Largest Bridge Span in the World. Quebec, Que., Dec. 29,-A party of sivil engineers, including several men of national prominence, arrived here today to inspect the work on the great cantilever bridge now building here across the St. Lawrence river. The bridge is of especial interest to engineers, as it forms the largest single span ever built. It reaches across the St. Lawrence river in a single span of 1,800 feet. This is nearly 100 feet longer than the spans of the Firth of Forth bridge cantilevers, which measure 1,710 feet in the clear. Although the new St. Lawrence river bridge will exceed the bridges over the East river, it will not compare with them in the carry. Its total width is only seventy- 60 points.
