Entertained Football Team.

The members of the Willamette football squad were the guests of honor at a very delightful reception, given by the young ladies of the University, Saturday evening. The girls never do any thing by halves, and everything was a complete and pleasing success, from the artistic decorations to the serving of luncheon. Pennants, made in the colors and bearing the emblems of all the colleges that Willamette had met upon the gridiron during the past season, occupied prominent places in the decoration scheme, and each member of the team was presented with a burst leather football, upon the inside of which were the pictures of the team and the score of the games played.

One of the means of entertainment was the writing of love letters for a prize. Chester Catlow proved the most proficient in this art, and carried off the prize. All the most interesting ones were read by Prof. Mahaffie, and not the least amusing part of the business was the pronunciation given by him to some of the endearing words and phrases, which have evidently been invented since the professor made love to his numerous sweethearts in the days of yore.

The Grand—A Jolly American Tramp.

A New Melodramatic Comedy Drama.

There is to be a play of strong heart interest at the grand Opera House tonight, in which the nerve and pushing go-aheadativeness of the typical American will be shown in its true quality. The piece which claimed to this is Manager U. D. Newell's great comedy drama, "A Jolly American Tramp," which not only depicts the trials and tribulations and hardships of an honest workman, who, through adverse stress of circumstances, was compelled to be a hobo, but it also shows the magnanimity of this same tramp, who, after being rehabilitated in society, not only forgives but forgets all the injustice that has been done him, and aids others intensely stirring climaxes. There will be specialties of an interesting nature. The cast is the best obtainable, and contains such well known characters as Clark Ross, who essays the role of the Weary Willie in "A Jolly American tramp," and who is said to be the best delineator of the genus hobo on the stage; his make-up is reported to be perfect, and so exact that, were he to leave the stage in his tatters and rags, our police would surely send him to the workhouse purely on his looks.

Felice Davis, with a company of six people, has been especially engaged by Manager Merrill, at a great expense. This charming young lady is one of California's best known leading ladies—at one time famous for being the youngest leading lady on the stage. Direct from Fisher's burlesque theatre, of San Francisco, this company will present the laughing farce entitled "The Irish Cupid."
