FIGHT FOR THE HARBORS.

Following item indicates that the West coast harbors appreciate a man who is unequivocally fighting their battles.

Before Walter L. Toose took off his coat and began to do hard work for Coos Bay an one in the interior said Coos.

That he will do as much for Tillamook and Clatsop and Winchester and Bandon and the mouth of Rogu river so one can doubt.

The Chamber passed resolutions thanking Walter L. Toose for his firm stand for 40 feet at Coos Bay as declared in his platform for the nomination for Congress.—Coos Bay Harbor.

The above simple item from a little paper is a much-neglected part of Oregon shows that the people down there love a fighter.

Mr. Toose has gone on record as an uncompromising fighter for the West coast harbors, and has forced the other candidates to do the same.

If one of the other gentlemen should accidentally be nominated he will be committed to those policies, but not because he first thought of them.

No, it occurred to him that it would not do to leave that item out of his platform, so he appropriated the idea and tries to sail in on it.

If any one will show us any item in the Hawley and Huston platforms that are not taken almost bodily from Toose's, we'd like to see them.

A WORD TO EASTERN OREGON PAPERS.

This is written with a view to relating closer cooperation with the press of Western Oregon. On a recent trip to Eastern Oregon we for the first time became aware of the fine spirit of enterprise that dominates those communities.

The Capital Journal has tried to emphasize the importance of recognizing the claims of Eastern Oregon more fully and we have had a number of articles favoring nominating all the candidates possible from east of the Cascade range.

We feel gratified that at least two of the next state ticket and possibly three are to come from over there. The next United States Senator should come from Eastern Oregon, as Western Oregon already has one Senator.

Then instead of developing the sentiment in favor of state division, which we were surprised to find so strong, both sections would be represented in the development of the state through action at Washington in the Senate as it should be in the House.

It is of the greatest importance that we have a well-distributed and well-balanced state ticket, if the Republicans are to win. If Western Oregon tries to hog the next United States Senator and will not leave the matter to the choice of the people, the next Senator may be a Democrat, and the legislature may be Democratic.

This paper will work hard to get all the recognition for Eastern Oregon possible on the Republican state ticket, and hope Eastern Oregon will do the same thing and speak kindly of the Western Oregon candidates.

We must have reciprocity and we must stand up for the best man in each section of the state and stop the mad process of killing off every public man we need in Washington for national purposes.

MARKING OUT THE LINE.

The Dooliver rate regulation bill, which may be accepted as a careful expression of President Roosevelt's idea, brings the question more clearly and definitely before the public.

It marks out distinctly the line between rate injustice and the rights of the people, and exactly at that point establishes a genuine power to correct wrongs.

It lifts from the long suffering public the burden of protest and appeal against injustice, and puts upon the railways the task of showing, if they can, that justice is not good.

It emphasizes and puts into practice the principle that government and law are not maintained for the benefit of railroads, at the expense of the people, but for the sake of justice to the people and the railroads alike.

In giving to the Interstate Commerce Commission all the rate regulation, the full force will be applied where it can be effective.

If wrong chances to be done against the railways, they are not to be without protection—as the people are now without it while infamous wrongs are continually heaped upon them.

The railways have secured a protection in the constitutional safeguard that no rate rebellion shall be imposed upon them which will have the effect of confiscation of their property.

What the constitution also requires, plates, and what some such law as this will effect, is that the people of this country shall no longer have business enterprises checked and controlled by excessive railway rates arbitrarily regulated in the interest of a few railroad gamblers in Wall Street.

THE BATTLE FOR RIGHT.

The Lake County Herald directs an open letter to Lake county's representatives in the state legislature. It was reported that this representative had announced that he expected to renounce a railroad pass during his service, and would accept and use such a pass.

The Herald directs attention to the fact that this member of the legislature is presumed to act as the attorney in the state legislature for the people of Lake county, and that he will be required to vote on important railroad legislation.

The Herald pleads with his representative to reject the pass, and to stand as a free representative of public interests.

The appeal is a good one and it is hoped it will be heeded. The free press is one of the great evils of the day, and no public official is in a position to discharge his duty to the people if he places himself under obligations to the corporations.

The battle against the free pass is not a temporary struggle. Unless we are prepared to confess that popular government is a failure, that battle will not cease until the pass has been abolished.

In the meantime let it be understood, everywhere, that a free press in the hands of a public official is a badge of shame.

INTERIOR DECORATIONS.

The January number of the new magazine, Interior Decoration, is especially interesting. An article on Models is followed by a fully illustrated story of the work of the Swedish College, while a third treats on "Miscellaneous Furniture and its Environment."

The "Ideal Kitchen" is the subject of a well illustrated article, and in another, the perplexing question of "The Treatment of the Floor," is carefully considered.

"Comfortable Furnishings" and "The Modern Library" are two other articles, with good illustrations.

"In the Steps" is a department which will appeal to every one. It is full of new ideas and suggestions taken from the various painting stores.

The number costs ten cents and may be had from all newsdealers. It is published at 10 Union Square, New York City.

THE NEW SPORTING ANNUAL.

The greatest of standard authorities, the "Police Gazette Sporting Annual," published by Richard K. Fox, Franklin Square, New York, has just been issued for 1906, and the many new records have increased its size, but not its price.

It contains records of baseball, bicycling, trotting, jumping, football, racing, aquatic, and all athletic sports. The main feature of the book, however, is the pugilistic records, and many pages are devoted to that popular branch of sport. This great book is made doubly attractive by its high class illustrations and photos of the champions. It is authentic and reliable, and stands today an authority on the subjects upon which it treats. The price is ten cents; postage two cents extra.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies.

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When the tube is inflamed you have a trembling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

A Famous Remedy for Sick Headache. The cause of this complaint is not in the head at all; it comes from the stomach. A stomach that has become clogged by overeating, drinking or abuse in any manner, will warn you by bringing on sick headache.

Cure the pain and distress in the stomach and the headache will stop of itself. All bilious attacks, dyspepsia, belching, bad taste in the mouth, muddy complexion, and yellow eyes are cured by this remedy. It is called Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills, one for a dose, and is sold by druggists all over the U. S. for 25c per box.

He Could Be Wakened.

"So you are going to retire from politics?" "Yes," said the manly old lawyer. "I'm going to retire. But I'm not going to sleep so soundly that I can't be awakened."—Washington Star.

Cured Lumbago.

A. B. Cannon, Chicago, writes March 4, 1903: "Having been troubled with lumbago at different times and tried one physician after another, then different ointments and liniments, gave it up altogether. So I tried once more and got a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment, which gave me almost instant relief. I can cheerfully recommend it, and will add my name to your list of sufferers." Sold by D. J. Fry.

Electricians Hold Conference.

Baltimore, N. S., Jan. 18.—Hundreds of electricians of the maritime provinces are here to attend the annual conference of the Maritime Electrical Association, which opened here today.

All lumbagos of the electrical industry are represented. In connection with the meeting an exhibition will be held of electrical appliances and new inventions in the field of electricity, which is attracting considerable attention.

All Right Platform.

In Monday's Oregonian appears an editorial criticizing Toose, Huston and Toomey, for not including in their platforms the tariff, ship subsidy bill, Philippine question, etc.

In the long, handsome body of principles published by Mr. Toose—and the same may be said of the other candidates, as their platform is practically the same as his—no course our firmly regarding matters of local interest and vital importance to the people of this district. Now that he has fearlessly and frankly announced his stand upon the platform which is far the bestment of all Oregon, it is not likely that he has any reason for withholding his opinion upon the subjects which seem to interest the Oregonian just now.

When the proper time comes no doubt Mr. Toose will give expression with the same fearlessness as he did regarding the other points mentioned, and it is not likely that a man of good sound judgment, who has such interest in his country as is manifested in this platform will find reason to go wrong on the national issues. The electors, upon whom the candidates depend just now for their support, will naturally take more interest in matters close to them and are willing to depend upon the loyal citizenship of the candidates to work out the problem of national interest.

Mr. Toose has set the pace for Huston and Hawley, and in as much as there is no particular difference between the three platforms thus far the contest remains simply a personal matter between men. Since Mr. Toose has created the platform for himself to stand upon, and has raised no objection to the other candidates standing thereupon, it would seem that ordinary intelligence will dictate in the right manner at the primary election. The Woodburn candidate has been most foremost in all things, and it is no more than just to say that he is deserving of the support of the republican party. In his declaration of principles he has aimed at live issues, and there is not one principle embodied in this platform which will not reflect credit upon the candidate, and result in greater benefit for Oregon, if the people see fit to send him to Washington on these principles.

In addition to this it is understood that Mr. Toose stands unwaveringly for a strict adherence to all the provisions of the direct primary law, which places the power of government in the hands of the people, where it properly belongs, and we have noticed in particular the fact that he has at all times maintained this attitude against the desire of some leaders to evade some of its principles.
