RUSSIAN TROUBLES ARE MANY

Revolt and Insurrection Hold Sway in All Czar's Dominions

St. Petersburg, Jan. 16.—At Auiza houses were bombarded by artillery, and the villages practically destroyed. All the Letts fled immediately. A number were captured and executed by the soldiers. It is reported from Vladivostok that all the prisons have been destroyed by fire, and the prisoners released. A dispatch from the Baltic province says a detachment of dragoons is surrounded at the island of Doel by Letts. The assassination of General Lemowski, at Ponna, is confirmed, and at Irkutsk the assistant chief of police has been killed. An attempt to kill the vice-governor failed. Two hundred socialists have been arrested.

Horticulturalists at Gettysburg.

Gettysburg, Pa., Jan. 16.—The annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Horticultural Association opened here today. President Gabriel Heister, of Harrisburg, Pa., called the convention to order, and delivered his annual address. The convention will last two days, and the program includes addresses by Professor H. A. Surface, the state economical zoologist, who will discuss the San Jose scale; Prof. M. B. Waite, of the United States department of agriculture, and Prof. William A. T. Taylor, pomologist to the department of agriculture, and other distinguished experts. The exhibition of various kinds of fruits and flowers, which is held here in connection with the convention is unusually interesting, and is attracting considerable interest.

AFTER DEPEW'S SCALP

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 16.—After the meeting of the senate today Brackett's resolution demanding the resignation of Depew was the first order of business. Brackett did not mince matters in attacking Depew for his connection with the insurance scandals. He said any senator present ought to blush for shame at the representation of the state in the United States senate by either of the present senators. He said he would support any resolution requesting Platt to resign, and insisted that Depew's services for the Eutawable during the time he received a $20,000 retainer were only such as he was in duty bound to render as a director of the company.

The work will be done under the supervision of a commission of engineers. Moody has decided the Spooner law permits of such action. The law authorizing the canal leaves the method to the discretion of the President and commission.

Will Elect Choate.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 16.—Representative Charles F. Littlefield, of Maine, will be the principal speaker before the annual meeting of the New York State Bar Association, which will open in the assembly chamber this evening. Mr. Littlefield will speak on the subject, "The Three Departments of Government and Their Relations to Each Other." President Richard L. Hand will speak on the subject of "The Judicial Power." Other addresses which will be delivered during the two days of the meeting will be "The Massachusetts Ballot System," by Richard H. Dana, of Boston; "The Disregard of Law," by Judge Alphonso T. Clearwater, of Kingston; "Should the Grand Jury System Be Abolished," by Geo. Lawyer, of Albany; "Fraudulent Conveyances," by Frederick S. Walt, of New York; "Combination of Contracts on Sale of Personal Property," by Edward S. Rapallo, of New York; "The Great Forward Movement for Uniform Divorce Laws," by Clinton S. Gibbs, of Buffalo.

The subject of ballot reform will be discussed by William M. Ivine, the defeated Republican candidate for mayor of New York. It is generally conceded that Joseph H. Choate, the former United States ambassador to Great Britain, will be elected president of the bar association.

Diamond Rooster on Exhibition.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 16.—One of the most interesting attractions at the Cincinnati poultry and pet stock exhibition, which opened here today, is a rooster which promises, through litigation, to become as famous in history as the celebrated calf in the Jones county calf case. The rooster in question was exhibited in Minneapolis last year. At the conclusion of the exhibition he was placed in a crate for shipment. It belonged to an exhibitor in the state of New York. While the crate was with others in the exhibition hall, a Kansas exhibitor accidentally struck his hand against the crate with such force that a large solitaire diamond, valued at $200 broke from the setting of his ring and fell into the crate. The rooster quickly pecked up the gem and swallowed it. Then there was great excitement. The owner of the diamond demanded that the rooster should be killed, but the owner objected to the killing of the rooster, maintaining that it was not his fault that the bird had swallowed the diamond and that the bird was far more valuable than the diamond. The Kansas man went to the courts for relief, and for the last year the case has been dragged through the courts, without any prospect of immediate settlement. The rooster does not seem to mind the trouble he has caused by his greediness.

Will Discuss School Matters.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 16.—Gov. John I. Cox delivered an address of welcome at the opening meeting of the nineteenth annual convention of the Tennessee public school officers' association, which was held at Carnegie library this morning. Superintendent P. L. Harned responded on behalf of the members and then the president, O. P. Lester of Humboldt, delivered his annual address.

There will be another session in the afternoon in which the various county superintendents will submit verbal reports of the conditions existing in their respective counties. A number of prominent educators will read papers on educational subjects. The convention will last three days and there will be morning and afternoon sessions every day.

Fallieres was born November 6, 1841, and is a lawyer. He has been in public life since 1876, as deputy senator and cabinet minister. He succeeded Loubet as president of the senate in 1899.

Hiding in Umattilla.

(Four O'clock Edition.) Pendleton, Or., Jan. 16.—L. J. Simpkins, alias Simmons, the alleged accomplice of Harry Orchard, suspected of the murder of Governor Stearns, is supposed to be hiding in Umattilla county. He arrived in Pendleton a few days ago, and suddenly disappeared. Three detectives are here for the purpose of locating him. Simpkins was a member of the executive board of the Western Federation of Miners, and implicated in the recent disturbances in Colorado.

Washington, Jan. 16.—Republican insurgents against the Philippine tariff bill, met their first defeat this afternoon, on two amendments by William Alden Smith, of Michigan. The proposition to make the new tariff on sugar and tobacco 60 instead of 25 per cent of the Dingley schedule, and to strike out the provisions for absolute free trade after April 11th, were defeated by 197 to 73.

The mayor of Efingham will welcome the delegates, and W. R. Kinsey, of Tamarac, will respond on behalf of the members. President Joseph Newman, of Elgin, will deliver his annual address. Papers will be read by A. F. Janzen, W. J. Judkin, J. R. Buddulph, Prof. W. J. Fraser, of the University of Illinois, and others. The convention will be in session three days. Governor Deneen is expected here, and will probably address the convention at the evening session.

New York, Jan. 16.—Fifteen physicians issued a Field bulletin saying: "His condition is a little worse this morning, and there is evidence of some extension of the disease, but his condition, while critical, is not hopeless."

New York, Jan. 16.—Field died at 4:08 p. m.
