

FACTS IN NATURE.

Not Only Do We Get Inspiration From Nature, But Health as Well.

For people who are run-down and nervous, who suffer from indigestion or dyspepsia, headache, biliousness, or torpid liver, coated tongue with bitter taste in the morning and poor appetite, it becomes necessary to turn to some tonic or strengthener which will assist Nature and help them to get on their feet and put the body into its proper condition. It is becoming more and more apparent that Nature's most valuable health-giving agents are to be found in forest plants and roots.

Salem is a progressive town. Sam Jones and Elbert Hubbard lectures don't go here. They could get so little assurance of a house they did not stop here.

If there are any street car lines, light or water plants in western Oregon that have't been sniped up by an eastern capitalist we haven't heard of it. Development develops.

Ashland Tribune: Make life's pathway easier and pleasanter by wearing Brown's Star-5-Star shoes for men and women and children. You can find them at the Racket Store.

Santiam News: For many years our legislative assemblies have been a delusion and a snare. It has, as a rule, done things the masses of the people did not want, and left undone the things that they wanted.

One candidate got mad because we told him that we believed in giving any public official who did reasonably well a re-nomination. Sorry, but if Billy Clarke were the state printer we'd ask the same thing for him.

Editor Daguer, Santiam News, on woman suffrage: "As the women get about everything that they seriously undertake to get, and they say they are very much in earnest this time, we, the men, might as well surrender unconditionally; for we will have to do so sooner or later."

Oregon City Courier: The public official who curruptly barries away the rights of those who have entrusted him with representative power is not fit to associate with highwaymen, thieves and robbers, for such association might tend to bring these to his miserable stage of degradation. But there is no doubt that many seek public preferment for no other purpose than to sell out to the highest bidder the rights of those whom they represent.

If Brother Lyon, of the Independence West Side, persists in his determination to support only those legislative candidates who sign the senatorial pledge, he may eventually find it necessary to become a candidate himself in order to carry out his cherished whim. From present prospects it doesn't seem probable that any Polk county candidate on either ticket will sign this unreasonable and impracticable pledge.—Polk County Observer.

Daily Register: Every little while a candidate floats into Eugene. Dr. Withercombe, who would give his best Jersey cow to get his feet into Mr. Chamberlain's shoes, was here yesterday. It's hard to understand how Mr. Withercombe expects support, when he is ready to state boldly and without reserve his opinion on any public question. If you want his views on any topic you can obtain them by asking for them. He is a man with opinions and, it is conceded, able ones. Perhaps after all, he is just the man who will emerge from the primary election with votes to spare. It would be no surprise. His canvass shows him to embody the principles for which the primary law was framed—declaration of principles; nothing is conceal.

JEWETT GETS CLEAR

Judge Burnett this morning sustained the demurrer to the indictment in the case of the State of Oregon vs. F. W. Jewett, in which the latter is charged with subornation of perjury in connection with the school land frauds. Jewett is the Minnesota capitalist who, it is alleged, secured possession of large tracts of school lands in this state by inducing Salem girls to make false affidavits in making their application to purchase land. He furnished all the money for making payments and as soon as they secured title to the land they assigned the certificates of sale to him. As the statute of limitations had run in the case, a new indictment could not be filed, so Prosecuting Attorney McNary at once served notice of appeal to the supreme court. No reasons were given for sustaining the demurrer, and McNary was chagrined, as he says that the case of the State vs. Jewett is a clear one, and he was sure that the indictment was perfect. He will rush the case before the supreme court and expects to have a hearing before that tribunal as it before the April term of the circuit court. The demurrer to the indictment, which was filed and argued by F. V. Holman and W. D. Penon, of Portland, and G. O. Bingham, of this city, com-

Help for Women Passing Through Change of Life

Providence has allotted us each at least seventy years in which to fulfill our mission in life, and it is generally our own fault if we die prematurely.

Mrs. Mary Koehne

Nervous exhaustion invites disease. This statement is the positive truth. When everything becomes a burden and you cannot walk a few blocks without excessive fatigue, and you break out into perspiration easily, and your face flushes, and you grow excited and shaky at the least provocation, and you cannot bear to be crossed in anything, you are in danger; your nerves have given out; you need building up at once! To build up woman's nervous system and during the period of change of life we know of no better medicine than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Here is an illustration. Mrs. Mary L. Koehne, 871 Garfield Avenue, Chicago, Ill., writes: "I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for years in my family and it never disappoints; so when I felt that I was nearing the change of life I commenced treatment with it. I took in all about six bottles and it did me a great deal of good. It stopped my dizzy spells, pains in my back and the headaches with which I had suffered for months before taking the Compound. I feel that if it had not been for this great medicine for women that I should not have been alive to-day. It is splendid for women, old or young, and will surely cure all female disorders." Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick and ailing women to write her for advice. Her great experience is at their service, free of cost.

STRAIN TOO GREAT.

Hundreds of Salem Readers Find It So.

The hustle and worry of business men. The hard work and stooping of workmen.

The woman's household cares. Are too great a strain on the kidneys. Backache, headache, dizziness, Kidney troubles, urinary troubles follow.

A Salem citizen tells you how to cure them all. Jacob E. McCay, bridge builder and contractor, residing on Capitol street, second house beyond Mill creek, says: "I have always enjoyed good health up to five or six years ago. Along about that time my kidneys commenced to bother me. There was not so much backache, but the principal symptoms were in connection with the kidney secretions. A strain or over-exertion very often caused hemorrhages of the kidneys. I cannot say that it was so painful, but it was very annoying. I used various remedies, and while some gave relief, others were worthless. In some way Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my notice, and when up town I dropped into Dr. Stone's Drug Store and procured a box, taking them as directed. A few doses gave very convincing proof that they were going to the right spot, and though I can't say they have cured me as I may never be cured, I can state that they gave me wonderful relief. I have a high opinion of Doan's Kidney's Pills and cheerfully recommend them."

Improve Summer Street.

A movement is started that will result in improving four blocks of summer street, from Court street north. The plan involves parking two blocks of the street, and paving one-third of the street, and paving one-third of the driveway and narrow enough so that a good pavement can be laid. This is national enough, and will make a beautiful roadway in the residence part of the city.

Cured Lumbago.

A. B. Cannon, Chicago, writes March 4, 1903, "Having been troubled with lumbago at different times and had one physician after another, then different ointments and liniments, gave it up altogether. So I tried one more and got a bottle of Ballard's Saw Liniment, which gave me almost instant relief. I can cheerfully recommend it, and will add my name to your list of sufferers." Sold by D. J.
