THE LOWELL MEETING.

Judge Lowell opening his campaign for United States senator at Salem is a significant fact in the political history of Oregon.

He is an Eastern Oregon man who has been before the people a great deal and has borne a public-spirited part in state affairs.

Four years ago he was a candidate for governor, and got no farther than a partial canvass of his county with a buckboard.

The buckboard encountered the barrel of another candidate, and the barrel won the day. BUT THE BARREL DID NOT WIN THE GOVERNORSHIP.

The same issue is involved in this campaign for United States senator. It is brains against the barrels of the Portland millionaires.

Lying in wait for the senatorship are several Portland plutocrats, who hope that the people may not nominate and elect a senator.

In the scramble and confusion of a tie-up in the legislature the magic influence of the barrel will get in its mysterious work.

The Lowell campaign should be welcomed by EVERY CLEAN, CONSCIENTIOUS, RIGHT-THINKING AND PATRIOTIC AMERICAN, who does not want to see our government further degraded and dragged in the mire of corruption.

The downfall of Channey Depew recalls Roscoe Conklin's comment on the dilly-tongued after-dinner talker, as "THE MAN WHO SAYS GEE AND HAW TO VANDERBILT'S CATTLE."

The men who say gee and haw to the cattle of the money-kings are on earth and some of them are in Oregon, and they are trying to dictate and stampele the election of the senators from Oregon.

But as the Australian ballot came out of the corrupted political conditions prevailing in the penal colonies of Australia, so a better system of electing senators will come out of Oregon.

Preparing for Mobilization. Plattsburg, N. Y., March 30.—The army quartermasters have already taken up the question of the transportation of all the cavalry, field artillery and infantry in this country for mobilization at seven camps in different parts of the country, including Plattsburg barracks. It will require a vast amount of preliminary work to get everything in readiness for the transfer of the troops, although it is intended by the President to have the operations and the encampment conducted as in war time, when there will be the least possible dependence upon the railroads or other accommodations.

For the most part the troops assigned to the camps will march to their destination. The greater distance covered by the troops ordered to Plattsburg will be from Washington. A part of the Washington garrison, probably two companies of engineers with their appliances, will march to the Plattsburg camp. Great interest throughout the service is taken in the President's plan for a general concentration of the troops. It is the first gathering of the sort ever held in this country on such a scale, and it is to be followed by monthly encampments of two nights each, after the troops return to their respective stations, continuing through next winter.

The troops will carry their full kits with them on their summer tour, and will adopt the system of regular field provisioning. To this end the commissary officers are preparing to issue the necessary equipment for the cooking of the food. At the barracks here there will be about 50 companies in addition to the regular garrison.

College Men and the Ministry.

Hartford, Conn., March 30.—The conference under the auspices of the students of the three theological seminaries of Hartford, Yale and Union New York, will open at the Seminary here this evening and will last until Sunday evening. Many college men of New England, New York and New Jersey colleges are here to attend the conference, which has been called for the purpose of presenting to college men now deciding on their life work some definite information regarding the work and claims of the Christian ministry. The speakers will be President W. D. McKendle of Hartford seminary, President Wilson of Princeton university, President Bush Rivers of Rochester university, Professor Francis Brown of Union seminary, J. G. Hibben, Princeton seminary, F. C. Porter, Yale, and G. T. Winchester, Wesleyan university, Middletown, Conn.

The missionary societies will be represented by President S. B. Capen of the American board, Boston, and secretary A. W. Halsey of the Presbyterian board, New York, and the pastor by the Rev. R. S. MacArthur, New York; the Rev. Dr. Kinsolving of Brooklyn, rector of Christ Church; the Rev. Rockwell Potter of Hartford and the Rev. O. S. Davis of New Britain, Conn.

Settling Football Reform Code.

New York, March 30.—The American intercollegiate football rules committee is holding another session at the Murray Hill hotel today and this is believed to be the final meeting, in which the new football code will be finally adopted.

The work was practically completed after the last meeting, but it was necessary for the representatives of the various universities taking part in the deliberations to report to their institutions, before a definite and settlement could be reached. The task of the committee today mainly consists in going over the whole ground, taking up section after section and to pass separately upon each individual rule. It is not expected that any further changes will be made at today's meeting.

Women's Foreign Missionary Meeting.

Newark, N. J., March 30.—The annual spring meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Newark Presbytery opened here this morning at the South Park Presbyterian church. The delegates were welcomed by the Rev. Dr. Lyman Whitney Allen of the South Park church. Several prominent speakers will address the meeting. There will be a conference for young people.

Alien Illiterates.

Time was when the question of dealing with alien illiterates dumped upon our shores was not pressing. Most of the immigrants then came of stock sympathetic with our ideas. They were largely literate or they took kindly to common school education. Of late all this has been changed. We are receiving the bulk of immigration from countries in which illiteracy abounds, and it is only candid to say that we have in resident illiteracy a problem far greater than is generally supposed. The census of 1900 showed that out of 57,949,824 persons in the United States 10 years of age and over, 6,180,069 were classified as illiterates.—Boston Transcript.

EATEN OUT OF HOUSE AND HOME

How a Confirmed Dyspeptic Developed an Appetite Like a Corn-husker's and Cleaned Out Everything in Sight.

The wife of a leading druggist of Des Moines tells how her brother was changed from a dyspeptic without appetite to a prodigious eater.

"My brother, who is a lawyer in Chicago, came to visit me and I hardly knew him on his arrival, he was so thin and run down. I had not seen him for years and was much alarmed at his appearance. He told me not to worry as he had been in this condition for years as a result of chronic dyspepsia. I asked him what he had done for it, and he said he had done everything—taken every remedy he had ever heard of and consulted doctors without number, none of them helped him. I asked him if he ever took Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and he said he hadn't and what was more he wouldn't. He had sworn off taking medicine of any kind.

"I had my husband bring home a box from the store and I actually made him take one or two of the tablets after he had eaten. They made him feel so much better that he offered no further objection. He had not taken the one box before he was greatly improved and three or four boxes cured him of dyspepsia and gave him a wonderful appetite. He came near eating us out of house and home. My, but it did me good to see him eat. He gained fifteen pounds before he returned home, and he writes me that he has not been troubled with dyspepsia since."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets actually do the work assigned to them. They relieve weak and overburdened stomachs of their work of digestive action. Their component parts are identical with those of the digestive fluids and secretions of the stomach and they simply take up the grind and carry on the work just the same as a good, strong, healthy stomach would do it.

On this account Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are perfectly natural in their action and effects. They do not cause any unnatural or violent disturbance in the stomach or bowels. They themselves digest the food and supply the system with all the nourishment contained in what is eaten and carry out Nature's plans for the sustenance and maintenance of the body.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, by thus relieving the stomach of its work, enable it to recuperate and regain its normal health and strength. Nature repairs the worn and wasted tissues just as she heals and knits the bone of a broken limb, which is of course not used during the process of repair.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50 cents a box. One box will frequently effect a perfect cure.

EDITOR FEELS SORE

Says Sap-Headed Young Student Steered Him Into the Fence

A sap-headed, dense brained, grinning high school youth was the cause of an accident to the city editor of this paper this morning which might have resulted seriously. This youth, walking with two girls, was heading a column of high school students on East Eleventh street on their way to the university. The editor was riding along High street on a bicycle. He repeatedly rang his bell as he approached the students and calculated that the leader of the column would stop a second to let him pass, but instead the youth paid no attention to the ringing of the bell, kept up his senseless chatter to the girls and continued on his way serenely oblivious to all surroundings. The editor was compelled to run his bicycle into a fence to avoid injury to the girls. He was thrown forcibly to the sidewalk, receiving a number of bruises and the bicycle was ruined. It was almost a miracle that he was not severely injured, as he was riding at a considerable speed. The youth proceeded on his way without even a word of apology.—Eugene Guard.
