COUNCIL GRANTS BOTH

Willamette Valley Railway, and Automatic Telephone Company Get Franchises

The city fathers "got busy" last night, and when the smoke had cleared away it was found that the city of Salem had granted a franchise to the Willamette Valley Railway Company, also one to the Home Automatic Telephone Company, and transacted a lot of other business.

The first franchise was granted without any opposition, but when the friends of the other attempted to take the ordinance from the table, a storm immediately threatened. The factious minority, under the leadership of Gesner, at once started in to filibuster, but was squelched by the mayor, who announced that he would not stand for any jockeying. "You will either pass or reject this ordinance," he declared, "we are here to do business, and not to monkey."

After that, it was only a matter of making the required motions and counting the votes, each ballot resulting 9 to 5 in favor of the ordinance. A petition signed by a long list of business men and patrons of the present company, and asking that the franchise be granted, was read to the council.

Those voting for the ordinance were Acheson, Bayne, Churchhill, Crosson, Downing, Goodale, Frazier, Jacobs and Shaife. Those voting against were Baker, Gesner, Hughes, Steusloff and Wallace.

The business of the evening in detail was as follows:

The ordinance committee reported favorably upon the railway ordinance as amended. The report was adopted, the ordinance placed up its third reading, and passed without a dissenting vote.

A communication was read from the Woman's Club, in which they asked that the city council take over the library which the ladies have established and conduct the same hereafter as a city library. A committee from the Woman's Club was present, and at the suggestion of the mayor, Mrs. A. T. Kelliker addressed the council. She said:

"I come not here to talk, but nevertheless I will proceed to do so."

"We do not want to turn this library over to you because it is a failure, but because it has become such a success that we cannot handle it longer."

She then proceeded to give detailed statements regarding the condition of the library, and submitted a budget, in which it was shown how the library could be maintained at a cost of $1000 per year.

The communication was referred to the committee on ways and means, with instructions to report at the next regular meeting.

The committee on fire and water was authorized to purchase 100 bushels of oats for the use of the fire department.

The street committee recommended that the street commissioner be instructed to clean the mud from the streets in the business portion of the city, but no action was taken.

The sewer committee reported that the new sewer in Cartwright's addition had been completed.

Chairman Frazier, of the committee on health and police, stated that he had investigated the Densmore stock yards near the depot, and that he had found them in good condition. Not a nuisance, but a public necessity, and his motion to not take favorable action upon the communication was carried unanimously.

The fire and water committee was instructed to purchase and install the four hydrants, as per report.

The committee also reported favorably upon the Stoltz petition for a hydrant, and said that the water company had promised to lay a six-inch main to that place. The hydrant will be located at the corner of Summer and Mill streets.

IF THE WOMEN

Who suffer every month from ailments peculiar to their sex would only take an occasional dose of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters they would find their various organs strengthened and better able to perform their proper functions.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS

Is now being taken exclusively by hundreds of women, who freely testify to its wonderful efficacy in cases of Backache, Cramps, Vomiting, Dizziness, Costiveness or Indigestion. Try a bottle.

STOP, WOMAN!

AND CONSIDER THE ALL-IMPORTANT FACT

That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers a great many years.

You can talk freely to a woman when it is revolting to relate your private troubles to a man—besides a man does not understand—simply because he is a man.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private ills to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydie E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice. When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health so many women, you cannot well say, without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me."

In accordance with a previous request of the council, Fire Chief Savage filed a written report of the recent fire. After making a detailed account of the fire, and the manner in which it was handled, he stated that, inasmuch as there had been some criticism of the way in which the fire was handled, he would request that a committee from the council be appointed to investigate the matter.

Alderman Goodale moved that a committee of three be appointed in accordance with the report recommendation contained in the report. The motion carried and Goodale, Jacobs and Churchhill were appointed as the committee.

On motion of Gesner, the fire and water committee was authorized to advertise for bids for the supplying of 15 and not more than 25 fire hydrants. These will be used in replacing the old ones, which are out of date, and all but out of commission.

The communication of J. N. Shantz, in which he asked permission to construct a drain from his laundry in North Salem, was referred to the sewer committee.

The petition of E. Eckerlen, to have his license cover the sale of liquor in both saloon and cafe, was amended, cutting out the cafe, and as amended granted.

W. M. Bushey was appointed as city superintendent of the construction work on South Commercial street, to serve at $4 per day.

GOVERNOR APPOINTS HAILEY

Eastern Oregon Man Succeeds Wolverton on the Supreme Court Bench

Thomas G. Hailey, of Pendleton, will fill the seat on the supreme bench, to be vacated by Justice Wolverton, who will become federal judge for the district of Oregon. After a conference with Justice Wolverton this morning, Governor Chamberlain made the announcement. The retiring justice told the governor that he had received advice from Washington that he was expected to take up the duties of the federal judgeship as soon as possible, which would be immediately after the receipt of his commission, and after he had qualified, probably not later than a week from now.

The appointment of Hailey was not a great surprise, considering that an unofficial announcement of the fact had been made yesterday. By naming Wolverton's successor without delay, Governor Chamberlain side-steps all possible requests that might be made upon him in the selection of a new supreme court justice. Letters were already beginning to flow into the executive office, but, with the announcement of the appointment, the flood is expected to cease.

Justice Hailey will hold office until the second Monday in January, 1907, or for about one year and five weeks. He will not, of course, assume his duties on the supreme court bench until Judge Wolverton has resigned and qualified as judge of the federal court. Owing to the long vacancy on the Oregon federal bench, the assumption of the judgeship by Wolverton is being hastened as much as possible by the Washington authorities, so it is very probable that by the first of December Hailey will have taken his place among the Oregon supreme court judges.

Thomas G. Hailey is just past 40 years of age. He is a native of Oregon, having been born at La Grande, July 13, 1865. His father, John Hailey, operated stage lines from the Dalles into Central Idaho in the early days, and after the O. R. & N. was built gave up staging and moved to Boise, where the son was educated in the common schools. In 1884 Mr. Hailey came to Pendleton, and was employed as clerk in the law office of Cox & Minor for a year. He afterward attended Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va., graduating from the law department in 1889. He returned to Pendleton and practiced law, being now associated with ex-Judge Lowell.

In 1892 he was appointed deputy district attorney for the sixth judicial district, serving until the end of the term. In 1900 he defeated ex-Judge James A. Fee for district attorney. Mr. Hailey was mayor of Pendleton from 1901 to 1903. He is at present a member of the Pendleton school board.

SHERMAN BEATS CHEMAWA

The Latter Team Meets Willamette Here Thanksgiving Day

The Chemawa football team surprised the natives in Portland yesterday by holding the famous Sherman Indians of California down to the small score of 5 to 0. The Southern Indians had the advantage in speed and weight, but the splendid individual defense of the Chemawa braves was certainly a revelation.

When it is remembered that the Sherman Indians and Multnomah played a tie game last Saturday, it will be seen that the game in this city on Thanksgiving between Willamette and Chemawa will be an interesting one.

Virgil Earl, of the University of Oregon, has been coaching the Chemawa team, and they are very rapidly adopting and taking advantage of the suggestions given them. They are speedy, gritty players, but heretofore have been handicapped by the lack of a coach.

LET YOUR STOMACH HAVE ITS OWN WAY.

Do Not Try to Drive and Force It to Work When It Is Not Able, or You Will Suffer All the More.

You cannot afford to treat your stomach as some men treat a balky horse; force, drive or even starve it into doing work at which it rebels. The stomach is a patient and faithful servant and will stand much abuse and ill-treatment before it "balks," but when it does you had better go slow with it and not attempt to make it work. Some people have the mistaken idea that they can make their stomachs work by starving themselves. They might starve the stomach that way, but it would take so long that they would have no use for a stomach when they got through. The sensible way out of the difficulty is to let the stomach rest if it wants to and employ a substitute to do its work.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will do the work of your stomach for you and digest your food just as your stomach used to when it was well. You can prove this by putting your food in a glass jar with one of the tablets and sufficient water and you will see the food digested in just the same time as the digestive fluids of the stomach would do it. That will satisfy your mind. Now, to satisfy both your mind and body take one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after eating—set it and what you want—and you will find in your mind that your food is being digested because you will feel no disturbance or weight in your stomach; in fact, you will forget all about having a stomach, just as you did when you were a healthy boy or girl.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets act in a natural way because they contain only the natural elements of the gastric juices and other digestive fluids of the stomach. It makes no difference what condition the stomach is in, they go right ahead of their own accord and do their work. They know their business and surrounding conditions so as to influence them in the least. They relieve the weak stomach of all its burdens and give it the much-needed rest and permit it to become strong and healthy.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50 cents a box. They are so well known and their popularity is so great that a druggist would as soon think of being out of alcohol or quinine as of them. In fact, physicians are prescribing them all over the land and if your own doctor is real honest with you, he will tell you frankly that there is nothing so sure and so good for dyspepsia as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

WANTS SEWAGE CONTROLLED

Ed. Journal: The most important matter that came up at last night's council was the petition signed by the Salem Flouring Mill Co., Salem Woolen Mills, Salem Soap Factory, Mr. Freeland, Prescott, Kurtz & Son, J. Conner and several others, all property owners, to stop the sewage going into the mill race.

The electric rose franchise, new telephone ordinance, paying of the streets, all of which should be granted and done, are insignificant and of minor importance, compared to the stopping of that open sewer that runs from one end of the town to the other—a disease breeder and death-trap, and why it has been allowed the oldest inhabitant cannot answer. It should be stopped at once. It costs the town nothing to do it, and the property owners along the ditch want it. The council should stop the sewage being run into any open ditch or creek running into or through the city. There is nothing in Salem today that is so necessary or important as its sanitary condition, and it should be attended to at once. Diphtheria and typhoid fever are in Salem nearly all the year around. There is no necessity of it. Stop those open sewers all over the town, and Salem will be as healthy a city as there is on the Pacific coast. Septic tanks are cheap, and are all right. One for a small family costs only $20; for two families $25; for half a dozen families, or a whole block, from $35 to $50, and as soon as you put one in your property is worth 25 to 50 per cent more, and as soon as the waters are stopped from being contaminated, water closets and sewage all removed from ditch and creeks in Salem, property will advance materially all over the city. The sanitary condition of a city is the most vital and important of all propositions connected with it, and should receive first attention.

Olof Johnson, who is a gardener by occupation, living at the corner of 15th and B streets, North Salem, says: "Kidney complaint is no new thing to me. I have been bothered off and on for ten or twelve years. I did not suffer so much from backache as most people do who have kidney complaint, but the principal annoyance was a weakness of the kidney secretions, which was both distressing and aggravating. There was a scalding sensation in passing, and a heavy brick-dust like sediment appeared after standing in the vessel over night. I had attacks of dizziness in my head and oftentimes a blurring would appear before my eyes and I could scarcely see. I tried numerous remedies, but all in vain, until I saw Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended for just such troubles and procured them at Dr. Stone's drug store. Now, I don't want to tell the people something that is not true, but I will say that in all my experience with doctors' prescriptions and different kidney remedies nothing has given me the amount of relief that I have received from Doan's Kidney Pills."
