WELL CONTESTED GAME.

The Blues and the Reds Fight Fiercely for Victory Last Night.

Dr. H. C. Epley led his blue bedrock rooters in cheering their side to victory in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium last evening, when the "Blues" scored against the "Reds" to the tune of 28 to 20 in a hotly contested game of basketball. The two teams were well matched, and for a time it seemed anybody's game. The ball was evenly divided between the territory of the opposing sides, and most of the scores were made in the basket at the west end of the room. Neither side seemed to be able to throw the ball into the net at the east end.

It would be hard to say which player on either side played the best, as all stuck to their men very closely, and played their positions better than at any previous game of the season. The audience was enthusiastic, and seemed to be divided in favor of the opposing teams, although the rooters, led by the doctor, seemed to have the best of the noise-making organization. The "Reds" declared they will show the others something in the way of cheering at the next game.

The line-up of the teams was as follows:

Blues—DeArmond and Hunt, forwards; Yantia, center; Winstanley and Jones, guards.

Reds—Hargrove and Phelps, forwards; Steinbach, center; Rudolph and Umphreys, guards.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Wilson-James Wedding.

A quiet home wedding was solemnized Wednesday at noon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. James on East State street, when Miss Irene James became the wife of Mr. Tom Wilson. Owing to the serious illness of an uncle of the bride, only about twenty of the intimate friends were present.

The rooms were decorated with ivy, ferns and white and pink carnations. The dining room was especially pretty, smilax and carnations being used.

At 12 o'clock Mrs. Joseph Evans played Mendelssohn's wedding march and the bridal party entered the parlors, where it was met by Dr. Sellock, pastor of the Methodist church, who performed the Episcopal ring ceremony.

The bride wore a handsome gown of cream crepe de Paris, with trimmings of lace, and carried bride's roses.

Mrs. Carolyn B. Shelton, Misses Iona and Viola Fisher and Eva Coshov assisted in the serving.

The bride's bouquet was caught by Mrs. Shelton and Miss James, who divided the honors.

The young couple left on the afternoon train for Seattle, and will be at home to their friends on East street after February 1.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Superintendent and Mrs. C. W. James, of the penitentiary, and is a native Oregonian. She was born and raised in Baker City, where she has a large circle of warm friends. She has been matron of the penitentiary since her father has been the superintendent, and is very popular in Salem's social circle. She has won many friends since her residence here.

The groom is the present bookkeeper at the penitentiary and has resided in Salem and Portland for the last 16 years.

"500" Party.

Prominent among the social events of the past week was the "500" party given Wednesday evening at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Moores on Chemeketa street. The affair was complimentary to Mr. Moores' two sisters, Misses Bertha and Carrie Moores, and Mrs. E. H. Harrison, of Portland.

Five hundred was played and the first prize was won by Mrs. J. R. Whitney, while Dr. Cusick was awarded the consolation prize.

The evening was enjoyable throughout, and a large number of friends were present. The Misses Moores are visiting in this city for a few days, preparatory to their departure next week for Los Beach, Cal., where they will remain during the winter. They will go in company with Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Moores and son Chester, who will also spend the winter there. There is a number of Salem people at that popular winter resort, and the Salem colony will gladly welcome the new arrivals.

At Corvallis.

The O. A. G. hop last week was one of the society events of that college. Guests from all the valley towns were present and the affair was the event of the season.

ning to give a "hard times" social the coming week, which promises to be a pleasant event in the school circles.

Entertains Friends.

Mrs. John McNary entertained about 40 of her friends yesterday afternoon. The party was given in honor of Miss Carrie Moores, of Portland. Those who assisted in the serving were Mrs. Chas. McNary, Mrs. Ruben Boise, Mrs. S. C. Dyer, Mrs. Ray Farmer, Miss Epie Smith and Miss Margaret Meesick.

Another Lesson the Late War.

Washington, Jan. 13.—The equipment of the medical department of the United States army and the medical corps of the United States navy will be placed upon a uniform basis. An effort will be made to have identical equipment and the same methods of work, so that there may be the same uniformity in these branches as there is in other respects in the military and naval services. It is felt that if there is any advantage in having an identical calibre of small arms and the same type of ammunition and the mutual use of an emergency ration, there might, profitably be similar uniformity in the medical equipment and medical corps organization. The president has been greatly impressed by the reports received from the military observers in Manchuria, and has learned that the Japanese had reduced the policy of uniformity to a most practical and profitable system. To the end that there may be a like advantage to the medical branches of the two services in this country, it is probable that there will soon be detailed for the consideration of the project of uniformity a joint army and navy board, composed, naturally of officers of the medical corps of the navy and the medical department of the army, all of whom agree on the efficiency and value of the proposed change. It is also understood that a number of methods which were tested by the Japanese during the late war and found highly satisfactory will be adopted in the joint medical service of the army and navy of the United States. This will probably not apply to the method of septic treatment used by the Japanese.

Russian New Year's Day.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 13.—In accordance with the Julian calendar used in Russia and by the Greek church in general, today is New Year's Day, and it is celebrated as such throughout the country with the customary ceremonies. The usual state ceremony, in which the czar, being the head of the Greek church, took the principal part, was omitted this year owing to the disturbed condition existing in the empire. There was only the usual official reception of the members of state council, the army, and navy, the principal state departments and the diplomatic corps. Extraordinary precautions were taken to prevent any attempt upon the life of the czar.

The popular celebration on the New Year was extremely tame this year, and the observance of the day was almost totally confined to religious services in the various churches and family celebrations. Reports from other large cities indicate that everywhere the celebration of the day was quiet and more of a religious than public and popular nature.

New York, Jan. 13.—The Greeks and Russians of this city celebrated New Year's Day in an elaborate manner. There were special services in all Greek churches, with special sermons and customary ceremonies in honor of the New Year. Feasting and dancing constitute the principal part of the New Year's program.

Oklahoma's New Governor.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Jan. 13.—The term of Governor Ferguson having expired at noon today, Captains Frank Frantz, the former agent for the Osage Indians in this territory, was inaugurated as the new governor of this territory. Governor Frantz is a member of a pioneer family of Oklahoma and brother of Walter Frantz, the baseball pitcher and third baseman and of Orville Frantz, also a prominent baseball expert. He was captain of the Rough Riders during the Spanish-American war.

Hungarian Parliament Meets Again.

Budapest, Jan. 13.—The Hungarian parliament was reconvened today. There was considerable excitement connected with the reopening of the session, and the session was extremely stormy, but precautions had been taken to preserve the order. The announcement was made at the opening that a temporary agreement had been reached between the government and the opposition, and that the definite settlement of the existing differences would shortly follow. This announcement had a somewhat quieting effect upon the malcontents, but did not suppress the irritation and excitement altogether. In certain quarters doubt is expressed that an amicable settlement will be reached.
