SOCIAL EVENTS

Former Salem Girl Weds.
 Friends in this city will be pleased to learn of the marriage of Miss Helen Bell, formerly of this city, to Mr. W.
 C. Boatman, which took place Wednesday, January 24, at the Presbyterian church in Enterprise.
 Miss Bell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Bell, who for many years resided here, and who, since their removal from this city, often visited her, the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Geo.
 Barnett. Miss Bell is very popular with her friends at Enterprise and in this city, who join in congratulations.
 Mr. Boatman is deputy county clerk of Wallowa county, and formerly resided in Polk county.

Entertained Friends.
 Misses Matilda and Mary Eckerlen entertained a few friends Saturday evening for Miss Anna Brinkley, a student of the Sacred Heart Academy, who spent the week's end as their guest. "Five hundred" was the amusement of the evening, in which Besale Schultz won the first prize and Olive Mitchell the consolation. Light refreshments were served.

Susan is Still in the Ring.
 About the suffrage campaign. Susan B. Anthony has just donated one hundred dollars from her personal funds to help on the good work in Oregon. The suffrage association, by the way, is working as it never worked before. And yet it is hardly probable they will win at the county election.

Killed Two Swans.
 James P. Feller and Ralph Cone this week shot two large swans on Mr. Feller's field. The largest one measured 7 feet and 10 inches from tip to tip, 5 feet and 9 inches from head to foot, and weighed 18 pounds. The other one measured 6 feet and 8 inches from tip to tip, 4 feet and 9 inches from head to foot, and weighed 16 pounds. Mr.
 Feller intends to have the birds mounted. Swans are rare in this section, and the two that were brought to town attracted much attention.—Aurora Bore-

FEAR HIGH WATER

Already some of the papers of Eastern Oregon are predicting extreme high water in the Columbia next summer, on account of the unusually heavy snows. They point out that in 1894 there was a tremendous snow fall, not only in the country drained by the Columbia, but also in that drained by the Snake. As a matter of fact no one can predict anything about the Columbia river. In 1900 there was as heavy, if not a heavier, snowfall on the headwaters of both rivers, but the high water mark was scarcely above the average, though the river maintained a high stage much longer than usual. In order to have extreme high water in the Columbia, its flood must come at the same time as that of the Snake. A glance at the map will show that the Snake heads a thousand miles south of the Columbia. Its flood period is earlier, and generally it begins to fall as the Columbia rises. Both streams must rise together, or no flood in the lower or middle river. That is what happened in 1894, the record flood year. The spring was cold and backward, and when it did turn warm both streams rose together. In 1900 the summer was cool. In the Greenhorn it snowed every month in the year, and the 22d of August there was a four-inch snowfall that stayed on the hillsides for three days. There is undoubtedly snow enough in the mountains to cause a great flood, but with over a thousand miles of latitude between the headwaters of the two main streams, there is little likelihood of their rising at the same time.

A Famous Remedy for Sick Headache.
 The cause of this complaint is not in the head at all; it comes from the stomach. A stomach that has become clogged by overeating, drinking or abuse in any manner, will warn you by bringing on sick headache. Cure the pain and distress in the stomach and the headache will stop of itself. All bilious attacks, dyspepsia, belching, bad taste in the mouth, muggy complexion, and yellow eyes are cured by this remedy. It is called Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills, one for a dose, and is sold by druggists all over the U. S. for 25c per box.

THE HOP GROWERS ORGANIZE

The hop growers of this vicinity held a meeting in this city Saturday afternoon and perfected an organization. A constitution and by-laws were adopted and arrangements made for the incorporation of the organization. The name selected for the corporation is the Oregon Hopgrowers' Association. The capital stock was fixed at $10,000, divided into 10,000 shares of $1 each. It is provided that at each member must own at least one share and may not own more than one share for each acre of land he has planted to hops. No one will be permitted to own stock in the corporation unless he is actively engaged in the production of hops. There was a large attendance at the meeting, and, in the absence of J. K. Sears, who was chosen temporary chairman some time ago, H. C. Fletcher was appointed to preside at the meeting. John Coleman was also elected to act as secretary. After the adoption of the constitution and by-laws it was ordered that copies be prepared for circulation, so that growers may subscribe for stock. Another meeting will be held February 10th, in this city, at which time those who have subscribed for stock will complete the organization by electing officers. The officers will be a president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer and nine directors. The directors will have general charge of the business of the association. One of the principal purposes is to establish a bureau of information.

The directors will be intrusted with the work of organizing the information bureau and employing a manager. Another purpose of the association is to secure the enactment of pure food laws, which will prevent the use of substitutes for hops in the manufacture of beer.

BEN BLAIR

THIS is a picture of the young ranchman who came out of the West—like another Lochinvar—after the girl he loved.
 He looks as if nothing could stop him—which is the quality that we like best in the hero of a story, after all.

"Ben Blair" is making a tremendous stir. Five editions—thirty thousand copies—have been printed.
 Nothing more vigorous, fresh, and exciting, or more Western has been published in years. Ask your bookseller if this is not so.
