GREAT LEADER IS GONE

Susan B. Anthony Passes Away at Early Hour This Morning

Rochester, March 13.—(Tuesday)—The long and eventful life of Susan B. Anthony closed at 12:40 o'clock this morning. The end came peacefully. Miss Anthony had been unconscious practically for 24 hours, and death was momentarily expected since Sunday night. Only her wonderful constitution kept her alive.

Dr. M. S. Ricker, the attending physician, said Miss Anthony died of heart failure and double pneumonia. She had serious valvular heart trouble for the last six or seven years. Her lungs were practically closed and pneumonia had yielded to treatment, but weakness of the heart prevented recovery.

Portland, Or., March 13.—Equal suffrage headquarters has received the following from Rochester: "To women of Oregon: Our leader has just passed on. Make Oregon's freedom for woman a corner stone of her monument. Anna H. Shaw."

Dewey is Crushed.
(Four O'Clock Edition.)

New York, March 13.—A friend of Dewey this afternoon admitted the senator was at home and sick in bed. He is in no immediate danger. It is unlikely that he will return to the senate, as he is crushed by his reception there.

FOUGHT LIKE FANATICS

Women Fought by the Side of Warriors and Used Children as Shields

Mazda, March 13.—General Wood, who has returned to Jolo, said today that women and children were killed in the battle, which was regretted, but unavoidable, as the women were fighting beside the warriors, the children being used as shields. He said the natives fought like fanatics, jumping over the sides of the mountain into the ranks of the soldiers and hauling the men down with them. Most of the injuries to the troops were caused by spears and knives. The wounded natives fought the surgeons after they were on the operating tables.

WHIPPED SPANISH DEPUTY

Madrid, March 13.—A nephew of General Rivera, former commander of the Spanish troops in the Philippines, today attacked savagely Deputy Solano, for criticizing the acts of the generals in Cuba and the Philippines. Solano was knocked down and two teeth lost. General Weyler, after the attack on Solano, said he would take the defense into his own hands. Linares and other threatened to resign if the government did not defend their honor.

FUTURE OF ALASKA INDIANS

D. B. Jarvis Says They Are Drinking Less "Hooch" and so Improving

Washington, March 13.—There's a great future ahead for the Alaskan Indians if Lieutenant D. H. Jarvis is any prophet. Jarvis is the man who last week declined the governorship of our arctic province. He probably knows more about the real conditions in Alaska than any other man. He was the hero who led the relief expedition to the whalers imprisoned by the ice at Point Barrow, and for years has been President Roosevelt's chief adviser as to appointments and policies for the territory.

"We don't need the Chinese in Alaska," said Lieutenant Jarvis. "The natives make just as good workmen for any purpose as could be desired. All they need is competent training and decent conditions of environment. In disposition they are superior to the negroes, and when guided right are more industrious. They have the negro's failing for spending money, however, and are inclined to the excessive use of intoxicants. But these traits are found in all aboriginal races. Down in the southeastern districts of the territory, where the Alaskans have a longer acquaintance with progressive whites, you find them progressing rapidly. The majority of them down there have learned to use intoxicants with moderation. The greatest foe that the Alaskan Indian has to contend with now is consumption. Like the red men and blacks, the Alaskans easily fall victims to the great white plague. I hope to see the Marine hospital service establish sanitariums for the natives and have suggested the idea to the president, and he has promised to recommend the plan. At present if a native contracts tuberculosis he is doomed, and, as he has no place where he can go away from the rest of his fellows, he becomes a menace to the community."

SAND STOPS MANY TRAINS.

Track Between Wallula and The Dalles Covered in Spots.

Umatilla, Or., March 13.—Between Wallula, Wash., and The Dalles, a terrific sand storm is blowing. Yesterday six passengers were stalled between those places, Spokane trains being taken off. No. 6, eastbound, was the first passenger to break through, arriving here at 11 o'clock last night, 18 hours late. She was 24 hours coming from The Dalles to Pendleton. The next train carried a carload of Japs to shovel sand from the track. A down-stream wind causes drifts in unusual places all along the line. They are worst near Briggs and Grant.

Conductor Allison, of No. 6, declares it is the worst storm during the 18 years he has been on the road.

To Stop Contributions.

(Four O'Clock Edition.)

Washington, March 13.—The committee on banking is to report a bill specifically prohibiting political contributions by national banks, and declaring the officers of banks so doing guilty of a felony. Tillman offered the committee the names of several banks in one city which he alleged contributed, and also declared Rothschild and other Europeans interested in the maintenance of the gold standard in this country contributed in 1896.

Negotiations All Off.

(Four O'Clock Edition.)

Salt Lake, March 13.—Negotiations that have been pending for many months over a $40,000,000 merger of Utah copper and Boston mines, at Bingham, Utah, have been suspended. There is a wide difference of opinion between the Guggenheims, Samuel Newhouse and the others gathered here to negotiate the merger, and the prospect is that it will never be consummated.

She Shock the Prophet.

Chicago, March 13.—It is reported this afternoon that Mrs. Dowle told a friend that she and the apostle had separated permanently, and the wife has cast her lot with the new regime of Zion City.

The Ladies of St. Paul's Parish will hold a cooked food sale at Putnam's drug store Saturday, March 17th, beginning at 10 o'clock.

SWIPED GUNNER GUNDERLOS

Whaling Captain Shanghai's One of Uncle Sam's Able Bodied Seamen

Washington, March 13.—From far-off Alaska comes a remarkable letter to the bureau of navigation of the navy department. It was written by Gunner Thomas Gunderlos, who makes serious charges against the captain of the whaler Jonette. It seems that while Gunderlos was enjoying a little mental obscurity in San Francisco, the crew of the Jonette shanghaied him and carried him to Alaskan waters.

When he recovered his senses he indignantly told the captain of the whaler that he was a gunner on the United States battleship Ohio, to which the captain is said to have replied, "Very good; we are in need of just such a man."

The bureau of navigation has looked into the matter and believes the statements made by Gunderlos are true, and the revenue cutter service has been asked to look out for the Jonette. The man has a most excellent record during his long service in the navy, and his mysterious disappearance from San Francisco could not be accounted for by his officers and mates.

STANDARD BRIBED CLERKS

(Four O'Clock Edition.)

Kansas City, March 13.—The interstate commerce commission continued its inquiry into the freight rates in the oil district. Witness E. L. Wilhoyt, district agent for the Standard, told how he and others in like positions, paid railroad clerks to give details of the independent refinery, written on plain paper and unsigned. He said the Standard kept track of every independent shipment from refinery to consumer.

Southern Pacific Wreck.

(Four O'Clock Edition.)

Los Angeles, March 13.—Six were slightly injured in a wreck, the result of a washout on the Southern Pacific near Burbank, at 1:30 this morning. The entire train, with the exception of a chair car, was derailed.

Engineer Edmund Rynard was scalded. The injured are: James T. Lyons, dining car chef, head injured; Charles Nye, San Francisco, express messenger, bruised; Frank Gowing, fireman; M. M. Meiger, Pasadena, and F. C. Kenokopov, Santa Barbara.

Moved to Jail.

(Four O'Clock Edition.)

Boise, Idaho, March 13.—President Moyer, Secretary Haywood and George A. Pettibone were taken from the penitentiary and removed to Canyon county jail, at Caldwell, this morning. The change was made on the demand of the prisoners. The jail is a small affair, unsanitary and unsafe. It has but four cells, and there are now 14 prisoners, who are compelled to do their own cooking. Probably the governor will be asked to call out the militia to guard the jail.

Condemn the Governors.

(Four O'Clock Edition.)

Ogden, Utah, March 13.—The Ogden trade labor assembly, last night, adopted resolutions condemning Governor Gooding, of Idaho, and Peabody, of Colorado, for the arrest of Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone, and voted money for their defense.

To Protect Girls.

(Four O'Clock Edition.)

Des Moines, Ia., March 13.—Both houses have passed the child labor bill, prohibiting children under 18 years of age being employed at injurious labor of any kind. It prohibits the employment of cash girls in department stores.

Fishermen Murdered.

(Four O'Clock Edition.)

Alton, Ill., March 13.—Fred Kemp and a man by the name of King, fishermen, were found murdered by a shotgun this afternoon, eight miles south of this city. A third fisherman has disappeared.

MOODY WILL SPEAK

Decides to Make the Argument in the Chicago Packers' Case

Chicago, March 13.—Attorney-General Moody this morning for the first time said he would make an argument in the packers' immunity trial. He said: "I will reserve my comment on the relations of yesterday's supreme court decisions in the tobacco and pepper trust cases to the pending beef cases for my argument here later. The decisions apparently open up many avenues seemingly closed before." The packers' attorneys don't regard the decisions adverse to their contentions.

WHITE GIRLS KILLED

(Four O'Clock Edition.)

New York, March 13.—The result of a raid today was the arrest of five inmates of a resort, and the police think they have secured information as to the fate of a white girl alleged to have been murdered in a den kept by a negro politician named Robert Spriggs, who is under arrest. It is known that two girls were beaten to death, and it is almost certain there are other victims. Each hour, as one result of the Chicago case, is the revealing of cases of women and girls being kidnaped and forced into lives of shame in a manner beyond belief, according to the statements of the police.

CHUCKS COUNT BONI

Paris, March 13.—The Countess Castellana, accompanied by her lawyer, appeared personally in court today and asked permission to amend her application for a separation so the decree will give her an absolute divorce. She asked for a separate domicile, and the custody of her children, pending the final decision.

The Dewey All Right.

Norfolk, Va., March 13.—Captain Wood, commanding the dock Dewey, writes that in a storm the Dewey was the "best ship in the fleet, and only rolled five degrees." He does not fear the Indian ocean monsoons, and declares the dock is certain to reach the Philippines safely.

Pitchfork Pitches.

Washington, March 13.—Tillman expects to present a report on the Hepburn bill Thursday. It will contain 5000 words. Democrats are trying to arrange a conference on the matter. Speeches were made this afternoon on the general subject of rebate regulations.

More About Rate Bill.

Washington, March 13.—Senator Scott introduced an amendment to the rate bill, providing for an interchange of cars on various lines. Court review is provided.

SALT LAKE STORM

Blizzard Visits Mormondom and Stirs Things up for Latter Day Saints

Salt Lake, Utah, March 13.—There was a terrific storm last night, which did extensive damage, and trees and wires were blown down. Store fronts were blown in, and the power plants all damaged. It commenced to thunder after midnight. The storm began with hail and rain, which turned to snow. This morning it is 12 inches deep, and still snowing.

STARTS FROM SEATTLE

(Four O'Clock Edition.)

Seattle, March 13.—Captain Mikkelson has returned to Seattle from Victoria, and says he will outfit in Seattle for his trip in search of land near the pole. He will sail direct for St. Michael, thence to Burnett Bay, where he will take sledges for the North. He was unable to find a ship in British Columbia, so will spend $25,000 here.

Great Stallion Dead.

San Francisco, March 13.—The well-known stallion, Seymour Wilkes, died yesterday from the injuries received a fortnight ago, when he was run into by a fractious colt. Seymour Wilkes was a well-known pacer on the California circuit, and set a record of 2:08 1/2. He beat the famous Silkwood at Agricultural Park, Los Angeles, in the free-for-all pace. Seymour Wilkes was one of the fastest sons of Guy Wilkes, and had lately sired a number of promising light harness horses. He was owned by G. W. Gregory, of the St. George stable of this city, who valued him at $10,000.

Taft Will Accept.

(Four O'Clock Edition.)

Washington, March 13.—Taft will accept the position of associate justice of the supreme court, vice Justice Brown, who has signified his desire to retire this fall, on account of his failing eyes. He had a conference with Root after the cabinet meeting today, and it is believed that he has finally decided.

Wreck on the Southern.

Rehoboth, Cal., March 13.—The south-bound Southern Pacific freight was wrecked two miles south of Gregory last night. Seven cars were hurled from the track and three tramps were killed. A wrecker has gone to the scene, and all traffic is tied up.

Storm Was General.

Kansas City, Mo., March 13.—The heaviest snow of the winter has fallen throughout the Middle West. Traffic in Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas is impeded and wire communication interrupted.

WHY I AM WILLING TO GUARANTEE MY WORK

Under ordinary conditions, a dentist will do work that will stand for two or three years—if he tries even a little.

But unless he has the most modern equipment and uses the very latest methods, he cannot guarantee that his work will last.

In my office I have the best and latest appliances—I use the most modern methods. I practice painless dentistry in its most approved form. I take great care that every operation is performed with the utmost exactness.

Thus I know exactly how long my work will last, and I am not afraid to guarantee it. Will any other dentist do this? Ask about the diamond ring.

Crowns, $5.00; Plates, $5.00; Fillings, 50c.
