"That's right, Bertie! You stick there a-staring. Don't you hoffer to give nobody no help."—Sketch.

Dora Jennings on Trial.
An adjourned term of circuit court began at Grants Pass today for Josephine county with Judge Hanna on the bench. The principal case will be the retrial of Dora Jennings for the murder of her father, N. M. Jennings at Granite Hill last September. At the January term considerable pains was taken in securing a jury, and then they disagreed. Nothing new or startling in the way of evidence has been secured since that time.

MINSTREL CARNIVAL THURSDAY

Mahara Bros. big minstrel carnival is announced for the Grand Opera house March 15th. The company comes to us with a clean record, is said to be numerically stronger and artistically better this season than in past years, and contains enough novelties to stock up half a dozen of the ordinary shows. Besides the male members a contingent of colored women, beautiful, erotes, are with the company; they are said to be the most gifted in song and dance and delineation of the race. The mounting of the production is said to be the most pretentious and away and beyond anything before attempted by contemporaneous management. The first part is strong musically, vocally, full of jokes, wit and repartee, none of which have as yet reached the human stage of their existence. Bright specialties, pictures of the old South, or imitate realisms the modern darky and his up-to-date amusements, showing his camp-meetings, his cake walks, a genuine rag-time opera and the darky politician are some of the good things you will miss if you don't see the Mahara Bros. minstrels.

Cured Consumption.
Mrs. B. W. Evans, Clearwater, Kan., writes: My husband lay sick for three months. The doctors said he had quick consumption. We procured a bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, and it cured him. That was six years ago, and since then we have always kept a bottle in the house. We can not do without it. For coughs and colds it has no equal, 25c, 50c and $1. For sale by D. J. Fry.

Keystone Fencing

Notice the joint where the stay wires cross the main wires in this fencing. Every joint is twisted tightly together.

There's No Slipping And No Sagging

The top and bottom wires are twisted cables and the mesh is of such a nature that it provides for the expansion and contraction, without the little "kinks" common in many other woven fences. Call and examine the fence and you will observe that for yourself. Send for catalog if you cannot come.

EYTINGE-IRVINE

They Will be at the Grand Opera House in Salem on Friday, This Week

A packed house is sure to greet Rose Eytlinge and Miss Edna Irvine on Friday evening next, in Salem, when they will appear at the Grand Opera House, in a reading from Shakespeare and the Victorian poets.

They appear under the auspices of the Salem Woman's Club. The net proceeds will go to the public library.

It is a curious incident, and certainly one very complimentary to Oregon that Miss Edna Irvine is the first one of all Rose Eytlinge's numerous pupils, who are sprinkled all over the country, and, indeed, wherever the English language is spoken, whom she has ever introduced upon the platform together with, and on a plane with herself. And from all that is heard of the excellence of the young lady's work Rose Eytlinge's selection is judicious, as well as generous.

All Saboteurs are certainly justified in indulging most pleasurable anticipations of the reading to be given here by Rose Eytlinge, if one consider and accept the consensus of opinion held of that artist. This is what a recent Portland paper says of her:

Portland Oregonian: Competent critics proclaim the Shakesperian reading by Rose Eytlinge, at Parson's hall last week, the best interpretation of the immortal bard ever heard in Portland. All their opinion was fully endorsed by an enthusiastic audience, who punctured with applause her classic rendition of gems from "Macbeth," "King John" and "Much Ado About Nothing."

Laughter and Tears.
Is what the large audience indulged in last night at the favorite Edison Theater. The Nonpareil Stock Company fairly out did themselves as the houses will show while this beautiful four-act pastoral play is being presented. "A Farmer's Curse" proved a treat from a legitimate outlook and very welcome change from farce and vaudeville. "The proof of the pudding was in the eating," for the audience was fairly delighted from beginning to end. Each and every member of the cast worked in a conscious manner and reaped the reward due them by two and three curtain calls at the finish of each act. From the press seat it looks as though this is the style of entertainment the audiences want. Something with a plot interwoven with plenty of comedy and specialties devoid of so much horse play. Our theatre-goers appreciate the new departure, and feel it will be a winner. Bargain day matinee Saturday at 3 p. m. for young and old, when the entire bill will be given as at the nightly performances. Change of bill Thursday. New moving pictures promised, never yet seen here. One show nightly now, beginning at 8 p. m.

You feel the life-giving current the minute you take it. A gentle soothing warmth fills the nerves and blood with life. It's a real pleasure to take Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 25 cents, tea or tablets. Dr. Stone's Drug Store.

A Pleasant Way to Travel.
The above is the usual verdict of the traveler using the Missouri Pacific railway between the Pacific coast and the east, and we believe that the service and accommodations given merit this statement. From Denver, Colorado Springs and Denver there are two through trains daily to Kansas City and St. Louis, carrying Pullman's latest standard electric-lighted sleeping cars, chair cars and up-to-date dining cars. The same excellent service is operated from Kansas City and St. Louis to Memphis, Little Rock and Hot Springs. If you are going east or south, write for particulars and full information.
