CADET MUST FIGHT

Refusing to do so, He Would be Called a Cad and Ostracised

Annapolis, Nov. 25.—The testimony of Midshipman Yeager this morning tended to show that a fight between cadets usually resulted in a lasting friendship between the participants. Yeager, who accompanied Meriwether, as his second is the only man in the academy who ever knocked Meriwether out, and they became fast friends. Other testimony tended to show that Branch was continually nagging and hazing Meriwether. A first-class man, Carstein, testified that Branch seemed to have a deep-seated grudge against the defendant. He said if a cadet refused a challenge to fight he would be called a cad, and ostracised.

To Save Meriwether.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Secretary Bonaparte has ordered that Branch's body be exhumed and an autopsy held.

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 25.—Admiral Sands has received order for an autopsy on Branch's body. It will be held this evening at the academy hospital.

Prison Breakers Will Hang.

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 25.—The prison board is investigating how arms and explosives were smuggled into the penitentiary. Charges of murder will be preferred against Convicts Harry Vaughn, Charles Raymond and George Ryan.

The Burton Trial.

St. Louis, Nov. 25.—Attorney Haynes began the closing argument for the defense in the Burton trial. The case is expected to be in the hands of the jury before night.

(Four O'Clock Edition.) Chicago, Nov. 25.—At 3 o'clock Field is said to be sinking. His father and stepmother are at his bedside.

DAGO KILLS FOUR

Waukegan, Ill., Nov. 25.—Infuriated, the police believe, by gambling losses, Saltee Zozette, an Italian laborer in a railroad construction camp, at Winthrop harbor, Wis., between Zion City and Kneoshka, early this morning, killed two companions, fatally wounding two others. He risked a few coins on a game and lost. He drew a revolver and killed two. Being pursued by the dead men's comrades, Zozette ambushed himself on the road to the north, and shot two, who are dying. As the pursuers came up he injured one other, who will recover. Men from the camp, accompanied by officers, are searching lower Wisconsin for the murderer.

General Chaffee's Retirement.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 25.—The announcement of the intention of Gen. A. B. Chaffee to go on the retired list several months before he would ordinarily retire has produced the usual crop of candidates who wish to avail themselves of the privilege of advancement to a higher grade. Nearly every colonel of the line and staff has filed his papers for consideration of the individual claim for promotion to the grade of brigadier-general. In those cases where the officer would, under the usual circumstances go on the retired list with the next higher grade on account of service in the Civil war, the President will not make the appointment. It is also announced at the department that only one more high ranking officer will be made a major-general, and that is General A. W. Greely, the chief signal officer. He is likely to be advanced in December or January as soon as General Chaffee goes on the retired list. During the coming year there will be two retirements from the grade of lieutenant general and there are scores of applicants for the two prospective vacancies.

Chicago Markets.

ALLIED FLEET SAILS

Constantinople, Nov. 25.—Ambassador Powers held a conference today, and decided to proceed with the naval demonstration. There is absolutely no sign among the Turkish people that they are in the least disturbed. The aspect of the city is perfectly normal.

The Deadly Auto.

New York, Nov. 25.—Mrs. Francis Burton, wife of the lawyer and congressman, and recently a candidate for lieutenant-governor of this state, was killed in an automobile accident at Long Island City this morning. L. I. Scott, of New York, president of the Union Iron Works, at San Francisco; Charles B. Crocker, of New Haven, and Constant Bevert, the chauffeur, were injured. The steering gear went wrong while the car was going at a high rate of speed, and it dashed into the curb. The occupants were hurled in all directions. Mrs. Harrison is the daughter of the late Colonel Charles Frederick Crocker, of San Francisco, under whose will she was to receive an estate of more than four million dollars.

Harrison Scott sustains the fracture of a rib, and Mrs. Scott is suffering from the shock. Crocker, who is Mrs. Harrison's brother, was only slightly injured. When the ambulance surgeon arrived he saw that Mrs. Harrison was dead, and immediately turned his attention to her brother and the others injured. The body of Mrs. Harrison will be sent to San Francisco, and buried beside her father in Cypress Lawn cemetery. Besides her husband, she leaves two children, Virginia Randolph and Barbara.

Commission Expected Tuesday.

Judge Wolverton's commission as federal judge for the district of Oregon is expected to arrive in this city next Tuesday. Whether or not the justice will immediately relinquish his seat on the state supreme bench, is not known. The wishes of the department in Washington are that he qualify and assume his duties as federal judge without delay, for the docket is congested.

Positive injustice is being done many federal prisoners, some of whom have been confined in jail ten months awaiting hearing. Their scores of urgent cases have piled up, which need the attention of the court.

In the state supreme court there are 35 cases which have been heard, and in which decisions are still pending. Twenty-four of these cases were recently brought down by the supreme court from Pendleton. The remainder were heard in Salem, and include the Marquam case.

If Justice Wolverton resigns his seat before a decision has been handed down in the latter case, it would necessitate a rehearing of the famous case, if the two remaining justices were unable to concur in a decision. And even then either side could make an application for a re-hearing, which, if supported by Judge Halley, might be allowed.

The general opinion at the state house, though, is that before another week Thomas G. Halley will be filling the seat on the supreme court bench vacated by Justice Wolverton, and that the latter will be acting as federal judge for the district of Oregon.

New Bell.

The Central Congregational church has received its new bell, which was put in the tower yesterday. It weighs 350 pounds, and is a very fine one. It will be rung for the first time Thanksgiving morning, when it will call the people together to celebrate Thanksgiving day at 10 o'clock.

GOMPERS IS RE-ELECTED

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 25.—Gompers was re-elected president of the American Federation of Labor, but there was a protest against making his election unanimous.

Upon the proposition to make the election unanimous Delegate V. I. Berger objected, and was hissed. Delegate J. M. Barnes, Socialist, also objected, but the acting chairman, Vice-President T. L. Lewis, declared him out of order, and declared Gompers elected unanimously.

James Duncan was chosen first vice-president; John Mitchell was re-elected second vice-president; James O'Connell third; Morris, fourth; D. A. Hays, fifth, and Daniel J. Keefe, sixth. Barons Berger filed protests against the declaration of Gompers' unanimous election.

Atlanta, Ga., November 25.—The memory of Dr. Lyman Hall, the late president of the Technological Institute will be honored today by a memorial service in the Chapel of the College and the laying of the cornerstone of the Lyman Hall Laboratory building, erected in honor of the deceased president. Among those who will deliver addresses on this occasion will be Governor Terrell, Chancellor W. H. Hill, of the State University; Bishop C. K. Nelson, of Georgia and Mayor Woodward of Atlanta.

White of Athens, chemist of the University of Georgia, will also deliver an address.

Friends Think They Are Drowned.

Norfolk, Nov. 25.—Relatives of Captain W. R. Mapes, of the army, and his wife have been given up for lost in the typhoon in the Philippines in September. No word has been received from them since the storm. Five unidentified bodies were washed ashore near the captain's station. The captain took his bride to the island last summer.

Indoor Baseball.

By a score of 22 to 2 the Y. M. C. A. indoor baseball team last night defeated the militia team in a decidedly one-sided game.

The soldiers were greatly handicapped by the loss of some of their best players, but they showed good spirit, and played the best they knew how.

The Y. M. C. A. team had things their own way, and after the second canto shut their opponents out. Thiesen, on first, played star ball, while Bean, as pitcher, and Chas. Roth, as catcher, delivered the goods in first-class style.

This is but the first of a series of games which will be played during the winter, and the soldiers promise to get even before the season ends.

Down From Alaska.

J. M. Lathrop, deputy United States marshal for Alaska, and Daniel S. Kain, both of Valdez, Alaska, are in the city, visiting their friend, J. A. Carson. Mr. Lathrop's district, as United States marshal, comprises more territory than Oregon, Washington and Idaho, combined.

Mr. Kain is one of the owners of the great mines for which Mr. Carson appeared as attorney in Alaska, and in the federal courts. These gentlemen formed a warm acquaintance while the latter was in the north, and they are enjoying a little renewal of it for a day or two.

ADDITIONAL PERSONALS.

M. J. Spaniol and wife, of Stayton, were in the city on business today. They are the proprietors of the new Grand Central Hotel at that place, which has just opened up for business, and they are now ready to give the best of accommodations to the traveling public.

The Trail Tonight.

The "Varsity Trail" and Bazaar, at Tioga hall tonight, will be one of the best of its kind ever held in Salem. The fair co-eds have been busy all day with their decorations, and the hall this evening will present a scene of beauty as well as gaiety. The admission is free and the crowd will no doubt be large.

YALE-HARVARD GAME

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 25.—After a shower during the night, the morning broke without rain, but the weather is unsettled. There is apprehension lest the afternoon be unfavorable. The streets are thronged with gaily dressed men and women, flouting, in friendly rivalry, their partisan colors. All came merry-making for a moment to inquire for Harvard's captain, Hurley, who is not able to even witness the struggle. The crowds were assured this morning that he had a good night. Hurley this morning sent a message to the Harvard eleven, urging them to "Dig in, smash the line, follow instructions."

Everything is in splendid condition for the great game, except that it is a trifle too warm. The betting favored Yale, but the odds changed just before the game from 5, 6 and 7 to 3, to 3 of 1. All bets were snapped up, and money appears plentiful. Harvard won the toss, and chose to defend the south goal. Play has begun.

Forbes went through the center, making the only score of the game, Hoyt kicked the goal.

First half—Nothing to nothing. Final—Yale 6, Harvard 0.

Eastern Football.

(Four O'clock Edition.) Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 25.—Finals, Yale 6, Harvard 0.

In Favor of a Free Bridge.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 25.—A large mass meeting will be held here today in support of the movement in favor of the construction of a free bridge to connect Illinois and Missouri. #### Sebastopol in Revolt.

(Four O'clock Edition.) Sebastopol, Russia, Nov. 25.—Soldiers in this port and soldiers of the Brest regiment have mutinied and joined the workmen, who were holding a meeting under the red flag. The city is in a panic.

NORWAY'S FUTURE SOVEREIGN

Christiana, Nov. 25.—Everything is in readiness for the reception of the Prince and Princess Charles of Denmark, who have been elected the future rulers of Norway by the recent plebiscite. A Norwegian squadron is now anchored in the Christiania fjord, to await the arrival of the Norwegian man-of-war, which will bring the future King and his family from Copenhagen. The warship will be escorted by a guard of honor consisting of a number of Norwegian, Danish, British and German warships. The combined fleets will escort the ship bearing the royal party to the city.

Tomorrow the future king and Queen will hold their state entry into the Capital. The city is gorgeously decorated with the Norwegian and Danish colors and presents a fine spectacle. Thousands of visitors from all parts of the country and from other countries are in town, to witness the ceremonies connected with the arrival of the future King. According to the program the King will head a procession immediately upon his arrival and will be escorted to the Government Palace, where he will take oath and will be crowned King of Norway under the name of Carl V. The new Norwegian flag, bearing a golden lion on a purple field, is displayed everywhere, as are pictures of the new King and his family. The people are very enthusiastic and it is not expected that there will be any hostile demonstrations by those who voted against the King at the plebiscite.

Lawson Gains Control.

(Four O'clock Edition.) Boston, Nov. 25.—Thomas W. Lawson last night said he had received so many proxies that his control of both the New York Life and Mutual Life was absolute. Lawson says Harriman is endeavoring to influence the employees of his railways in the interest of the insurance companies but that the railway men's labor organizations are with him, and, if necessary, he will make an issue of the matter. He gave no figures on the proxies received.

Jakis Got the Dough.

(Four O'clock Edition.) Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 25.—Mrs. Lizzie Schandelin's will, disposing of an estate worth $7,000,000, mostly to her son-in-law, Jacob Heyl, was sustained in court today, after a most sensational trial. Mrs. Schandelin was the widow of Emil Schandelin, one of Milwaukee's wealthiest Germans.
