Brigands in Manila Capture the Government Headquarters

Manila, April 16.—Forty Ladrones seized the headquarters of the constabulary in Malolos, the capital of the province of Bulacan, Luzon, today captured 20 rifles killed three men, lost one and escaped. The brigands entered the city early and were not discovered until they reached the headquarters fronting Governor Sandico's residence. A sentry challenged the invaders, and they promptly killed him. They rushed up the stairs, and as the defenders were few in number they were quickly overpowered. A detachment is pursuing them.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Mrs. Le Doux Denies Murdering Albert N. McVicar

(From Four O'Clock Edition.)
Stockton, Cal., April 16.—The trial of Mrs. Emma LeDoux, for the murder of Albert N. McVicar, the victim of the Stockton trunk murder, will commence May 23d. This morning Mrs. LeDoux was brought into court to plead to the indictment. Dressed in black she appeared calm and subdued. She remained standing while the indictment was read to her. When asked to plead she answered slowly and distinctly "not guilty." The trial was set by consent for May 23d. After the court proceedings the big crowd, mostly women, lined the streets to get a view of the prisoner. C. H. Fairall, a well-known local lawyer, was associated with her attorneys, Crocker and McNoble, for the defense.

JUDAS BADLY LEADED

Astoria, Or., April 16.—In accordance with an ancient custom, the colony of Greeks living at Clifton Saturday observed Easter by hanging "Judas," the betrayer of Christ, in effigy and afterward filling the pendant form full of lead from their revolvers. The image was that of a man dressed in modern clothing and crowned with a souch hat, on which which was pinned a sign bearing the word "Judas."

WANT MORE MONEY

Norfolk, Va., April 16.—Four thousand linemen and other electric workers of the Bell Telephone Company in seven southeastern states struck today for an increase of 25 cents a day.

To Amend the Constitution.

Spokane, April 15.—A convention to amend the constitution of the United States, so that many of the reforms and laws demanded by the people may be carried out, is advocated by Judge George Turner, ex-United States Senator, who has recently returned from Washington, D. C. A provision for the calling of such a convention is made in article V of the constitution, although never in the history of this country has it been applied.

"I am in favor of having a convention to amend the constitution called," said Judge Turner tonight. "Experience has demonstrated that there are omissions and corrections which it would be wise to regulate.

"In article V of the United States constitution it is provided that 'congress, whenever two-thirds of both houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose amendments to this constitution, or, on the application of the legislatures of two-thirds of several states, shall call a convention for proposing amendments, which in either case shall be valid to all intents and purposes, as part of this constitution, ratified by the legislatures in three-fourths of the several states, or by convention in three-fourths thereof, as the one or the other mode of ratification may be proposed by congress.'

"I believe that there is an urgent need for such a convention. In my opinion it is the only way by which the necessary amendment can be passed to elect United States senators by popular vote.

"There is an amendment needed to the constitution to enable an income tax law. This measure has been passed by congress, but declared unconstitutional by the supreme court. Such a convention would make possible a uniform divorce law and also the federal control of life insurance matters, as advocated by President Roosevelt. The convention could go over the entire constitution."

Fort Nonsense to Be Hotel.

Morristown, N. J., April 16.—Grant B. Schley, of Bernardsville, is negotiating with the Sims estate for the purchase of Fort Nonsense, in the center of Morristown. The historic hill is the site of a fort erected by the soldiers during General Washington's stay in Morristown. In the winter of 1779-80, it was built to occupy the soldiers' time, and was called Fort Nonsense in consequence. The site of the fortification is marked by a monument erected by the Washington Association of New Jersey. Mr. Schley intends to build a private driveway, it is said, over the hills from Morristown to the Somerset Inn at Bernardsville. He has secured practically all of the property necessary, and with the purchase of the Fort Nonsense tract, will have an ideal location for a big hotel. That he intends to avail himself of this opportunity is conceded, and it is said that the building of a hotel to be run on similar lines as the Somerset Inn is under serious contemplation.

General Bates' Retirement.

Washington, D. C., April 16.—Major General John C. Bates, chief of staff of the United States army, retires today, and will be succeeded by Brigadier-General J. Franklin Ball. Major-General Henry C. Corbin will succeed General Bates as lieutenant-general, and will be retired in September. In the meantime General Corbin will remain at the head of the Northern division in St. Louis.

(From Four O'Clock Edition.)
Washington, April 16.—The supreme court today refused the motion of the attorney-general of Colorado, that the appeal of Senator Patterson, who was fined $1000 for contempt by the supreme court of Colorado, be either affirmed or dismissed.

Naples, Italy, April 16.—The effects from Vesuvius is comparatively slight, and the fear of the people is gone, and all their energies are devoted to relief. Sufferers are fighting for rations issued by the government. Buffalo Bill sent $100 to aid the sufferers.

Lewis, vice-president, will arrive tonight to attend the executive board's special meeting tomorrow. Mitchell says he is satisfied with the status of affairs, and the board is to discuss the advisability of levying an assessment on the miners whose employers have signed the 1903 waste, and put their men to work.

GIVE WALSH TIME

Chicago, April 16.—John E. Walsh's preliminary hearing on the charge of illegal practices, as president of the Chicago National bank, was postponed today until May 3d.

Morrison announced that the investigation of Walsh's books will require at least six weeks, and there will be no hearing until that is done, so continuations from time to time are necessary. The examination will not give Walsh the benefit of the immunity law, as that applies only to interstate commerce cases.

"Go up, Old Baldhead."

Chicago, April 16.—Judge Barnes, a deacon in Zion City, and now its legal head, conferred with attorneys representing Dowie and Valva this afternoon, with the object of concurring in a settlement proposed to settle on Dowie the income from $1,000,000. ### He Injured Obadiah.

An alleged shortage of $6000 was discovered in the Mutual Insurance Company, of which Evans was the head. It is charged that Evans was attempting to force the safe in Smith's house to secure funds to make good the shortage. He died this afternoon.

A Case of Misplaced.

Virginia City, Nev., April 16.—The discovery that samples of ore from the Ramsey district bore cabinet marks put a damper on the enthusiasm over the find. Three hundred men are already there. A restaurant and two saloons have been opened, and the country is all located. No new strikes are reported. Ramsey is 25 miles north-east of Virginia City.

St. Louis, April 16.—The widow of William J. Kemp, the brewer, died today, as the result of the shock at her husband's suicide three years ago.

Gave Up the Waters.

(From Four O'Clock Edition.)
Washington, April 16.—Without opposition the house today passed the McKinley bill, permitting the diversion of the waters of the Sacramento river for irrigation purposes.

EASTER, SUNDAY DOINGS

Easter Sunday dawned cloudy and chill, but before time for the church parade, the prospects of a fine day were so good that almost the entire population of the city appeared on the streets. It is a long time since so many people have attended church on a Sunday morning as yesterday. The pastors of all the congregations preached to crowded seats, and the musicians by their special efforts helped the preachers to bring to the people the glad tidings of the day.

For weeks past the choirs of the different churches had been rehearsing for this day, and in every place of worship the songs and anthems, the hymns and sermons told the story of the risen Christ. Even the decorations held the thought and gladdened the aesthetic taste of many hundreds. Flowers abounded, conspicuous among them being the lily, symbolic of the resurrection.

Probably the largest number attended the First Methodist Episcopal church, where, in the evening, numbers were unable to gain admission. The music at this church was in charge of Prof. W. P. Drew, with Miss Stege as soloist. Extra numbers were rendered in the morning, but the principal effort of the day was put into the sacred concert, which took the place of the evening service. Every number was well rendered and thoroughly enjoyed.

At the Episcopal church the ritual service provided for Easter was carried out with full choral effect. Mrs. Hallie Parrish-Hinges assisted at this church during the day. The congregations were large.

At the Presbyterian church the double quartet rendered a carefully selected program, and the pastor delivered an eloquent address on an Easter topic. Those who attended this church were amply repaid for the time spent in "fixings" before leaving their homes.

At the Baptist, Christian and Congregational churches the services were also typical of the Easter season, and large congregations listened to the sermons and extra music.

Doubtless the church which made the greatest preparations and had the largest number of services was the Catholic church, at the corner of Chestnuts and Cottage streets. The Easter ritual of this church is very elaborate, and yesterday high mass at 10:30 was fully choral. The attendance at the earlier services was large, and special music was a feature of them all.

The Sunday schools of the various churches held special exercises to celebrate the day, some of them full cantatas, others simply additions to the regular school program. The primary and beginners' classes of the First M. E. school had a special treat in the shape of an Easter program, given Saturday afternoon. It took the form of an Easter party, and the many children present enjoyed themselves during an entire afternoon's frolic.

At St. Joseph's.

The services at St. Joseph's church yesterday were particularly interesting in character. The choir rendered some special music at high mass, and Father Moore spoke eloquently of the meaning of the Easter thought to the Christian church in general, and to the believer in particular. The altar was decked with lilies and the new statue of the Virgin Mary was unveiled for the first time. As usual, many non-Catholics were present at the services.

Sunday Concert.

The concert given by the Salem Military band yesterday afternoon, at Marion square, was largely attended and thoroughly enjoyed by the large concourse of people present. The band boys are improving in the rendition of their selections, and these Sunday afternoon concerts are growing in popularity.

A BOY STARTS A PANIC

A Call of Fire Causes Rush That Kills Three and Injurs Many

During a panic Saturday night at Chicago, while 400 persons were participating in the Easter services in the St. Lu'Simas Roman Catholic church, at Twenty-fourth street and Albany avenue, three children and one woman were killed and a score of others injured, several seriously. The majority of the worshippers in the church at the time the false alarm was given were women and children, and in a few minutes all were in a tangled mass, fighting to escape from the supposed danger. Many persons jumped through the windows, but the greater portion crowded to the center aisle. The extra weight proved too much for the floor, and some of the beams supporting it broke. The cracking of the timbers increased the fright of the now terrified women and children, and everyone in the place became panic-stricken, men, women and children fighting desperately with each other in an effort to reach the outside.

The women and children suffered most in the struggle, and when the church was finally emptied three children were lying dead in the aisle and one woman was so badly hurt that she died while being removed to the hospital.

Fully a score of other persons, principally children, were more or less injured, but none fatally.

A boy's prank was responsible for the accident. While Rev. M. Parneck, pastor of the church, was offering the evening prayer, one of the crowd of boys who had been loitering outside of the church, suddenly pushed open the front door and shouted "Fire!" Seeing the serious effects his words had on the congregation, the boy ran away and the police were unable to find him or learn his name.

About Basketball.

A basketball convention will be held here Saturday evening in the Y. M. C. A. rooms. The meeting will be held for the purpose of arranging a more satisfactory schedule of games, and to agree on the best methods of determining a uniform system for playing the game throughout Oregon. It is possible that steps will be taken to have championship games played on neutral floors, which, in a measure, will better indicate the strength of the respective teams. The matter of choosing officials will also be considered. Representatives will be here from the Multnomah club, the Portland Y. M. C. A., Willamette University, the Oregon Agricultural college at Corvallis, Dallas college, Monmouth Normal school, Pacific college Newberg, and several other scholastic institutions.

No Time for Thought.

"O, George," said the poet's wife, "who do you suppose is engaged to May Bickley?"
"I don't know," replied the poet, shortly.
"Can't you think?"
"Oce what! How do you expect me to think now! Don't you see I'm writing a magazine sonnet!"
