VOLCANO'S DEADLY WORK

VESUVIUS SHOWS US POMPEII

Depicts the Scenes of Past Ages and Sends Showers of Ashes and Dust Upon the Town

Five Hundred Thousand People Leave Their Homes, and Hundreds Are Killed by Falling Buildings, Overburdened With Weight of Ashes

Naples, April 10.—The situation this morning can be summarized as follows: The condition at Torre Annunziata, are worse. The ashes and cinders which have fallen there are four feet deep, and frequent earthquake shocks are felt. Several houses and four churches have fallen, five people have been killed and unknown number of persons have been injured.

Serious apprehension is felt for the inhabitants of the country in the vicinity of Caserta, termed the Versailles of Naples, a place of about 35,000 inhabitants, in which direction the lava is now flowing.

The town of Nolaw is being buried under the showers of ashes coming from the crater, which are carried by the wind as far as the Adriatic sea. Nolaw is a very old town, 22 miles from Naples, having about 15,000 inhabitants.

Half Million People Have Fled.

Naples, April 9.—(1:55 p. m.)—Only about 2000 out of 32,000 inhabitants of Torre Annunziata dare to remain in the town, which is now patrolled by soldiers. The number of fugitives is augmented everywhere, and it is estimated that 500,000 people have fled from their homes.

Many people are leaving Naples in alarm, and traffic on the railroads is interrupted. Numerous fugitives are going to Sicily by the sea. The eruption of the volcano has caused a great congestion in all services, especially by the telegraph lines, making it difficult to forward press or other messages.

Quantity of Cinders and Ashes Increases

Naples, April 9.—(12:30 p. m.)—The quantity of ashes and cinders thrown up by Mount Vesuvius in 24 hours is unprecedented. An analysis shows this discharge to be chiefly composed of iron, sulphur and magnesia. When dry the whole region seems to be under a gray sheet, but now, after a fall of der the weight of ashes. Two hundred corpses and 60 injured were found in the streets of Ottajano. Great numbers are missing.

Naples, April 10.—Twelve corpses and 65 badly injured were taken from the ruins of Monto Olive market, which collapsed this morning under the weight of ashes.

Naples, Italy, April 10.—All efforts to learn the number of fatalities in the various villages have failed, but the death list is constantly growing.

As Bad as Pompeii.

Naples, April 10.—Terrifying news is reaching the city this morning from points throughout the district surrounding Ottajano. Reports indicate that an enormous area is buried beneath ashes and cinders.

The present disaster is looked upon as a repetition of the catastrophe to Pompeii and Herculaneum, except that in this instance ashes rather than lava cover the devastated places, and the loss of life is less.

Cannot Find Who Are Dead.

Naples, April 10.—(7:25 a. m.)—All efforts to ascertain the exact number of those who have already fallen victims to the eruptions of Vesuvius have so far failed.

This is accounted for by the fact that the buried villages are impossible of access, and further because the people who fled when their houses began to fall have scattered throughout the country districts.

The finding of 96 bodies is determined as follows: At San Giuseppe 49, Torsigno 20, at Ottajano 27.

ties consequent upon the eruption of Mount Vesuvius are coming in. According to information received late tonight, probably as many as 500 lives were lost.

It is said that more than 200 persons perished in the district of San Giuseppe, where, from the ruins of a church, which collapsed owing to the weight of ashes on the roof, 49 corpses were extricated, and it is asserted that Sorrento 27 persons were killed by falling houses.

A railway train from San Giuseppe for Naples was derailed, owing to showers of stones from the crater.

Cavalry proceeding to the succor of the inhabitants of the devastated section have been unable to make any progress, the rain falling on the ashes a foot deep having made it impossible for the horses to travel.

The sea is greatly agitated. The sky has cleared, but heavy clouds hang over the east, threatening further down pour.

The streams of lava are almost stationary. Troops are erecting barricades in the direction of Pompeii to prevent further damage in that quarter.

Scene of Weird Desolation.

The press correspondent this evening made the round of the menaced villages. The railway and tram tracks were inches deep below volcanic ashes, and the same material made the roads impracticable for horses, so that an automobile was the only means left by which the inspection of the devastated country could be made.

The scene was one of such misery and terror that it can never be obliterated from memory. As the way was traveled the traveling became more and more difficult, the smoke and ashes in the air making breathing difficult. Slight tremblings of the earth were felt, and frequent flashes of lightning cut through the smoke. Darkness came at intervals long before nightfall. In the streets of the deserted towns the only sound to be heard was the thud of lumps of ashes falling on the roofs and the puffing of the automobile. In the towns where people yet remain the houses are closed, the inhabitants roaming disconsolately about the streets and gaining what comfort is possible

JOHNNY ON THE SPOT

Rockefeller Goes to His Office and Permits Reporters to Photograph Him

New York, April 10.—John D. Rockefeller went to his office at 26 Broadway this morning. He permitted newspaper men to photograph him, and smiled pleasantly at people whom he met.

Old Chance There, Too.

(Four O'Clock Edition.)

Philadelphia, April 10.—The interstate commerce commission this afternoon had before it the contract and by-laws of the Tidewater Steam Bituminous Coal Traffic Association, signed by President Roberts, of the Pennsylvania road; Receiver Gowan, of the B. & O.; President Ingalls, of the Chesapeake & Ohio; Chauncey Depew, of the New York Central, as losses of the Beach Creek railroad, and an official of the Norfolk & Western, which divided among the contracting roads, according to a stated percentage the tonnage of soft coal to be removed to tidewater.

More Land Frauds.

(Four O'Clock Edition.)

Portland, April 10.—The federal grand jury at midnight returned an indictment involving over a dozen defendants of conspiracy to acquire timber lands in Southern Oregon fraudulently. They are wealthy lumber men of Oregon, California and the Eastern states. Their identity is kept secret until arrests have been made. From witnesses recently before the grand jury, it is assumed that Curry county is the scene of the transactions.

Just an Incidental Murder.

(Four O'Clock Edition.)

Fresno, Cal., April 10.—Frank Moseley was killed by Joseph C. Fossett, proprietor of a road house near this city, last night. He claims self-defense, but a woman present says Moseley had no weapon, and made no threats to kill, as Fossett claims. The shooting followed a fist fight. Moseley is a son of Mrs. E. J. Beane. His parents are wealthy, and live in the Occidental hotel in San Francisco.

Killed Her Son.

(Four O'Clock Edition.)

Los Angeles, April 10.—Mrs. Kate P. Raymonds killed her son, Frank, aged 14, in Hollywood, and attempted suicide. She locked herself in a room and turned on the gas. Her husband had an official position in Washington. They lived in a fashionable suburb, and had a handsome home. She attempted to chloroform the boy a year ago.

Find Mountain of Ore.

(Four O'Clock Edition.)

Bellingham, Wash., April 10.—A remarkable discovery of gold has been made on Orcas island, near Bellingham. There is a mountain of ore, but of low grade, 100,000,000 tons, estimated in value at a quarter of a billion dollars, rivaling the Treadwell deposits in Alaska, and this all in sight.

Give Away a River.

Washington, April 10.—The house committee on interstate commerce today authorized a favorable report on the bill allowing the Central Canal and Irrigation Company to take water from the Sacramento river for irrigation purposes.

Sued Insurance Companies.

(Four O'Clock Edition.)

Cincinnati, O., April 10.—David Baumgarten filed suit today against the New York Life to recover $6500 which claims were paid on three policies, which were permitted to lapse, he charges by their fraudulent representations.

DOWIE NEARING ZION

Bitter Feeling Exists Between Hit Followers and Opponents

Chicago, April 10.—Dowie, weary and worn from his long journey, arrived home this morning. He is thin and emaciated, and apparently wholly unable to enter into a serious battle. A great throng of people greeted him with cheers, catcalls and demands that he show himself.

As the train drew into the station, Dowie announced that he would not go to Zion today, but would take matters directly to the courts for adjustment. He said: "I am a peaceable, law-abiding citizen. I have been wrongfully deposed from my property. I do not care to fight in the streets of Zion for restoration. I say 'my property,' for Zion belongs legally to me, and not to the church." He is staying at the hotel, pending developments.

Explaining the attack on his wife, Dowie said he feared assassination, and thought it time to make unprintable charges before possibly he was murdered. He advised that it is his plan to take the position that Zion belongs to Dowie, and Voliva is in the position of a traitor, emulating Judas Iscariot.

A deputy sheriff tried to serve a writ on Dowie, in a suit brought by Dr. William C. Stearns, an expert on insanity, who alleges Dowie refused to pay a bill of $500 for his services. The deputy was ordered arrested by Dowie's followers. The police detained the deputy, examined his credentials, and when they released him it was too late to serve the papers.

H. L. Burdette, formerly acting health commissioner for Zion City, but deposed by Voliva, has addressed a stinging indictment to Voliva, accusing him of being a traitor against God, Christ, the Christian people and against the grandest leader ever raised up to lead a religious organization. He calls Voliva a "trickster, a cheap politician, and a false prophet." It is reported Voliva is coming to Chicago to confer with Dowie. Dowie retired after a bath to recuperate from his journey.

Voliva, who is at Zion City, says Dowie remained in Chicago, because he did not care to be scolded in daylight, "but prefers to await the darkness, when he will be able to say that the welcoming hosts could not get out."

Zion City, Ill., April 10.—"I'll shoot Dowie when he sets foot here," shouted a Zionist at the station at noon. "My wife and children were starving for three months. He's got $400 of my money. When I tried to get it he gave me $2." It is the bitter feeling of sufferers that makes Dowie fear assassination. Had Dowie come today he would have got so frosty a reception that it would have pleased his worst enemy. Not half a dozen people were at the station, in addition to reporters and police.

Not the Man Wanted.

San Francisco, April 10.—Photographs of the man arrested by the Portland police on Saturday, on suspicion that he was Pietro Tertorici, were received by Captain of Detectives Brunett this morning. It was seen at a glance, by comparison, that he was not the man desired for the murder of Villardo, and telegraphic orders for his release were sent to Portland.

Legislature Will Let People Vote.

Springfield, Ill., April 10.—Almost upon the eve of the party conventions, which were necessarily postponed by the decision of the supreme court, declaring the new primary law unconstitutional, the Illinois legislature met at noon to draft a substitution statute.

Same Old Cheat.

Philadelphia, April 10.—The interstate commerce commission this morning began the investigation of the alleged community of interests between interstate carriers and the coal and oil trades.
