Wistar Johnson, a U. of O. student at Eugene, has the smallpox. There are several cases at that place.

The Business Man

It is rare indeed who does not realize the advantage of keeping a bank account. Yet while aware of the benefits many men hesitate to open an account because they think their transactions are not large enough. They are in error. The banking system is for the man of small means as well as large affairs.

THE SALEM STATE BANK.
 Is at the service of every one. It will open an account just as willingly with the man of small means as with the capitalist. If you have been hesitating, don't do it any longer. Start an account today, even if it is only with one dollar.

Doctors to Discuss Yellow Fever
 Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 21.—Nearly 500 physicians from Mississippi, Arkansas and Tennessee are assembled here at present to attend the tri-state medical association convention, which opens here today for a three days' session. The opening session was held, as in former years, in the Hotel Hayoso and was called to order by Dr. H. L. Sutherland of Rosedale, Miss., the president of the association. The attendance is larger than ever before, and the interest among the delegates is greater than in former years, owing to the fact that matters of the utmost importance to the three states represented in the convention will come up for consideration.

The Tri-State Medical association is the largest and most important district medical society in the south, and its meetings are practically a clearing house for medical information, as the physicians get together and exchange ideas and information and profit by each others experience. This year many important papers will be read concerning the prevention and treatment of yellow fever malaria and other diseases prevailing in the Mississippi valley. The entertainment program includes a banquet which will be tendered to the visiting delegates tomorrow evening. The quarantine question will be carefully discussed.

To Build Masonic Orphans' Home

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 21.—The annual meeting of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Arkansas, which convened here today, is one of the most important which has been held in this state for many years. It also means a resumption of the annual sessions. For six years, by a special provision of the Grand Lodge, biennial sessions were held as a matter of economy, that the money might be used in discharging the obligations due to the Masonic Temple. By this means the board of control will be enabled at the meeting, which opened today, to lift the debt of $10,000 still remaining on the temple, and to have a balance of about $20,000 to form a nucleus of an orphans' home fund.

There are two important matters to be considered at this meeting of the grand lodge, that of the establishment of an orphans' home, and an amendment to the constitution providing for biennial sessions for a period of ten years. It is believed that there will be favorable action upon both matters, as they are correlative and are close to the hearts of the Masons of Arkansas. The biennial meetings are for the purpose of accumulating a fund through the saving of the mileage and per diem and other grand lodge expenses, to be applied to the orphans' home fund. There is a strong sentiment in favor of establishing the home in this city.

Conference of Ohio Charities.
 Tiffin, O., Nov. 21.—The annual conference of the Ohio Charities and Corrections will open here this evening for a four days' session. A large number of delegates have already arrived here and by this evening fully two hundred will be present. Dr. C. E. Miller, president of Heidelberg University, will preside at the opening session this evening. Mayor Mark Lester, of Tiffin, will deliver the address of welcome and Secretary Shiner will respond. The president will deliver his annual address and the Rev. Chauncey N. Pond of Oberlin will deliver an address on the subject of "The Personal Call to Ohio Philanthropy." After the meeting there will be a reception to the delegates.

The actual business of the conference will begin at the session tomorrow morning, when the committees will be appointed and miscellaneous business will be transacted. Many prominent philanthropists from all parts of the state, also a number of officials connected with charities and reformatory institutions in Ohio will deliver addresses before the conference.

ECONOMY
TO WEALTH

Salem has for the past year enjoyed the benefit of what is known as a ten-cent store. These stores usually give extraordinary bargains in the lines they handle. The Economy Store has worked up a big trade of this character, and now branches out to do even more than in the past. This has always been recognized as a great bargain-producer, and now it is outstripping its past, and breaking every record ever known in Salem. Ten-cent articles of all kinds have been reduced to five and seven cents, while the five-cent articles have been cut to three cents. Go in and look over their counters. You will find three dollar articles as low as 25 cents, and remember that on every 25-cent purchase you get a ticket on a magnificent $10 doll to be given away for Christmas.

Preliminary Trial of the Virginia.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—This is the date set for the preliminary trial of the new battleship Virginia, just completed at Newport. Like the battleship Rhode Island, which was recently submitted to a trial, the Virginia has a displacement of 14,948 tons, and is designed for a speed of 19 knots. Her complement calls for 40 officers and 772 enlisted men. The Virginia will be fitted as a flag ship.

MURDER AT VANCOUVER

Vancouver, Wash., Nov. 21.—A man named Brooks shot and killed a Adolph Miller, a woodhauler, today at about 2 o'clock, about one mile from Ridgefield. The shooting seems to be a clear case of cold-blooded murder, as Brooks admitted to Prosecuting Attorney W. W. Sparks that he came here to kill Miller, and was glad he had done it.

Brooks spent considerable time in Ridgefield and vicinity last February, and at that time had trouble with Miller, who, Brooks alleges, tried to "do him with the unions." At this time in a quarrel Brooks shot at Miller and afterwards left for the Big Bend country. He returned to Ridgefield Sunday, and made the statement that he came back to get Miller.

The shooting occurred at a wood camp near Ridgefield. After Brooks had done the killing he came to Ridgefield and was met here by a posse of men from the camp, headed by C. T. Egge, the camp foreman, who, on sight, of Brooks, covered him with a shotgun and told him to throw up his hands. Brooks made no resistance.

Sheriff Blawieker was sent for, and, in company with Prosecuting Attorney W. W. Sparks and Coroner Smith, left last night for Ridgefield. They will bring in the murderer to Vancouver, where he will be lodged in jail.

Trick Case by Telephone.

Colfax, Wash., Nov. 21.—Prosecuting Attorney Kipp had the unique experience of conducting a trial over the long-distance telephone Saturday, and as a result the county is $40 richer from fines collected from eight college students, who were charged with malicious mischief at Pullman. The case was called in the justice court at Pullman, and Mr. Kipp, busy with criminal cases in the superior court here, could not go to Pullman to prosecute. He used the long-distance telephone for consultation with the students, their attorney and William Swain, justice of the peace before whom they were to be tried, and succeeded in having the students plead guilty to a charge of malicious mischief.

The students were originally charged with inciting a riot, a felony with a penalty of a term in the penitentiary. The students destroyed some property Halloween night, and when an attempt was made to arrest they resisted and called upon other students to assist. They have spent one night in the city jail, and have since been out on their own recognizance.

Justice Swain Saturday assessed the students $5 and costs each, which they paid.

Bad for the Eyes.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Down-town Chicago just now is experiencing a phase of the age of steel, which is bringing discomfort and danger to many people. Somewhere in almost every block a steel skeleton for a skyscraper is rising, in which pneumatic drills and riveters are at work. Some of these are at work at such heights that the infinitesimal bits of steel broken off drift incredible distances with the winds, finding lodgment in the eyes of both man and beast.

"I have had a score of such patients in the last few weeks," said a downtown oculist yesterday. "I hardly knew what to make of it at first. People came in here with bloodshot eyes, suffering intensely, but I was unable to find the irritable substance. In some of the cases the inner lid was cut and cross-hatched as with a knife. With a glass I discovered a tiny bit of steel, and since that time the matter has simplified."

Mad Dog's Sixth Victim Is Boy.

Baltimore, Nov. 21.—Charles Adams, an orphan, is one of six persons bitten in Newport News, Va., by a dog. The body of the dog was sent to Dr. N. G. Keirle, head of the Pasteur Institute here, who says he found evidence of hydrophobia. The persons bitten were notified. Two decided to come to Baltimore for treatment, and three will go to Richmond. The sixth is the orphan boy, who is without means. Dr. Keirle has offered to donate the treatment if the boy's board is paid.

Horse Thieves Sentenced.

Wiesedr, Mont., Nov. 21.—Seeb Marse, Hugh Doarborn, Edmund Nicholas, part of the gang of horse thieves operating in this section for the past two years, were sentenced today to six, four and three years, respectively, in the penitentiary.
