THE YAQUI TROUBLES IN MEXICO

Since the subject bears so directly on the present commercial conditions in Sonora, as well as on the prospects of the future, it is proper to refer to the Yaqui Indian troubles. Their recurrence undoubtedly has been a grave embarrassment to the authorities and a serious interference with trade and industry. It could not be otherwise in a section in which the mining industry occupies the important place that it does in Sonora. Instances of an almost complete loss of interior trade by large firms in Guaymas, Hermosillo and elsewhere are easily confirmed. The loss is a serious one, but the hopeful feature is that everyone looks on it as only temporary.

While in some respects similar to the Apache troubles which the United States experienced, the Yaqui situation has one element that makes it more difficult for the Mexican authorities. This is the excellence of the Yaqui as laborers and the number of them who are employed in the mines and in the smelters, yet who are believed to contribute, either through fear or through secret sympathy, to the raiders in the field. The rigorous policy of deportation for the Yaqui in the field which is now followed by the Mexican government, seems likely ultimately to end the trouble, though it will also take many so-called peaceful Yaqui out of the industrial life of the country, for the will remove voluntarily.

LANKY BOB IS TOO OLD

The bloody boxing match between Jack O'Brien and Bob Fitzsimmons, which resulted in the defeat of the champion, is but another illustration of the fact that a man cannot always be a fighter. The sporting field has in it many stages of progress. From sprinting to wrestling; but they are each and all of them short-lived. None of the great feats of strength and endurance can be carried beyond the 40-year limit, in such form as to be invincible to all comers. Poor old Fitz! In losing his championship in the ring, he lost also his wife; but that is a small matter to a real dead game sport. The world is full of women who yearn to be the Princess of Honey Bun to the real thing in physical prowess. The man with a neck like a bull and a form to match, even if he be on the shady side of 45 need not run long without a mate.

But the true philosophy of this growth is not fully grasped by these gentlemen of the prize ring, and the wrestler's mat. At 19 or 20, the young man may run well. At 25 he may be a winner in the prize fighter's ring. At 30 he may be a magnificent wrestler. At 35 he may be a wonder at lifting weights. But at 40 he must have passed beyond into the intellectual field of operations or be left in the race. Physical prowess can only go with a man so far, and after that the mental phase of things must be dominant or the man will be lost to the world. Where Fitzsimmons lost, was in not recognizing the fact that he was passing beyond the dominance of his physical powers. That there is no mental future for him is the result of his too long clinging to the physical ideals.

There is another thing that we old ones should not forget, and that is that nature has a most peculiar way of trying to improve upon her work. When she creates a winner in any long line of activity, she watches him perform for a few times, and then starts out at once to make one that will do him up. And, strange to say, she always succeeds.—Seattle Mail and Herald.

Are you tired of paying Blunder Taxes?

Many a business man pays as much money for the luxury of blundering as a steam yacht or a private touring car would cost.

"Blunder Taxes" cannot be evaded—whatever else waits, these must be paid. If a business man gets into the habit of making the same blunders more than once, the taxes will soon amount to confiscation.

"Blunder Taxes" are levied with amazing frequency upon store advertisers. Among the blunders which are assessed at "full value" in advertising are these:

Selection of poor mediums;
Using too little space in good mediums;

Devoting less attention to preparing the daily store advertisement than to the storing of some empty boxes in the basement;

Stopping the ad altogether for one or more days now and then;

Figuring the advertising appropriation on the basis of what you can "afford" after all other expenses are provided for;

The use of "programs," schemes, circulars, posters, fence-signs, placards and jim-cracks, under the impression that you are securing real publicity, and that somewhere, somehow, sometime someone will be influenced by some of these things to come to your store and buy something.

YOUR "BLUNDER TAX" BILL GROWS SMALLER AND SMALLER AS YOUR USE OF NEWSPAPER PUBLICITY GROWS BIGGER AND BIGGER.
