GIVES GLORY TO BROWNELL

"An Admirer" writes the following florid and scintillating eulogy of George C. Brownell of Oregon City for the Baker City Herald:

At the falls of the Willamette, that lovely river softly calling to the sea immortalized by Simpson, lives one of the most unique, versatile, gentle, misquoted men in all the state of Oregon.

We refer to George C. Brownell. George C. is a remarkable human in every respect. Kicked, scorned, dynamited and shelled from the little pin-headed weeklies to the fierce fire of the great Oregonian's full dynamite batteries, he is still doing business at the old stand.

All the crimes on the political calendar have been laid at his door. All the batteries of hate and navy have emptied their arsenals at George C., with no avail. He still does business. How is it? Has he the power of Arbaeus, the Egyptian sorcerer, or is he in league with the descendants of the Witch of Endor.

Not at all, dear reader. George C. studies human nature and applies his talents to the poor people. His purse is their purse, their needs his specialty. Meek and mild in manner, wise as a serpent, harmless as a dove, George C., after he is smitten, comes nearer turning the other cheek than any man in Oregon. He has made more United States senators than any man in the state, and he it truthfully said, he always stuck out for the poor ones. Money is no object to George C., as he cannot keep it.

No appeal ever fell on deaf ears if it came to him and he could assist it. That is the secret of his success; his love for his fellow men. Clackamas county has often honored George C. with legislative honors, and he has earned them.

No county has a more faithful servant or one of more influence. Time and again different parties have sought his scalp, but the common people rallied around him and returned him to the senate, and they will do it again, and justly so, as he has served them faithfully and well.

George C. is as calm as an Egyptian sphynx, versatile as a flea on an Apache dog, as invulnerable to his enemies as Baroque's ghost, faithful to his friends as David was to Jonathan, an ornament to Clackamas county and the state of Oregon. Clackamas will make no mistake in returning him to the senate.

Pleasant and Most Effective

T. J. Chambers, editor Vindicator, Liberty, Texas, writes December 25, 1905:

"With pleasure and unhesitatingly I bear testimony to the curative power of Ballard's Horehound Syrup. I have used it and my family can cheerfully affirm it is the most effective and best remedy for coughs and colds I have ever used." Sold by D. J. Fry.

Excursions Every Hour.

In order to give the people of Salem an opportunity to see the beautiful country south of Salem, and to see the development being made by the company, the Citizens' Light & Traction Company will run excursion cars to the rock quarry, south of Odd Fellows' cemetery, leaving the Willamette hotel on even hours. Enjoy a pleasant ride, and see for yourself. 1t
