SOCIALIST PLATFORM

The committee on resolutions at the Marion county Socialist convention, held in Salem, March 3d, introduced the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the Socialist party of Marion county, Oregon, in convention assembled, heartily endorses the platform adopted by the national Socialist party, at Chicago, May 5, 1904.

Resolved, That the safety of our country depends upon the intelligence of its people, therefore we urge the officers of this state to guard zealously all of the state school lands and funds for the education of our children.

Resolved, That the Socialists of Marion county are in favor of taxing all non-resident railroad and corporate lands the same as resident improved lands. As they secure the benefits of other people's labor, let them pay their full share of taxation.

Whereas, The education of 90 per cent of our children is limited to our common schools, be it

Resolved, That the standard of our common schools be raised to the tenth grade and state support for not more than one normal school be allowed.

Resolved, That we demand equal political privileges and industrial opportunities for all citizens of this state. And in furtherance of this principle we pledge our members to use all honorable efforts to secure the passage of pending constitutional amendment for the enfranchisement of the women of this state.

We regret to learn that a few misguided women of Portland are using their influence to defeat the amendment to enfranchise themselves and their sisters, yet we remember that there were Tories during the crucial period of our revolution, and that occasionally there was a slave who hugged his chains in spite of the emancipation proclamation of the immortal Lincoln. We feel like throwing the mantle of charity over the authors of this misguided movement.

Resolved, That, realizing the importance of propaganda work, we urge all Socialists to use their utmost endeavors to spread the gospel of socialism.

Resolved, That we extend a vote of thanks to the ladies of the G. A. R. for their splendid dinner and entertainment.

The following resolution was introduced by Comrade B. F. Ramp, and was duly passed:

Resolved, That we, the Socialists of Marion county, Oregon, favor the election of all servants of the people, as far as possible, instead of appointment, as now practiced in appointment of road supervisors.

Gives Health, Vigor and Tone.
 Herbine is a boon for sufferers from anaemia. By its use the blood is quickly regenerated and the color becomes normal. The drooping strength is revived. The languor is diminished. Health, vigor and tone predominate. New life and happy activity results. Mrs. Belle H. Shriel, Middleborough, Ill., writes: I have been troubled with liver complaint and poor blood, and have found nothing to benefit me like Herbine. I hope never to be without it. I have wished that I had known of it in my husband's life time. 50c. For sale by D. J. Fry.

HAS A GOOD TEAM

Manager Medcalf, of the University baseball team, has practically completed a schedule of games, which promises a brilliant season for the collegiate baseball toasters. Most of the games will be played on the local diamond with the following teams: University of Idaho, Agricultural College, University of Oregon, Columbia University, Chemawa and Mt. Angel College. Return games will be played at Eugene, Portland and Chemawa.

Moreover, plans are being perfected for a trip north. The teams with which games are to be played are: Whitworth College, in Tacoma; University of Washington, at Seattle, and the famous Victoria Athletic Club, in Victoria, B. C.

Other state colleges have written for games, but nothing definite has been reached. Willamette proposes to put out this year the swiftest bunch of baseball men it has ever mustered. There appears to be much material, and, with the wedding process, a strong team will be the result.

THAT FLOATING BARREL.
 B. H. Baker, of Hecta Head, Will Sell His Find.

B. H. Baker, of Hecta Head, who picked up a barrel of whisky on the beach near his ranch a couple of weeks ago, was in this city Tuesday, en route home from Albany, where he had been getting a government license in order to dispose of it legally. The whisky had evidently been drifting about in the ocean for a long time, as the barrel was covered for four or five inches deep with barnacles. The liquor, on being sampled, proved to be very fine quality. We understand that Mr. Barker has it all spoken for at the rate of $6 per gallon, which will net him about $360. Quite a nice pick-up.—Newport News.

The Average Man.
 The average man is the man of the mill.
 The man of the valley, or man of the hill.
 The man at the throttle, the man at the plow—
 The man with the sweat of his brow on his brow,
 Who brings into being the dreams of the few,
 Who works for himself, and for me and for you.
 There is not a purpose, a project or plan
 But rests on the strength of the average man.

The growth of a city, the might of a land;
 Depend on the fruit of the toll of his hand.
 The road or the wall, or the mill or the mart,
 Call daily to him that he furnish his part;
 The pride of the great and the hope of the low,
 The toll of the tide as it ebbs and flows,
 The reach of the rails and the countries they span
 Tell what is the trust in the average man.

The man who, perchance, thinks he labors alone,
 The man who stands out between hovel and throne,
 The man who gives freely his brain and his brawn
 Is the man that the world has been bullded upon.
 The clang of the hammer, the sweep of the saw,
 The flash of the forge—they have strengthened the law.
 They have rebuilt the realms that the wars overran,
 They have shown us the worth of the average man.

So here's to the average man—to the one
 Who has labored unknown on the tasks he has done,
 Who has met as they came all the problems of life,
 Who has helped us to win in the stress and the strife,
 He has bent to his toll thinking neither of fame
 Nor of tribute, nor honor, nor prize, nor acclaim—
 In the forefront of progress, since progress began—
 Here's a health and a hail to the average man!

A GOOD DRESSER

A good dresser wants life in his clothes. Lots of men wear "dead" clothes and don't know it. The life of a suit is that dash in the cut, curves and kinks of its make-up that at once stamps its wearer as a well dressed man.

Our Suits Are Full of Life

We charge no more for our suit excellence than other clothiers charge for "just clothes."
 The tailoring and fabric in black worsted and blue serge suits must be first-class in every detail.

Our spring suits in blacks and blues are now here, and they are perfect beauties. We shall be pleased to assist you in making a selection, and we will be looking for you every day now. Everything in Men's Furnishings to go with the suit.

DRANK POISONED WHISKEY

Three girls, two from Portland and one from Vancouver, narrowly escaped death by poison in a drinking bout with four young men in the Grotto saloon, at Vancouver Thursday night.

The poison threw the girls into violent convulsions almost immediately. It was either in the whisky they were drinking, or in the celery and iron biters they took for "chasers," but whether it was placed in the liquor by their companions for the purpose of "doping" the girls, or by one of the girls with suicidal intent, has not been definitely ascertained. All three girls are under care of physicians, and one of them is reported dangerously ill.

The young women, Stella Martin, a Vancouver waitress; Mabel Bronson and Pearl Madison, of Portland, were in the Grotto saloon with four young men, one of them was Adolph Olson, of Yacont. The others are strangers. All were drinking whisky. About 9:30 p. m. one of the girls, Stella Martin, was seized with violent cramps, the first symptoms of poisoning, and Dr. Wall was called. After the Martin girl was taken out the Bronson girl was seized with cramps and Dr. Chalmers was summoned. By the time he arrived the third was suddenly taken ill.

The Madison girl is in a serious condition, and is being treated in the Quimby lodging house, at Vancouver.

The theory is that poisoning was due to an overdose of "dope," put in the liquor by the young men, but it is possible, as stated, that one of the girls drugged the liquor herself with suicidal intent. The latter solution of the case is advanced by the police, who are making a thorough investigation, but have not been able to form a definite conclusion.

From one of the girls it is learned that Miss Bronson has been employed as a nurse in a Portland foundling asylum. Inquiry at the Baby Home develops that there is a nurse in the employ of that institution under the name of Bronson, and, when questioned concerning her, Mrs. Jennie Blackhall, the matron, said:

"Mary Bronson, the name by which she is known here, has been engaged as a nurse for the past two months. All that I know is that she came here from Los Angeles, or some other California city, and her relatives reside here.

"She has not been at the home since yesterday, and I do not know where she is today. Yes, I did hear that she was ill and at a hospital, but I have not heard directly from her, and know nothing about her, aside from what I have told you."

The Woman in the Case.
 The Hillsboro Independent says: "The women of Oregon certainly have a hard fight before them in their contest for equal suffrage, and if they win, they must get a majority over all the votes cast. Consequently the fight is not a fair one, for if a man neglects to vote on the amendment at all, he does in reality vote against it. And for this reason, if for no other, it is unfair for any candidate out for a nomination for any office to make the opposition to woman's suffrage a part of his canvass. Besides being ungentlemanly, it is not 'a square deal,' and the candidate that persists in doing so will find out that he is making a grave mistake for himself. Most of the country newspapers in Oregon are with the women in this movement, but they are not, and will not, take an active part so long as the candidate keep their hands off. But if they use the suffrage question as a part of their campaign thunder, it is liable to be followed by some very vivid lightning. The women have the amendment before the people and it's up to the voters to decide the question. The office seeker will do well to keep mum."

The Colonel's Wasseroo.
 Colonel John M. Fuller, of Honey Grove, Texas, nearly met his Waterloo from Liver and Kidney trouble. In a recent letter he says: "I was nearly dead of these complaints, and, although I tried my family doctor, he did me no good; so I got a 50c bottle of your great Electric Bitters, which cured me. I consider them the best medicine on earth, and thank God who gave you the knowledge to make them." Sold, and guaranteed to cure, Dyspepsia, Biliousness and Kidney Disease, by J. C. Perry, druggist, at 50c a bottle.
