and signed by a large number of Salem's leading citizens, who believe him much more sinned against than sinning. The petition is now in the hands of the governor, and those who have examined into the case are firm in their belief that clemency can never be used in a more worthy cause.

J. of O. Player Out.
Virgil Earl, right tackle on the University of Oregon football team, will be unable to play in the future games this year. In the game with O. A. C. at Eugene, Saturday, he received injuries that are very serious. McKinney and Spence will alternate in his position. He was one of their strongest men, and his loss is deeply regretted. It is said that Pilkington, Williams and Lawrence, of O. A. C., were also hurt, so that they will be unable to play again this year.

BRAVES AGAINST SOLDIERS

Chemawa Put up a Good Game and Had Much the Best of the Contest

Old Father Time is a droll fellow. Yesterday afternoon he brought it about that eleven young Indians should struggle on Willamette field with eleven whites, soldiers, too, for gridiron honors. Behind the fog that almost banked in the field, he hid and grinned at the metamorphosis for which he alone was responsible.

No wonder he felt amused. Old Daddy Time has a long memory; he recollected the day, not so long distant, when the fathers of the young bucks fought differently; when the shaven scalp lock represented the shaggy shock of football hair; when war paint was a substitute for nose guards, and moccasins the only iron spiked boot. He remembered when Boston Charley and Captain Jack and Chief Peau Peau Mox Mox played leading parts in the games of those days, the war path and the hunt.

It is peculiar, the change Time has wrought. Yesterday the song of the very braves who scarce forty years ago terrorized the white settlers of Oregon, gathered on the football field to furnish sport and amusement for the sons of the very same pale faces their Indian fathers once upon a time tried so hard to scalp. The Great White Father at Washington who has taken all these young bucks under his special protection brought them to Salem from Chemawa and his soldiers from Fort Stevens to play the white man's game.

Who can say that the Indians are not better off than their fathers? Of course their hunting grounds have been taken from them, but in return the palefaces have taught them football. As played nowadays it offers a great deal more excitement than the war path. There are no scalps to take, but ears can be chewed off and eyes gouged out. Rewards are greater. It is not a football hero better than a heap big Injun chief?

The sight of yesterday afternoon would have made massacred General Custer turn in his rude grave for very amazement. Shades of Captain John Smith and Father McLaughlin! Were these descendants of the redskins who once paraded the width of this great country, clad only in war paint and feathers. Why, they had even forgotten the war whoop. All they could yell was "Go it, Chemawa," and "Shove 'em back, Fort Stevens."

But they fought with the old time vigor of their forefathers, who have long since gone to the happy hunting grounds, and though the score when the referee's whistle announced the close of the game was nothing to nothing, yet, paradoxical as it may seem, the redskins had the best of it. If the half had been thirty seconds longer the Indians would certainly have scored and gone back to their wigwams with the scalps of eleven palefaces hanging to their belts. With the ball in their possession, and within two yards of the goal line, time was called and the bloodless battle was over, with no casualties and everybody in the best of spirits.

The fight began with the soldiers kicking off to the Indians, and though Whitebear, Moon and the rest of the

No woman can look beautiful without good health. A woman's good health depends on those organs peculiarly feminine, and which so often become disordered, causing misery and dragging-down pain. Nature's laws are perfect, health endures if you obey them, but disease follows disobedience. The distressing complaints of women are often brought about by catching cold at a critical period, breathing foul indoors' air and long hours of work and nervous tension. Go straight to Nature for the cure—to the forest. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is Nature's cure for the distressing complaints of women. Prof. King, M. D., in his American Dispensary, says of Black Cohosh or Black Snake-root—"our early American Indians set a high value on this root in diseases of women. It is surpassed by no other drug, in composite conditions of the parts where there are dragging pains and tenderness."

Lady's Slipper root is a "nerve stimulant and tonic, improving both circulation and nutrition of the nerve centers—favoring sleep and cheerful condition of the mind; of service in mental depression, nervous headache, irregularities of women with despondency."—Prof. King. Besides the above ingredients there are—Golden Seal, Unicorn and Blue Cohosh roots in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 31 stamps. Over 1000 pages and illustrated. Address Dr. E. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

braves made many a fierce struggle, they could not carry the ball beyond the middle of the battlefield. Both sides were compelled to punt often and thus the game was decidedly interesting to the large crowd of spectators which witnessed the contest.

The soldiers received the kick-off in the second half and, though the big fullback succeeded in running the gauntlet several times for good gains, they were soon compelled to punt. Little Pollard secured the pigskin oval near the middle of the field and started down. He was soon picked off by a good marksman and went down in a heap. Then, by right and left flanks, and charging the center, the Indians advanced to within fifteen yards of the fort, but here the soldiers made a gallant stand and the red men were repulsed. The advantage was clearly with the Indians, however, and they were just ready to scale the walls of the fort when time was called.

An English Author Wrote
"No shade, no shine, no fruit, no flowers, no leaves,—November!" Many Americans would add no freedom from catarrh, which is so aggravated during this month that it becomes constantly troublesome. There is abundant proof that catarrh is a constitutional disease. It is related to scrofula and consumption, being one of the wasting diseases. Hood's Sarsaparilla has shown that what is capable of eradicating scrofula completely cures catarrh, and taken in time prevents consumption. We cannot see how any sufferer can put off taking this medicine, in view of the widely published record of its radical and permanent cures. It is undoubtedly America's greatest medicine for America's greatest disease—catarrh.
