A FAIR CAMPAIGN FOR PRINCIPLES.

The Journal believes there was never better indication of a fair and clean campaign for principle than is evidenced this year.

All the aspirants for nomination seem imbued with the spirit of carrying on AN HONORABLE CONTEST WITHIN PARTY LINES.

The Journal stands for a definite reform program in which principles of good government shall predominate.

In electing a new set of state officials and a new legislature, we are striving to get a step higher in administration.

A fair and honorable contest for principles will result in a ticket that means something to the people, and will be elected.

This paper intends to treat all aspirants for nomination generously and fairly, and will not be conducted FROM THE STANDPOINT OF SEEKING OFFICE OR HONORS FOR THE EDITOR.

A newspaper belongs to the whole public, to the whole party, to the whole community. They support it and are entitled to its first service.

A newspaper that cannot lay aside the personal interests and prejudices of its editor is a private organ, guilty of constant political atrocities.

FRUIT INSPECTION.

The appointment of a county fruit inspector has resulted in the cleaning up of many old orchards and spraying of many trees.

This is the first time the law has received general enforcement in this part of the state.

It will pay the owners of orchards to have this done thoroughly and benefit the whole fruit industry.

While the state horticultural law has been on the books for many years it has never before been systematically enforced.

Fruit inspection will result in giving the owners of orchards some returns, and increase shipments of fruit from Oregon.

So far as we can learn the law is being enforced without fear or favor, and no one is allowed to escape the law.

The people will grumble less about appropriations for the state board of horticulture when they see some practical benefits.

BROWNELL A BENEFACTOR.

Brownell a Benefactor.

(Grants Pass Observer.)

Senator Brownell of Clackamas, in a recent address to a meeting of his constituents, stated that it was largely through his aid that the initiative and referendum bill became a law. This being so, Mr. Brownell stands before the people of Oregon as one of their greatest benefactors. The initiative and referendum is all in all to Oregon. Without it, the primary elections law could not have been submitted to the people, and it never would have been made a law by the legislature. Without the primary law the vicious, corrupt, boodling, rascally, unrepresentative machine system of politics would still bein vogue in this state and would be invincible. More than that, the initiative and referendum act is the safeguard and bulwark of the people of Oregon against corruption in the legislature and the imposing upon them of unjust laws in favor of institutions, corporations, and influential individuals, the wanton extravagance of the state printer's department being a sample of the latter, while people do not need to be reminded of the wrongness of the normal school appropriations by the last legislature, and the pull of corporations is an old story. The protective value to Oregon of the initiative and referendum law is inestimable.

REFORM IN FOOTBALL.

Next to a bull fight, the slugging game of football is probably the most brutal exhibition of unmanly sport in the world.

Its influence is demoralizing to the public, to athletics and TO THE INTESTS OF EDUCATION GENERALLY.

Rugby football, which has not yet come into general use, is said to be a cleaner game, and devoid of violence.

One of the men who is doing great university work has recently expressed himself on strenuous football, and is reported in a press dispatch as follows:

"Professor Abbott, head of the law department at Stanford, at a recent meeting of the university debate, emphatically placed himself on record as an advocate of the abolition of the modern game of football. HE HELD THAT THE IDEA OF A UNIVERSITY WAS TO GRADUATE A CULTURED, EDUCATED GENTLEMAN, and then citing President Eliot as an authority and speaking from his own personal observation, he held that the modern game had such inherent evils of professionalism and encouraged such general corruption in university athletics that it was prejudicial to this ideal.

"Dr. Abbott warmly commended the action of Columbia in abolishing the game there and prophesied that this stand would soon be taken by every major university of the country.

"Dr. Abbott is an athlete himself and has made a study of university athletics for many years. He has gathered much data and has a mass of statistical and documentary evidence to substantiate his assertions. Abbott is one of the most popular men in the university. He is a graduate of Yale university."

Dr. Abbott is a man noted for democratic plainness and thoroughness, and HIS OPINION AS TO THE MOTIVE FOR HIGHER EDUCATION IS CORRECT.

There is enough of the animal, the bully, the slugger in our mortal and material make-up without any systematic development along these lines.

The other side of man—the real man, the eternal man who rules the world because of his creative ability and spiritual power is too much lost sight of in modern educational systems.
