The Morocco Conference Opens.

Algeiras, Spain, Jan. 4.—No more charming spot could have been selected for the meeting of the international conference on the Moroccan question than Algeiras, which is a town of about 15,000 inhabitants, situated picturesquely on the Gulf of Gibraltar, only about five miles across the bay from Gibraltar. The climate is almost tropical at this time of the year, and is most beautiful and pleasant. The accommodations of the town are quite fair, as it is frequently visited by tourists of the "globe trotter" species, who know a good hotel from a bad one, and insist upon having the best any city may offer. The government has placed one of the government buildings at the disposal of the conference, and has made the most elaborate preparations for the convenience of the representatives of the foreign governments attending the conference.

The conference will be formally opened this afternoon by M. Paul Revoil, the principal French representative, who will undoubtedly play a leading part in the conference. It is a highly important gathering, and it is well understood that the peace of Europe depends, in a large measure, upon the result of the deliberations of the conference. The latter was called at the request of the sultan of Morocco after all negotiations between Morocco and France concerning the latter's demand for positive assurances from the sultan of Morocco regarding the security of the frontiers had failed. France was not willing at first to consent to an international conference for the settlement of the questions which, in the opinion of the French government, concerned only France and Morocco. The matter, however, became the subject of extensive negotiations between the other powers, and Germany took as decided a stand in favor of Morocco, that France finally assented to the holding of the conference.

The situation between France and Germany, already strained by the antagonistic position taken by Emperor William, was aggravated by the publication in France of certain dispatches and official documents, which involved severe criticisms of the attitude of the German emperor. To offset the effect of the statements contained in the Yellow Book published by the French government, Germany published a White Book, which was practically an answer to the charges and criticisms contained in the French Yellow Book. This added to the friction and what aggravated the situation still more was the fact that M. Rouvier insisted upon selecting M. Revoil as the representative of the French government at the conference, notwithstanding the plain hints given out by the German official organs that M. Revoil was persona non grata in Berlin.

Practically nothing will be done at the opening session today, as the representatives of the powers will merely exchange their accreditives and will then probably hold a mere informal meeting for the purpose of arranging for the time of the meetings, the methods of procedure, and other details which have to be adjusted before the actual work of the conference can begin.

Are you tired of paying Blunder Taxes?

Many a business man pays as much money for the luxury of blundering as a steam yacht or a private touring car would cost.

"Blunder Taxes" cannot be evaded—whatever else waits, these must be paid. If a business man gets into the habit of making the same blunders more than once, the taxes will soon amount to confiscation.

"Blunder Taxes" are levied with amazing frequency upon store advertisers. Among the blunders which are assessed at "full value" in advertising are these:

Selection of poor mediums;
Using too little space in good mediums;

Devoting less attention to preparing the daily store advertisement than to the storing of some empty boxes in the basement;

Stopping the ad altogether for one or more days now and then;

Figuring the advertising appropriation on the basis of what you can "afford" after all other expenses are provided for;

The use of "programs," schemes, circulars, posters, fence-signs, placards and jim-cracks, under the impression that you are securing real publicity, and that somewhere, somehow, sometime someone will be influenced by some of these things to come to your store and buy something.

YOUR "BLUNDER TAX" BILL GROWS SMALLER AND SMALLER AS YOUR USE OF NEWSPAPER PUBLICITY GROWS BIGGER AND BIGGER.
