

Vinol THE COD LIVER PREPARATION WITHOUT OIL

Vinol is fast superseding old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions because, without a drop of oil or disagreeable feature, it contains all the medicinal elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cods' livers. By our process the oil, having no value either as a medicine or food, is separated from the medicinal elements and thrown away. Unlike old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions, Vinol is deliciously palatable, agreeable to the weakest stomach, and therefore unequalled as a body builder and strength creator for old people, puny children, weak, run-down men and women, after sickness, and for all pulmonary diseases. Everything Vinol contains is named on the label.

OUR GUARANTEE—We have such faith in VINOL that if you will take it we promise if it does not benefit or cure you we will return you your money without question. We take all the risk.

School News

North School.

The following pupils of the 8B class under Principal Peeble's charge have on display on the walls of their room very creditable drawings, both in black and white and colors: Alice Clough, Velma Hoover, Oliver Haslam, Ralph Miller, Jessie Miller, Sylvia Murphy, Douglas Philys, George Paulus, George Walderspel, Grace Wilson, Eric Kettelberg. Members of the 7A in the same room have work in music and drawing; they are: Harry Beardley, Hazel L. Cooley, Irma Cooper, Geneviva Fraser, Clara Fincher, Charlie R. Minton, Pearl McBride, Alice Orey, Jesse F. Prince, Vin Shank, Dorothy Shank, Flora M. Ward, Bessie Wish.

Yesterday two were absent from Mr. Peebles' room on account of sickness: Alice Orey and Irma Cooper.

His classes have recently finished their copybooks, which show marked improvement. His classes are at present working in partial payments.

Mr. Peebles remarked how much a system of speaking tubes in the building and telephones to the central office would facilitate work.

In the work in vocal music in the principal's room was the following exercise: The pupils had written the music to the song "America" on paper, copying the same from the music on the blackboard. The classes sing the music as written. The following lesson on "America" was neatly and correctly written:

1. What air is this?
2. What kind of notes fill a measure?
3. What is the time?
4. In what key?
5. How many notes or their equivalent fill a measure?
6. What staff is the soprano, alto and tenor written on?
7. Write the notes by using syllables in order to obtain accuracy.
8. Explain effect of rests.

In addition to this a brief sketch of the life of the author of each of our national hymns is learned. Something of the life and circumstances. Such hymns as "America," "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "The Star Spangled Banner" are studied.

Miss Clark, the teacher of the 1A and 2B grades, spent Monday forenoon visiting at East School. The half holiday was won by her classes for good attendance. This is the third won by her class this year, but the first they have taken.

The enrollment at present in North school is near 500. Of some of the rooms as follows: G. A. Peebles, boys 12, girls 10; Mrs. Weniger, boys 11, girls 10; Miss Robertson, boys 25, girls 22; Miss Bean, boys 23, girls 18; Miss Dayton, boys 19, girls 23.

High School.

The class in advanced American history, under Mr. Powers, just completed an assignment of special work. The nature of the work is a complete written composition on various topics. The papers were from one to four thousand words long, and without exception very neatly prepared. The pupils and their topics are as follows: "Alexander Hamilton," "Willa Perkin"; "Thomas Jefferson," "Alice Judson"; "George Washington," "Bertha Daneau"; "Steps Toward Union," "Martin Schindler"; "The Menace of anarchy," "Genevieve Potter"; "Convention of 1787," "Harriet Sykes"; "The Ordinance of 1787," "Marie Hutchins"; "The Constitution," "Perry Beigelman"; "The Cotton Gin," "Mabel Magness"; "The Louisiana Purchase," "Harvey Slater"; "Political Parties," "William Baker"; "Internal Improvements," "Crislie Clark"; "Andrew Jackson," "Glenn Miles"; "Slavery," "Ethel Bell"; "War of 1812," "Bessie Harding"; "James Madison," "Clare Vibbert"; "Doctrine of Nullification," "Ralph Moore."

The following books were suggested as good authorities for outside reading: Bryce's "American Commonwealth"; Fisk's "Critical Period"; "Macon's Select Documents"; Roosevelt's "Winning of the West"; "Webster's Reply to Hayne"; "American Statesman Series of Biographies," and "United States history by the following: Schouler, McMaster, Bancroft, Rhodes and Lodge.

The high school teams were both defeated in their games Saturday, and the boys worse than the girls. The boys attribute their defeat to ill luck and carelessness, while the girls are proud to have made as good a record as they did against the champions of the state, and say they received a number of good pointers on the game.

Miss Mildred Perkins, one of the foremost members of the third year class, has recently left school. She has gone to live with her grandmother. The best wishes of her school mates go with her.

The Demosthenes society had its regular meeting Monday afternoon in the society room. The resignation of the former secretary, Harvey Slater, was accepted, and Miss Beulah Chase was elected to succeed him.

Any Suit In The Store $10.00

What Would You Do,

If you were a big clothier, and had more stock on hand than you could sell this season? Would you keep your money tied up until next year—let the stock get rusty—let your salesman get tired of showing it—get tired of it yourself—start next season with a half new stock? Or would you say we have made some money on fall and winter goods; we will lose a little work; get our money back, bring in some people who have not been buying of us; make them happy; and when they come next spring show them something that they have never seen before here or anywhere else? You've answered our question. We're after you—not for today alone, but for as long as you live. Here is a price that we believe will move the stock for us.

To Newark, N. J., by Ship Canal.
New York, Jan. 10.—Preliminary measures have been taken for the cutting of a ship canal through the peninsula of New Jersey, lying between the Hackensack and the Hudson rivers, which, when completed, will add nearly seven and one-half miles to the harbor frontage of New York, form an almost direct water connection between this city and Newark, relieve existing congestion, which has compelled several steamship lines to seek facilities elsewhere, and prove of immense advantage to commercial interests.

$350,000, which would make it the cheapest ship canal on record. With the state of New Jersey and private capital both interested in it, it is thought that there will be little difficulty in acquiring the necessary land, as nearly all the rights of way involved have long since lapsed.

Kansas State Board of Agriculture.
Topeka, Kas., Jan. 10.—The thirty-fifth annual meeting of the Kansas state board of agriculture will open in the capitol building this afternoon. As this is the first meeting since the banner crop of Kansas, the attendance is unusually large and the meeting promises to be the most successful in the history of the organization. The program which Secretary Coburn has prepared is one of unusual excellence and there will be papers by agricultural experts from Illinois, Iowa, Ohio, and Missouri and by two specialists from the U. S. department of agriculture. At the evening session tonight Governor Hitch and Mayor W. H. Davis will deliver addresses of welcome and President J. W. Robinson will respond. The rest of the evening's program will consist of addresses on interesting agricultural subjects.

No Operation

Mrs. Malinda Akers, of Basham, Va., writes: "I had what doctors call 'prolapse,' and couldn't stand straight. I had pain in my back and shoulders, and was very irregular and profuse. Doctors said an operation was needed, but I couldn't bear the thought of the knife. After taking three bottles of Wine of Cardui, I could walk around. Can now do my housework and am in splendid health."

Cardui is a pure, vegetable, medicinal essence, especially adapted to cure women's diseases. It relieves excessive periodical pains, regulates irregularities, and is a safe, pleasant and reliable remedy for all sick women. In successful use for over 70 years. Try it.

Fall River Dog Show.
Fall River, Mass., Jan. 10.—The annual Fall River dog show opened here today and it is safe to say that it is the largest and most interesting in every respect which has ever been held here. The entries are more numerous than ever before and includes a large number of fine and pedigreed dogs. All the prominent kennel clubs of the New England states are represented by exhibits and among them are some of the most valuable dogs owned in the east. More than 100 special prizes have been offered besides the regular prizes and ribbons. Mr. Frank Dole of New Haven is the all round judge and he is assisted by the following special judges: Boston terriers, Dwight Baldwin; whippets, beagles and greyhounds, Thomas Shaleross; French bulldogs, J. F. Purdy; setters, H. A. Belcher, and others. Dr. Fredric H. Osgood is the president.

Commission Merchants Meet.
Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 10.—More than 300 members of the national league of commission merchants are in this city at present to attend the annual convention of the league, which opens today and will continue in session for three days. George Mead of Boston is the president of the national league; Frank A. Wagner of Chicago, the vice president; A. Warren Patch of Pawlin the secretary and Charles Roth of New Orleans treasurer.

The local commission merchants have made elaborate preparations for the entertainment of the visiting members and delegates and for today they have arranged a reception and a smoker. Tomorrow there will be a number of the after parties and on the evening of the closing day of the convention there will be the annual banquet in honor of the convention there will be the annual banquet in honor of the officers-elect.
