CHICAGO BEEF CASES

Chicago, Jan. 23.—United States Attorney Morrison this morning replied to the charges of bad faith made by packers against the government in the beef case. He declares the packers attempted to create prejudice against the prosecution so the verdict would shield the defendants. He denounced nothing but a fair trial, and a strict administration of the laws. The defendant's attorneys made objections to the ruling of the court, that after Morrison had made the statements calling the packers' lawyers guilty of bribery, the government be allowed the same latitude that had been given the defendants in making their opening statements. Morrison called his opposition corporation trust lawyers. The gist of the government's contention is the admissions upon which the indictments are based had not been made under oath, therefore the immunity laws are unapplicable. Morrison expressed the thought of immunity was an afterthought. Charge after charge was made by Morrison, and the court ruled it to be proper for him to prove. The defendants drew the prosecution's fire by objecting. Morrison said he would call his attorneys as witnesses to prove his contention.

TOBACCO FOR THE NAVY

Washington, D. C., Jan. 23.—For the first time in several years the navy department has this year been able to award its contracts for tobacco for the next fiscal year to a concern not identified with the so-called tobacco trust. Hitherto the prices of rival bidders have been such that the award of the contract had to be made to a firm believed to have been connected with the trust. Last year the contract was not awarded to the firm whose samples were considered the best, because the price demanded was too high, but this year the firm offering the best samples offered them at 35 cents a pound, which is considered a very reasonable price.

JOINT STATEHOOD

Washington, Jan. 23.—Hamilton, chairman of the committee on territories, submitted to the house a report of his committee favoring the admission of Oklahoma and Indian Territory as one, and Arizona and New Mexico as another state. The report of the minority, opposing statehood for Arizona and New Mexico, was presented, and a fight on the bill opens tomorrow. Republican insurgents joined with the Democrats and the Republican regulars. All profess confidence.

The majority report says the state of "Oklahoma" may be admitted as soon as a constitution is adopted. The state of "Arizona" may be admitted not earlier than seven and a half and not later than 11 months after the approval of this act. Each state shall be divided into two judicial districts, Oklahoma will be allowed five and Arizona two members of the national house. Proper provision is made for non-sectarian schools, and the teaching of English. The suffrage is well guarded, and a strong anti-polygamy clause is included. The new state to assume the debts of the territories. The capital of Oklahoma is fixed at Guthrie and of Arizona at Santa Fe until 1915, when capitals may be established by elections. In the constitutional convention of Oklahoma it is required to adopt a provision making Indian Territory prohibition.

GREAT RABBIT DRIVE

Arlington, Or., Jan. 23.—Hunters from Portland, Seattle, Tacoma, Spokane and Walla Walla have declared their intention of attending the big rabbit drive scheduled to take place at Blalock island, a few miles east of Arlington, on the Columbia river, February 9th. About 40 will go from Arlington, and the total number present is expected to be well up in the hundreds.

Blalock island was named for Dr. N. G. Blalock, of Walla Walla, and is five miles long by two and one-half wide. The hunters will meet at Coyote, a station on the O. R. & N. line, the morning of Friday, February 9th, and will cross to the island at daylight.

The hunting party will form on the lower end of the island, and at a given signal will start for the other end, driving the rabbits before them, and killing as many as possible on the way. Prizes will be given to the hunter securing the greatest number of scalps.

Rabbits on this island destroy much alfalfa and do great injury to trees and shrubbery. Three years ago a hunt was held and about 1500 rabbits killed in three days. They have again become a nuisance, and an effort will be made to completely exterminate them.

READY FOR BALL SEASON

(Four O'clock Edition.)
San Francisco, Jan. 23.—Directors of the Pacific coast baseball league met in regular annual session today, and representatives from all the cities in the league were present. Delegates from Sacramento and Fresno, who are seeking admission into the league, were also present. Bakersfield is also clamoring for a franchise. While the session was executive, sufficient information leaked out to lead to the belief that Tacoma will be dropped, and either Sacramento or Fresno taken in. The six club league will be continued. It is probable that at a private meeting this afternoon Jack Gleason will be chosen manager of the San Francisco club.

JOHNS-TOWN FLOOD

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 23.—The business portion of Johnstown, the famous flooded city, is again suffering from flood. Cellars under all the buildings in the business district are filled almost to the sidewalks, and much merchandise is ruined. The water is at a stage of 12 feet in the Conemaugh river, and if the rain continues as it has the past 18 hours a serious flood is likely to result. The people in the low lands in the outskirts were forced into the second floors or out of the district entirely. One street railway line has suspended. The lecture will be under the auspices of the Minnesota college, which has taken charge of all the preparations for the big event. The great traveller and explorer was received on his arrival by a delegation representing the city government, the Minnesota college, and every single Scandinavian society and club in this city. Besides that there were several hundred countrymen of Dr. Nordenkjold who, although unattached to any committee or delegation, came to give the traveller a hearty welcome. During his stay in this city Dr. Nordenkjold will be the guest at several receptions, banquets and other social functions arranged in his honor.

They are quartered at the Arlington hotel. They called upon Secretary Root this afternoon, and the department of war, navy and state. The committee of the house on interstate commerce postponed its vote on rate bills. Secretary Bonaparte sent this government's condolence to Brazil on the loss of its battleship. ## FRANCE AFTER CASTRO

Washington, Jan. 23.—France will blockade the Venezuelan coast. It is learned that these orders will be prepared at the naval office at Paris for the transmission of the squadron now in Caribbean waters.

Information comes from unquestioned diplomatic authority here that a blockade will be established within 10 days, as soon as a proper number of vessels can be assembled on the coast of Venezuela. France has three warships within a few days' sail of the coast, and two more are about to be sent from Europe. Although Germany, Great Britain and Italy have been informed of their decision, their permission to blockade the ports upon whose customs receipts they have a lien has not been asked nor will it be. France considers her political rights transcend the fiscal rights of other countries. The blockading will be done with the full consent of the United States. France may land troops as a "supplemental remedy."

BRIDEGROOM A WOMAN

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 23.—John Alaina Whitman and Miss Marietta Jelley, cashier in a restaurant, were married Friday at Independence by Justice H. P. Buchanan. The bride had a little money and some of her friends, who suspected Whitman's sincerity, caused his arrest Sunday. Yesterday at police headquarters it was learned that the "bridegroom" was a woman. The prisoner will be prosecuted for perjury, committed in obtaining the marriage license. "I am a woman, but I have dressed as a man for three years," said Whitman, when questioned in the presence of Chief Hayes. "I have worked as a man and lived as one. I married this girl as a matter of accommodation. She said she could not live without me. My real name is Pauline Webster."

Wagon loads of flowers and presents for the little miss arrived from all directions and even the employes and working people connected with the Sandy Point establishment did not neglect to send a token of their kind feelings for the little girl. Quite unconscious of her own importance Miss Cathleen graciously received the homage of her parents, grand parents and other relatives and enjoyed the good things which came to her, like any child less fortunately situated.
