High School.

The class of beginners was required to take an examination in grammar yesterday. There were too many for one teacher to handle, so they were divided into two sections, one managed by Mr. Marlatt and the other by Miss Richards. The examination was at 10:30.

The beginning algebra class also is too large for one division, so it also was divided. It will meet for the second period in the afternoon.

The students are all required to take classics different from those of last term. The number of classics taken during the high school course is eight. Two each year. No credit is given for the work, but it is required as a part of the English course. The books are ordered in large lots by the district, and sold to the students for 10 cents each. Some of the older students have finished their eight and do not have to take classics this term.

A number of students come from too great a distance to go home for lunch, and so lunch in the building. They are required to eat in the class rooms, the boys in Mr. Smith's and the girls in Miss Swafford's. Yesterday 24 of the boys were assembled

A Doctor's Medicine

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is not a simple cough syrup. It is a strong medicine, a doctor's medicine. It cures hard cases, severe and desperate cases. Especially good in bronchitis, pleurisy, consumption. Ask your doctor all about this.

under the care of Mr. Smith at noon, and the fun and jokes were plentiful.

The Demosthenes society has its regular meeting yesterday evening. A goodly number of members were present. A plea for getting up a contest in the society was considered and adopted. The society, all but a committee consisting of Harvey, Slater, Bess Harding, Mabel Magness, Orpha Bell and Veri Good, is to be divided into two sides, and the rivalry shall be along the lines of debating, securing new members and giving programs. The captives are Perry Reigleman and Marguerite Mers. The duty of the committee mentioned is to consider the names presented for membership and decide as to their eligibility. The losing side is to give an evening's entertainment to the victors.

After the regular order of business was dispensed with, the following program was given: "A Talk on Harvesting Machinery," by Glen Cooper; "How We Play Baseball," by Veri Good; "The Humorous Side of Flirting," by Harvey Slater; "The Bicycle," by Bess Harding; "The Phonograph," by Mabel Magness; a song, by the Misses Bell and Mers, and "Talk on Poetry," by Perry Reigleman. Four new names were voted in, and the society closed one of its most interesting sessions.

A very interesting paper was read to the American history class yesterday, on "Internal Improvements," by Crisale Clark. Probably there is less change in the American history class than any other in the school this term. Only one member, William Perkins, dropped out, and one new one, Rea Utter, started in. So that the class is practically as it was last term.

Dr. Eppley met his music class yesterday at 12:40. There are between 65 and 70 students taking the work. He had a quiet room to work in, owing to the instructions of Mr. Marlatt, who charged all that were not taking the work to remain on the lower floor and not collect in the hallway at the rear of the assembly room, and not to keep up a confusion, as they had done before.

Floyd Utter performed the experiment for the botany class yesterday

It is to prove the giving off of moisture by a plant. The class experiments are all performed by the students to familiarize them as much as possible with that kind of work. Two of the old students, who dropped out of botany last term, returned to resume the work. They are Edna Montgomery and Meuric Roberts.

Miss Nellie Sykes, who has been absent on account of trouble with her eyes, has returned to school.

The students are beginning to use the library to a considerable extent. It probably will be necessary for more chairs to be placed there for their accommodations.

Placing Memorial Tablets.

Santiago, Cuba, Feb. 14.—Hundreds of American residents of Havana and other cities of Cuba are in this city today to witness the memorial exercises on the battlefields in this vicinity, which will be held under the auspices of the Santiago battlefield commission. The commission arrived here a few days ago and had everything prepared for the unveiling of the various tablets and monuments today. Among the historic spots thus marked are El Caney, Fort San Juan, San Juan Ridge and San Juan de Mayaras Hill and Kettle Hill. At the unveiling ceremonies the governments of the United States and of Cuba, the United States army and
