NEW YORK

DON'T FORGET TO GO

See a Frenchman as Portrayed by a Hoosier and Presented by a Yankee

Absorbing entertainment which also is an intellectual treat is the certainty at the Grand Opera House next Saturday, when that scholarly actor, Creston Clarke, reappears in Booth Tarkington's beautiful romantic comedy, "Beaucaire"—a dramatic idyll of a century ago in which there is a mingling of sentiment, chivalry and heroism. The fame of Mr. Clarke's portrayal of the masquerading French prince of the title role has gone from one end of the country to another and has become synonymous with courtliness, grace, nobility and dramatic power. All last season Mr. Clarke won triumph after triumph as "Beaucaire," a record which he now is more than repeating. Those who see him this year will enjoy both him and his production at its best. Manager Jules Murray last summer was prodigal in the extreme in renewing the scenic and costume equipment so that now, from a pictorial standpoint, "Beaucaire" surpasses itself of last year. Mr. Clarke, from his greater familiarity with the hero's role, has elaborated the character this season in many details which give his portrayal greater potency and eloquence. Undoubtedly his "Beaucaire," as it stands today, marks the highest achievement in all his distinguished career. The literary merit of Mr. Tarkington's play is impressing itself deeply upon the intellectual audience which invariably greet Mr. Clarke. "Beaucaire's" place is as much upon the literary table as before the footlights. Yet action is never sacrificed to diction nor climax to rhetoric. The entire play pulses with movement, humor and emotion.

Historical Sense and Religion.

In the absence of the historical sense, they could treat all the words of Jesus as directed to themselves. But Biblical investigation makes this impossible. As we have seen, Jesus knew nothing of many of the moral and social tasks which today we cannot escape. Besides, he had a view of the world which made him indifferent to the great historical future of society. In his opinion, the end of the world was at hand. Hence to accumulate capital, to advance science and art, to ameliorate economic and political conditions, to improve the tools of our toil—say, to fulfill the first great commandment to multiply and replenish the earth—how could he feel moral obligation in any of these directions with his thought of an imminent cosmic catastrophe? His ethics was "and ethics."

And so it is Jesus' historical situation and his apprehension of the world that separate him from us. We owe this insight to historical investigation. We are not confronted with the end of the world, but with an infinitude of tasks which the God of nature and of history has sent to us. Conceiving the situation as Jesus did, he acted veraciously in it; conceiving the situation as we do, it would be self-deception or worse to act as he did. We can be like his character only by being unlike his conduct. Veraciousness led him to have no interest such as ours in the secular and social life. Veraciousness such as his leads us to a life that is the opposite of his. Imitation of Jesus ends in unvarnishedness. Subjection to his precepts is separation from himself. He who severs himself from the world sinks into barbarism which is the definite secularization of a human being; that is precisely one of the evils from which Jesus would save man. Jesus' standpoint was as far removed from unselfish subjection of the personal to the natural as to the traditional. In his situation he summoned both the traditional and the natural before the judgment seat of the morally necessary; and now that his words have in turn become traditional, obedience to his will requires us to apply his own principle to his own words. To attempt to imitate Jesus in the absence of any moral necessity in our situation for doing so has long injured the cause of Jesus; and we should be grateful that historical study has exhibited the impossibility of such a work of supererogation, and effect our emancipation from the yoke of the local and the temporal.—Dr. George Beriman Foster in the "Frivolity of the Christian Religion."

The booby prize for sheer gall is awaiting the orders of the Harlem burglar who garbed as a Salvation Army member, drilled a safe, and robbed the baby's bank after starting the family phonograph playing "Onward Christian Soldier."—N. Y. Evening Telegram.

WHY Salem People Should Take Vinol.

Our well known druggists, G. W. Putnam Co., say: "We do not believe there is a man, woman or child in Salem whom our famous cod liver oil preparation, Vinol, will not benefit at this season of the year."

We believe there is no need for so many people to drag around run-down, tired out and debilitated, or for old people to remain weak and infirm when we guarantee Vinol will restore health and vigor.

Continued a member of the above firm: "For centuries cod liver oil has been recognized as the grandest of all body-building agents for wasted human strength and vitality, but on account of the heavy nauseating and system-clogging oil which enveloped its curative properties few could take it with any benefit."

In Vinol you get in a concentrated form every one of the curative and strength-creating elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cods' livers, and without a drop of oil to upset the stomach and retard its work.

Vinol is not a patent medicine and you know what you are taking, as everything it contains is named on the back label of every bottle.

Vinol is guaranteed by over two thousand of the leading druggists of the United States to create strength for old people, for the run-down, tired, and debilitated, weak, sickly women and children, and after a severe sickness.

We ask every person in Salem who have hacking coughs, chronic colds, throat and bronchial troubles to try Vinol on your guarantee. It costs nothing if it fails." G. W. Putnam Co., Druggists, Salem, Oregon.

Is the Moon Inhabited?

Science has proven that the moon has an atmosphere, which makes life in some form possible on that satellite; but not for human beings who have a hard enough time on this earth of ours; especially those who don't know that Electric Bitters cure headache, biliousness, malaria, chills and fever, jaundice, dyspepsia, dizziness, torpid liver, kidney complaints, general debility and female weakness. Unequaled as a general tonic and appetizer for weak persons, especially for the aged. It induces sound sleep. Fully guaranteed by J. C. Perry, Druggist. Price only 50c.

The Good of Medicine.

People insisting that medicine does no good, have one stubborn fact to contend with, that is, the people who do believe are greatly in the majority. We have been so fortunate during the past 20 years as to convince thousands of sufferers with weak, watery blood, who had all the symptoms of a general breaking down of the system that one medicine, at least, does good. Nervous and unsteady people, weak, fleshless people, pimply, pale or sallow people, can have strong, steady nerves and solid healthy flesh by the use of Dr. Gunn's Blood and Nerve Tonic. A tablet to take at meal time, it turns the food you eat into rich, red blood, making solid flesh at the rate of 1 to 3 lbs. per week. Sold by all druggists for 75c per box, or 3 boxes for $2. This medicine saves doctor bills and insures health, giving the very best treatment possible.

Ballard's Horehound Syrup. Immediately relieves hoarse, croupy cough; oppressed, rattling, rasping and difficult breathing. Henry C. Stearns druggist, Shullsburg, Wis., writes, May 20, 1902: "I have been selling Ballard's Horehound Syrup for two years, and have never had a preparation that has given better satisfaction. I notice that when I sell a bottle they come back for more. I can honestly recommend it." 25c, 50c and $1. Sold by D. J. Fry.

Our Village Clerk. That many have not heard of the greater Salem, the thriving and thrifty city of which we are the proud residents, was shown the other day by a communication intended for the city recorder, and which was addressed to "The Village Clerk." The incident only emphasizes the fact that the Greater Salem Commercial Club can do a little more advertising with profit.

$20 CUT

The Sharples Cream Separator

The most interesting news that the dairymen have had in many a day is the $20 cut in the price of the Sharples. It is stimulating trade wonderfully, and separators are selling right and left.

There's no reason for any one purchasing any other make of machine when the Sharples can be had at these figures.

$80 for the No. 4
$65 for the No. 3
$55 for the No. 2

These are just $20 less than the old figures.

Remember that the Sharples supply can is just waist high, no straining the back or climbing on chairs to reach it. The operator can pour in the milk while continuing to turn the crank.

Remember that the bowl is a smooth tube with but one thin shell inside at the upper end to remove and wash. Others have all sorts of "skin's" inside, all of which must be thoroughly cleaned, or you will have tainted cream.

Remember that the gears are entirely enclosed from the dust, and run in oil, hence do not wear out, and there is not the constant worry about turning on the oil cup and turning it off again.

Call and inspect or send for catalog.

Dr. Bergin, Paas, Ill., writes: "I have used Ballard's Snow Lintment; always recommended it to my friends, as I am confident there is no better made. 'It is a dandy for burns.' Those who live on farms are especially liable to many accidental cuts, burns, bruises, which heal rapidly when Ballard's Snow Lintment is applied. It should always be kept in the house for cases of emergency." 25c, 50c and $1. Sold by D. J. Fry.

A Pleasant Evening.

At the home of Mrs. Lowie, corner of Trade and Winter streets, a most pleasant party was given in honor of Mr. C. A.
