NORTH SANTIAM SCHOOL

Flag Raising in a Prosperous Community

The North Santiam school is located three miles east of Marion, a mile south of John Riotes's place. The school house was built last fall, is nicely furnished, and has an attendance of about 40, 50 enrolled. The attendance sometimes is as high as 45.

W. J. Hauser is chairman of the board. The other directors are J. D. Barber and David Rees. The teacher is T. J. Gill of Salem. Mr. J. D. Barber and the other members of the board take the greatest pride in their school and do all that is necessary to keep it up in a manner that is a good advertisement for the neighborhood.

A fine dinner was served on tables under the trees at noon and hot coffee was served by the ladies. Little Gertrude Warner sang a German song after dinner, mounted on a big fir stump. She is only six years old and speaks the language fluently and correctly.

One feature of the dinner was cutting and serving a beautiful cake, decorated with red, white and blue frosting, a perfect work of art, reproducing the first American flag of 3 stars and 13 stripes. Mrs. London made this cake and Col. Hofer was invited to cut it and serve it to the large crowd assembled at the dinner. He managed it so that each one of over 100 men, women and children got a slice.

At 1 o'clock the guests and school assembled around the new flagstaff and sang "America" as the beautiful emblem of liberty was hoisted to the breeze over the North Santiam school. Mr. and Mrs. London led the singing and furnished the music. Mr. London is only a farmer, but is one of those kind of men without whose modest services many happy occasions would not be so successful.

The program in the school house was opened with Misses Ethel Oglesby, Mary Nye and Georgia Spicer singing "The American Flag," by James Dolman Drake, in a spirited manner. Mr. Patton's address presenting the flag was warmly applauded.

The blackboard was covered with drawings of the eagle, the life and drum and the flag. One of the speakers referred to that American emblem, so little known, the Peace Flag, the stars and stripes surrounded by a border of pure white. The peace flag was adopted by the peace conference of 400 representatives of nations of the world at Philadelphia to establish peace, liberty and justice for the world over.

Prof. Will sent delivered a carefully prepared and scholarly address, suitable to the occasion, accepting the banner on behalf of the district.

A sextet of three male and three female voices sang, "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean," in as fine a manner as we ever heard in a city. The song floated out of the open windows and its strains mingled with perfumed air of the orchards in full bloom and the redolent firs, while over all flung the rich colors of the national stars and stripes.

Miss Ruby Sperry recited "Reorganized Society." Eight little girls sang, "The Beautiful Flag," giving in music and song the history of the flag.

Lilly Sperry spoke, "A Four Leaf Clover." The choir sang, "The Red, White and Blue," and the entire audience arose and joined in the chorus.

Roger London recited a patriotic poem. The assemblage sang, "The Battle Hymn of the Republic—ans." Addison James recited "The Flag of the Free."

Andrew Brown spoke the pledge to the flag. Gertrude Warner, J. W. McKinney and E. Hofer made short addresses on education and general improvement of the community. Mr. McKinney recited a thrilling account of attending the great political meeting in a wigwam built at Sublimity to accommodate the crowds who wanted to hear the joint debate between Logan and Williams, who represented the parties of union or disunion.

The exercises of the day were closed by singing, "The Red, White and Blue," with the entire audience standing and singing the chorus.

One of the improvements in this neighborhood is a fine new Christian church at the North Santiam station. Rev. Morton of Stayton preaching twice a week.

The Good of Medicine. People insisting that medicine does no good, have one stubborn fact to contend with, that is, the people who do believe are greatly in the majority. We have been so fortunate during the past 20 years as to convince thousands of sufferers with weak, watery blood, who had all the symptoms of a general breaking down of the system that one medicine, at least, does good. Nervous and unsteady people, weak, listless people, pimply, pale or sallow people, can have strong, steady nerves and solid healthy flesh by the use of Dr. Gunn's Blood and Nerve Tonic.

A tablet to take at meal time, it turns the food you eat into rich, red blood, making solid flesh at the rate of 1 to 3 lbs. per week. Sold by all druggists for 75c per box, or 3 boxes for $2. This medicine saves doctor bills and insures health, giving the very best treatment possible.

Found Treasures and Ruins of City. Kabul, Afghanistan, April 19.—Upon his arrival at Jellalabad the ameer received a letter from his son, Prince Inayatulla Khan, announcing that while constructing a road in the Kohistan Ilhqua, treasure was found in the village of Zama, consisting of gold and silver coins of ancient kings. Two companies of sappers and miners were at once despatched under the command of Colonel Mohamed Naid Khan to guard the treasure. Another letter was received from Sardar Abdullah Khan Tokhi, of Balkh, stating that while some peasants were preparing their land for cultivation they came upon some ruins, which, on further examination, proved to be wall enclosures of a ruined city. The governor himself visited the spot, and found the ruins of a large city, with some gold coins, the inscriptions of which nobody could read.

There is a tradition among the old Mohammedans that a large Kafir city at one time existed in that locality, which was destroyed long ago and that, in the ruins were buried the treasure of the Kafir kings. Some of the coins have been sent to the ameer for inspection. An effort will be made to excavate the ruins, and any treasure they may contain an order has been given that all valuable finds should be sent with great care to Kabul.

Forming College Association. New York, April 19.—A meeting of presidents and other representatives of colleges and universities of this state will be held at Columbia university this afternoon for the purpose of forming a permanent association of colleges of the state of New York. At the meeting today the name of the association will be selected and a constitution and bylaws will be adopted. The object of the new organization is to secure a closer degree of co-operation between the colleges and universities and the education department of the state.
