EAST LYNNE TONIGHT

One of Ouida's very best novels, "Moths," is the foundation for the dramatized version, "The Wronged Wife." This strong play was presented by the New York Empire Company last night to an audience that heartily enjoyed both the fine acting and the splendid play. Miss Roujéro, though her talents are known and appreciated, displayed unsuspected strength, that not only pleased the audience, but caused her admirers to grow enthusiastic. Miss Elsie Graham also showed tact and talent, carrying her role in splendid style—and in winning new laurels. Frank Clayton was exceptionally good, but this might be said of all the company. Tonight the old standard play, one that has stood more wear and tear than any other, and one that is always acceptable, "East Lynn," will be presented. There are few plays that have ever caught the popular fancy as this one—full of pathos, with intensely dramatic situations, it has always been a favorite, and will, no doubt tonight, as presented by the Empire Company, stir the feelings and sympathies of all.

Popular prices, popular plays and talented people is a combination that is bound to please.

DIED.
MORSE.—At the Salem Hospital on Wednesday, March 7, 1906, of peritonitis, Mrs. Ethel Cusick-Morse, wife of Dr. Willis B. Morse, aged 34 years.

Ethel E. Cusick was born at the old town of Wacoona, near Gervais, in this county, on August 10, 1871, and was the only child of Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Cusick. While she was very young the family moved to Salem, where the balance of her life was spent. Being the only child, she was the constant companion of her mother and father, their great joy and object of devotion. In their advanced years the grief of such a separation is beyond the power of others to appreciate.

On January 19, 1899, she became the wife of Dr. Willis B. Morse, of this city, and their married life has been an ideal one. They have made their home with Dr. and Mrs. Cusick, so that the parental ties were not severed until death came so unexpectedly.

One week ago Mrs. Morse was taken sick, and on Saturday her condition became serious, and she was taken to the hospital. Since that time her husband scarcely left her side, taking neither rest nor sleep, and every aid that medical science could suggest was given, but without avail. The babe was born on Monday, but gave up its life at the same time, and was buried on Tuesday. Wednesday Mrs. Morse revived some, and there were hopes that the favorable turn would be permanent, but peritonitis set in, she passing away at 2:30.

The funeral will be held from the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Cusick, on Commercial street, Friday at 1 p. m., Rev. P. S. Knight conducting the service. Burial at Rural cemetery.

In the death of Mrs. Morse Salem has lost one of its brightest women and loveliest characters. She was regarded as a social leader, and for charming disposition and kindness of heart she had few equals. Her place can never be filled in the family circle, and all who know her will always remember her with pleasure, and regret her untimely departure.

Florence Sorder.

The funeral of Florence Sorder, preached by Rev. Mr. Norton, of Stayton, took place March 4th, at 2 p. m., in the Pleasant Grove church, interment being in the cemetery near by. The pallbearers were Messrs. Harry and Roy Porter, Frank and Bert Neal, Lorenzo Ashford and Everett Condit.

Florence was born in Oregon June 17, 1885, and died March 2, 1906, being 19 years, 8 months and 15 days old. A life only begun, yet a character truly beautiful and dutiful. Feet ever swift, hands constantly ready, heart always willing to participate in the good of life, recognizing her true field of labor to be the neediest place in which she could render services.

When greeted with words of welcome by her Sunday school classmates, after a few weeks' absence, just prior to her sickness, her reply was: "I am glad to return to you all again."

It is said "music breathes forth the atmosphere of the soul." During the first few days as Florence lay on her sick bed, which began with the new year in a siege of pneumonia, her book lay open on her organ, as she had last used it, showing forth the words, "Where He Leads I'll Follow." In her sickness, as in health, she seemed to be seeking how to journey through the ways of time, and yet breathe the air of eternity.

The overcrowded church and mound heaped with floral offerings, as a final tribute, bespoke the high esteem of Florence Sorder, when her spirit, which loving hand would have yet caged, had freed itself of bondage, and flown into the beyond. A. E.

Corbin Comes Home.

San Francisco, March 8.—The steamship Corea arrived this morning from the Orient. She brought General Corbin, who is retiring from duty in the Philippines.

San Francisco, March 8.—"If they are to have American missionaries in China we must have troops to protect them. Recent rioting, as I understand it, has been committed by river pirates and, although trouble is bound to come in the Orient, I anticipate nothing of a warlike nature. There is absolutely no foundation for the sensational reports of war in China, and the boycott on American goods is rapidly adjusting itself, and is now practically stopped."

This statement was made by Major-General Corbin on the deck of the Pacific Mail liner Korea, which arrived from the Orient this morning. The general has been in fine health since relieved by General Leonard Wood, and

DR. JAMES WITHYCOMBE

Candidate for the Republican Nomination for Governor.

I, James Withycombe, reside at Corvallis, Benton county, Oregon, and my postoffice address is "Corvallis, Oregon." I am a duly registered member of the Republican party. If I am nominated for the office of Governor, at the primary nominating election to be held in the State of Oregon the 20th day of April, 1906, I will accept the nomination, and will not withdraw, and if I am elected I will qualify as such officer.

If I am nominated and elected I will, during my term of office, advocate and support:

Taxation of franchises and gross earnings tax on telegraph, telephone express and sleeping car corporations.

Uniform assessment and taxation of railroads.

State regulation and examination of state and private banks, trust companies and savings banks.

Protection of the state in its ownership of public lands.

A board of control for state institutions.

One board for management of normal schools.

Improvement of the Columbia and Willamette rivers and coast seaports.

National ownership of the Oregon City locks.

Constitutional amendment permitting the governor or people to veto individual items of appropriations.

An honest and fearless performance of public duty.

JAMES WITHYCOMBE

is en route East to succeed General Bates as chief of staff.

"It was at my request that troops have been hurried to the Philippines in anticipation of trouble in China. It is better to be prepared for all emergencies, and this country is taking no chances. All the great powers have troops in the celestial kingdom, and there is no reason why the United States should not. These troops are to prevent trouble, not to foment it. There is absolutely no foundation for the statement that Japan is in a fair way toward becoming owner of the Philippines. The United States will turn the Philippines over to Japan when England turns Hong Kong over to China. The government of China is making no effort to protect lives or property of foreigners, notwithstanding the general distrust of the people against the missionaries. The feeling is as intense against the Germans and English as against the Americans."

Regarding conditions in the Philippines, Corbin stated that they never had been better.

"I have broke up entirely and destroyed the organized bodies of Ladrones. Only one leader, Montalvo, of the Ladrones remains, and he is seeking escape by way of the hills."

The Dock Dewey.

Washington, March 8.—Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte, has been notified by Commander Hosley, commanding the fleet escorting the dock Dewey, who says the repairs of the dock at Las Palmas, Canary Islands, will be completed, and the craft will probably sail March 12th. The Tacoma, which took the machinery to Hosley, has rejoined Sigbee's fleet in the Mediterranean. Sigbee's fleet divided at Alexandria, part going to the Philippines, and the remainder home.

Hearst Stirs Up Trouble.

Albany, N. Y., March 8.—The legislature today demanded the attorney-general inform it as to the possibility of recounting the ballots in the recent mayoralty election in New York City.

Figure It Out

Did you ever stop to consider the MONEY VALUE of the energy you waste?

Man	5 ft
Bicycle	17
Racycle	21

Here's a simple but mighty convincing illustration. A man in walking two steps goes five feet; on an ordinary bicycle he covers 17 feet in one pedal revolution, but on a standard geared Racycle 21 feet is what he covers with one pedal turn. Ride a Racycle, and store your power. Come in and see us, and we will be glad to explain WHY the Racycle pushes further and faster than any bicycle.
