SENATE TACKLES TEDDY

Washington, Jan. 13.—While the senate has labored to mask the truth, the fact is that next Tuesday Theodore Roosevelt, William H. Taft, Theodore P. Shonta, John E. Stevens and, inci- dentally, John F. Wallace are to be ar- raigned and tried before the none too impartial judges who constitute the senate committee on interoceanic can- nals.

The trial is to be called an investi- gation, but it means simply that every supposed scandal, every petty criti- cism, every report of friction between officials, every story of an unearned salary, every tale of a discharged em- ployee and every fleeting bit of gossip is to be told in public, and from them all the members of the committee ex- pect to get—possibly some of them hope to get—the basis for a direct charge of incompetency, or it may be of guilt. There is not a soul in Wash- ington who believes that anything will come of the investigation save the knowledge already held that some of the heads of the enterprise have had their bickerings and their disagree- ments.

It may be that in the course of the hearings the public may learn the real reason for the resignation of Mr. Wal- lace. It may learn whether or not there was any truth in the reports of friction between Mr. Taft and Mr. Shonta. It may learn whether or not Poulney Bigelow drew the long bow, but that anything substantial can come from the investigation no one in his heart believes.

It is understood that the greatest latitude will be given in the matter of asking questions, and, if curiosity about personal differences between officials is to be considered one of the chief things which it is necessary to satisfy, the senate and the people may have their fill of satisfaction.

May Abolish Commission.

The senate declares that President Roosevelt practically obliterated the investigation, and that it has been de- cided not to deny him. There was nothing for the President to do, ap- parently, in the present condition of affairs, except to "challenge" an in- vestigation. There is a feeling in Washington that he took the course that he did to win eventually the right to conduct the canal construction un- hampered by a commission of seven men.

If the result of the investigation leads to the statutory abolition of the canal body, it may be that trouble and rumors of trouble will disappear, and that the work will go forward, thus showing evidence of the strong hand that is behind it. If trouble does not vanish, and the work does not progress, congress will be in a better position to criticize or investigate the conduct of a chief executive, who is now work- ing under the handicap of a law which his critics have imposed.

Entertain Choir.

On Friday afternoon the girls choir of the Central Congregational church were entertained by their leader, Miss Beryl Emerson, at the home of Mrs. W. M. McIntire, in Capital Park.

Rhoda Allen for County Clerk.

The Woodburn Independent mentions the first man to come out for the office of county clerk at the Republican pri- maries, R. D. Allen, of this city, and formerly of Silverton. Mr. Allen came very near getting this nomination at the hands of the Republicans a few years ago, and has since then been employed as expert bookkeeper and ac- countant at the state asylum. Mr. Al- len's qualifications are beyond question of a very high order, and he has the confidence of a large number of people in this city and the body of the coun- ty. He is willing to leave his nomina- tion to the people at the coming pri- mary, and if nominated and elected can be trusted to do his duty as an official. He has served as a deputy.

Officers Meet.

Participants of the Marion county pub- lic schools are holding a conference this afternoon at the office of the state superintendent.

DICTATES TO THE COURTS

(Four O'Clock Edition.)

New York, Jan. 13.—Attorney J. D. Johnson appeared and told Hadley this afternoon that he would produce H. Clay Pierce in Missouri at time de- sired to testify before a notary but did not want him to testify in New York. Process servers, who have been surrounding Pierce for several days, have been called off.

MORE NAVAL HAZING

(Four O'clock Edition.)

Annapolis, Md., Jan. 13.—The most important case yet before the court- martial sitting at the naval academy began this morning, when Midshipman J. P. Miller, of Kentucky, a member of the class to be graduated February 12, was arraigned on a charge of hazing, and also of countenancing the hazing of fourth class men. It is charged that it is Miller's duty not only to re- frain from hazing, but to suppress it.

THAT PANAMA FIRE

Panama, Jan. 13.—The fire yesterday destroyed 23 tenement houses, seven stores, the church of San Juan de Ne- pame Ceno, the Catholic Brotherhood Institute, orphan asylum and three pub- lic schools. The loss will aggregate about $200,000. The police have ar- rested the foreman of a gang of Ameri- can fumigators, who are alleged to be responsible. The firemen were sup- plied with water at a critical moment from the reservoirs of Santa Ala church.

REPORTERS DIG UP CRIMINAL

(Four O'clock Edition.)

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 13.—Frank J. Constantine, for whom the police of Chicago have been looking since the murder of Mrs. Arthur Gentry, has been found by newspaper men in this city. Constantine broke his leg six weeks ago, and has been in bed here since. It is evident the Chicago au- thorities have the wrong trail, as Con- stantine admits he is the man described as being the alleged murderer. He works as a foreman of a telephone con- struction gang at Burlington, Iowa, where Mrs. Gentry formerly lived.

Contesting for Honors.

New York, Jan. 13.—The claim made for Latchford Cox, that, as a stoker of the engine "John Bull," of the Pennsylvania railroad, he was em- ployed on the first railroad engine in this country, has brought out the state- ment that the machine was preceded by several years by the "Stourbridge Lion," which was built in England, and first operated at Honesdale, Pa., in August, 1825, on the tracks of the Carbondale road, which was built by the Delaware & Hudson Company. Mr. Edward Penniman, of Honesdale, Pa., has published a pamphlet, making this contention. It gives to Horatio Allen the credit of having been the first locomotive engineer in the United States.

Weather Was All Right.

(Four O'clock Edition.)
San Francisco, Jan. 12.—Owing to the inclemency of the weather, plans for the entertainment of the Chinese commission were disarranged. This morning Admirals Goodrich and McCall and their staffs were received by the commissioners. This afternoon, 75 corporations as against the rest of the people, and furnish proof from his own mouth that he ought to have re- signed long ago.

Some Sugar Anyway.

(Four O'clock Edition.)
Washington, Jan. 13.—An effort is to be made by friends of the Philippine tariff bill, to satisfy the beet sugar men, by providing that no more than 400,000 tons of sugar shall be imported from the Philippines in one year.

MUST MAKE REPORT

Washington, Jan. 13.—The house committee on judiciary today report- ed favorably the publicity bill which requires all corporations engaged in interstate commerce to make an annual report to the commissioner of corpora- tions.

Reward for Sunday School Boys.

Fifty-two boys, between the ages of 12 and 15, were on the gymnasium floor of the Y. M. C. A. this morning, and joined in the class work led by the general secretary. This class is grow- ing more rapidly than any other part of the association work. Boys in regu- lar attendance at the various Sunday schools are given special gymnasium privileges at the association. The re- sult is that boys not before attending Sunday school are joining the various classes.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful It is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that char- coal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same clean- ing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestine and car- ries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions or odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and im- proves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest pow- dered willow charcoal, and other har- mless antiseptics in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in the stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent pre- paration, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

Only an Eighth of a Senator.

Senator Depew, before starting for Washington, said: "Why should I re- sign? I intend now to do my real work in the senate. On April 23 I shall reach my 72nd birthday. By that time I expect that I shall have resigned from all the companies in which I am director. In all I am a director in 79 companies. Attending to my manifold business duties all these years has kept me very busy. I realize that the office of senator from the great Empire state is an honorable one, deserving the best that is in a man. I intend to dis- charge the duties of my position to the best of my ability. As soon as I re- sign from all the companies with which I am connected I will be able to be- gin my real work in the senate, as I expect to work harder than ever be- fore."

Well, a good resolution is better made late than never, but why should a senator from the great empire state wait for seven years from 66 to 73, to begin his "real work" in the senate? His remarks, smacking strongly of self-righteousness, amount to a confession that all this time he has been serving those 79 corporations as against the rest of the people, and furnish proof from his own mouth that he ought to have re- signed long ago.

SENDING PICTURES BY WIRE

Professor Korn, in a letter delivered in Munich, stated that the problem of telegraphing pictures had been solved in principle. The apparatus will be ready for use when a few technical improve- ments have been introduced.

The apparatus which the professor has carried out prove that it is possible to transmit a photograph of six or seven inches square, in a varying from ten to twenty miles. These experiments are carried on the telegraph line from Nuremberg, a distance of 100 miles, but Professor Korn holds that precisely the same results can be obtained if the photographs are transmitted by a telegraph line of marine cable 1000 miles in length.

The photograph which has been transmitted is placed on a trans- mitted glass cylinder, which revolves and at the same time moves right to left. A ray of light is directed on this cylinder by means of an electric lamp and lens, and when the light reaches the interior of the cylinder it is brighter or darker according to the coloring of that particular part of the photograph which is passing. Inside the cylinder is some selenium, which transmits electrical current in proportion to the intensity of the light brought to bear on it. The selenium transmits the current more rapidly in a bright and less rapidly in a dark shade. The selenium within the cylinder connected with the wire over which the photograph is to be transmitted.

The receiving station consists of an electrical Nernst lamp placed in a glass cylinder covered with a sized paper. The Nernst lamp is more or less brightly accented, the varying current transmitting the selenium at the other end. It reproduces the exact shade of the original photograph, provided the cylinders at each end of the wire volve at exactly the same speed.

Professor has ascertained a means of regulating the revolving of the cylinders so that the speed is identical at both ends. Professor stated that when the impression on which he is now working is introduced it will be possible to transmit a photograph or sketch of a dozen inches square within five seconds, instead of ten or fifteen minutes.

Nearly a Million.

(Four O'clock Edition.)
Cleveland, O., Jan. 13.—Lulu L. Mosier's forgeries of municipal bonds issued in the desperate effort to save himself from financial ruin, and to act as collateral for loans from New York banks, amounted to at least $1,000,000. The bankers' committee says the suits of his failure will be the profits of the stockholders in the bonds to which he loaned will be reduced.

Wedding Permits.

Joyce Scheurer was this afternoon given permission to marry Pearl Mosier, and Lulu L. Chapman granted the same privilege with L. L. Mills. Miss Chapman being of the age of 18, her father gave his consent to the marriage.
