OUTLAW SMITH IS KILLED

DYNAMITE THROWN IN THE BUSH BRINGS HIM

DOGS LOCATE THE MURDERER AT FIRST RUN

Giant Powder Runs Him From His Hiding Place, And a Bullet Through His Head Brings His Career to an End

Oregon City, 1.—On a heavily timbered slope between the Southern Pacific tracks and the Willamette river, half a mile south of New Era, Frank Smith, the desperado, was shot and killed at 11:10 o'clock this morning by Harry Graber, a humane society officer of Spokane. The bandit was flushed behind a log in the densest portion of the thicket. The dogs were in leash by Graber, when they ran upon the log behind which the bandit was crouched. The hounds stood hesitatingly for a second, baying loudly and sniffing the air. Graber chanced to look below and saw the bandit. "Are you Smith?" he asked, covering him with his revolver. "I am," replied the desperado, as he reached for his revolver. "Then throw up your hands," said Graber, as he pressed his weapon close to the bandit's head. He fired almost instantly, the bullet entering the bandit's temple. Smith lived for half an hour, though unconscious. The bandit's body was taken from the brush by the railroad tracks, and removed to New Era. As soon as a conveyance could be procured it was removed here. Hundreds of people lined the route.

The killing of the desperado was the climax of a sensational chase, which lasted from early this morning. He was surrounded in the thicket where he met his death by 100 or more men. Three dozen sticks of dynamite were set on fire and hurled into the brush, in the hope of driving the fugitive from his hiding place, and volley after volley of rifle shots were sent into the brush, and the crowd called upon him to come out and surrender. He steadfastly refused. Once he emerged from the edge of the thicket, but instantly returned to his last hiding place. He was found unwounded.

New Era, Or., April 1.—Desperado Smith is dead. Deputy Sheriff Dye, of Clackamas county, telephoned, in response to a Journal inquiry, that Smith went to Canby this morning and bought three cents worth of cookies. He was dressed the same as when he committed his terrible crimes, and was at once recognized, but got away into the brush, hiding in a gully, and but a short distance from the railroad track, a quarter of a mile south of New Era.

Canby people notified Woodburn officials, and soon no less than 60 men were surrounding him. Dynamite, with lighted fuses, was thrown into the brush, but it did not seem to frighten him, but it probably saved the life of Judge Ryan, of Oregon City, who went into the brush after him. The dynamite had stunned Smith so he was unable to use his gun.

The man who came down from Spokane with the bloodhounds, went in after the explosion, and, finding him, shot him at sight. He died half an hour afterwards, or at about 11:20 a. m. He was evidently worn out with the long chase. Sheriff Culver and his posse, who so persistently followed the criminal, were not in at the death. The body was taken to Oregon City.

Smith, outlaw and murderer, is dead. With the cunning of insanity he dodged his pursuers, and, for awhile went out as a candle in the wind. He was, and he was not. But behind him were men not so revengeful, but moved by the stern decrees of justice. They never tired, nor did they avoid any risk in following the murderer of a loved citizen, neighbor and friend. There has been no lack of perseverance in pursuing the murderer. From the time the news was received here of the murder of Henderson and Shaver, Sheriff Culver has personally directed the chase after the outlaw. There has been no sleeping on the trail, and no stopping to calculate expense. In fact, Sheriff Culver, when the county court offered $750 reward for Smith, added from his private funds $250 more, making the reward $1000. Marion county can justly feel proud of the way it has been represented. Smith is dead, and the mourners are few. The coroner will take care of him, because he has to be buried. The world is better off for his being out of it, and the misfortune and pity of it is that he could not have been killed before he had the opportunity to kill three good Oregon citizens.

Could Not Be Taken Alive. It was impossible to take Smith alive, as he had slaughtered three men, and would shoot to kill on sight. If he had been taken alive he would have been mobbed and killed almost on sight, and no power of the officers could have saved him, so infuriated were the masses of people in every part of Clackamas and Marion counties, the homes of Sheriff Shaver and Captain Henderson.

MISERY LIKES COMPANY

San Francisco, May 1.—Experts are busy today in an attempt to open the vaults in the county clerk's office, which contain valuable papers. Although the vaults are badly warped, it is believed the papers are intact. Clerk Mulcreedy has taken in $430 in marriage licenses since the day of the earthquake.

The new San Francisco salvage construction company, capitalized at $1,000,000, associated with contractors and the construction company, filed articles of incorporation today. A number of Los Angeles capitalists have filed articles of incorporation of the San Francisco Building and Wrecking Company.

Emergency payments to bank depositors have been arranged by the clearing house and began this morning. Notes guaranteed by banks were cashed by the clearing house bank in the mint. Certified checks will be accepted for duties on perishable goods in bond, and for taxes. The Western National bank opened today for the purpose of paying city employees.

W. T. Crocker, of the Crocker-Woolworth bank, has returned from the East, where he saw many leading financiers. He reports unlimited faith in the future of San Francisco, and is backed by unlimited credit. Eastern banks offer to purchase all San Francisco securities for sale, and furnish all the needed cash for California promotion. The committee is receiving many letters from Eastern people, asking details of the situation, and of the opportunities to locate here. All express belief in the great chances of business success presented.

A report from Stockton says the bed of the Mokelumne river, in the vicinity of Woodbridge, has fallen 12 feet since the earthquake, and that Tracy lake in San Joaquin county, is drying up. The falling of the water in both cases is a benefit to the farmers.

Southern School Superintendents Meet. Lexington, Ky., May 1.—Delegates from all parts of the south are in attendance at the annual meeting of the state school superintendents' association of the southern states, which opened here today. Prof. S. A. Myrders, superintendent of public instruction for Tennessee, who is also the president of the association of state superintendents, presides at the meeting. The meeting promises to be very interesting, as many matters of great importance will come up for consideration. The association will, among other things, formulate plans for securing and compiling uniform statistics on educational matters in the south. Plans will also be considered for the continuation of the educational campaign, which is now being successfully advanced throughout the south, and which has met with such a signal success in Tennessee especially.

To Repair and Rebuild. Washington, May 1.—Senator Flint introduced bills in the senate providing for the repair and restoration of public buildings in California. The post office $550,000, for the mint $50,000. The appraisers' warehouse $10,000, sub-treasury $25,000, Oakland postoffice $15,000 and San Jose postoffice $40,000.

GREAT STRIKE IN FRANCE

Paris, May 1.—Numerous skirmishes between laboring men and the police occurred early this morning. Six hundred strikers fired on 20 bicycle police in a row at the Oberkampf. The police scattered the rioters. There is almost continuous rioting in the Belleville market. Most of the trouble is being caused by the printers. There have been over 100 arrests. Eighty thousand joined the strike this morning, and the police report that 375 arrests were made today up to noon.

The French Strike. Paris, May 1.—A squadron of cuirassiers and an ambulance corps are occupying a part of the Palace de Le Tolle, and cavalry are patrolling in the vicinity of the ministry and the quay d'Orsay. The police are on guard at the American embassy. A hundred disturbers were taken in the place De la Republique. The prisoners were taken immediately before magistrates and tried and committed to jail.

FORTY THOUSAND STRIKE

Chicago, May 1.—It is estimated that 40,000 workmen connected with the freight and transport service on the lakes are on strike today.

May Cause Another Strike. Chicago, May 1.—Montgomery, Ward & Co., the firm which precipitated the teamsters' strike, are facing another. They refused the demand of the teamsters that they be permitted to wear union buttons. The drivers are quitting, police are guarding the building and the firm is advertising for non-union men.

The Pennsylvania Strike. Mount Carmel, Pa., May 1.—The city is free from rioting this morning, and troops are awaiting orders. The sheriff traveled hurriedly through four counties in the district, and has returned. He said he wouldn't attack the strikers. More constabulary are expected today.

No Petroleum Motors in Hyde Park. London, May 1.—The order prohibiting petroleum motors in Hyde park went into effect today and the absence of these vehicles in the afternoon, when usually thousands of vehicles of all kinds drove through Hyde park was noticed with considerable relief. The principal objection to petroleum motors is that they emit dense smoke and leave a highly offensive odor behind in their wake, which lingers for some time and pollutes the purity of the air eagerly sought by the people.

Want Stricter Sunday Laws. Columbus, O., May 1.—The convention of Protestant clergymen and laymen, called for the purpose of devising means for a stricter enforcement of the Sunday laws in this state, opened here today. The attendance is quite large and nearly all the large and many smaller cities of Ohio are represented by delegates. The object of the convention is to form a permanent organization which will start a general movement for a stricter enforcement of the Sunday laws. The movement is especially directed against Sunday baseball games, picnics, etc.

Chicago Markets. Chicago, May 1.—Wheat 72½@78%, corn 46¼@47¼, oats 32½@32¾.

Another Winner. Athens, Greece, May 1.—Elroy, of New York, won the standing high jump.

HEDGED BY RED TAPE

The Government Gives but San Francisco Would Starve Waiting for the Money

Washington, May 1.—Taft wired Phelan, chairman of the finance committee at Frisco this morning, saying: "There's left available of the government appropriation not over $700,000, which may be expended only for rations, quartermasters' and medical supplies and transportation of troops. It can only be expended through lawful agents of the war department, bonded officers of subsistence, quartermasters and medical bureaus under my direction. This method is provided by congress, and I have no authority to turn the funds over to you, or to allow them to be expended for any purpose except those specified in law."

GREAT FIRE IN MOROCCO

Tangiers, Morocco, May 1.—A great fire in Fez has practically destroyed the Attairin quarter, and the damage is enormous. Looters and soldiers engaged in battle and many were wounded. After the engagement the soldiers looted the burned district.

AND NOW THERE IS LIGHT

San Francisco, May 1.—For the first time since the earthquake the streets were lighted last night, and 800 arc lights illuminated practically all sections of the unburned district. Today the work of restoring the electric lights in the houses was begun. Resumption of the gas service will follow quickly in the residence section. Trolley cars are now permitted to run until 10 o'clock. Soon the unburned sections will be enjoying all the public utilities suggested before the fire. While there are sufficient food supplies in sight to last three weeks, the authorities fear when this supply is gone there will be great suffering. General Greeley is earnestly seeking to regulate the wanton waste which characterized the distribution of the first 12 days. A census is being taken of the seven relief districts, in order to ascertain the exact number of people requiring relief, in order that the needy alone may be supplied. Mayor Schmitz, alarmed at the prospect of a scarcity of food, asks the world to go forth that contributions from all sources are greatly desired. The Western Union this morning occupied a complete new office in West Oakland, which has been constructed since the fire, all the materials having been sent from the East. It was an unparalleled feat of restoration of telegraph service. This office will handle all San Francisco telegraph business for months to come.

Big Labor Parade. London, May 1.—There was a great labor demonstration in Hyde Park today. There were demonstrations in all European capitals, but generally they were quiet.

Oregon Ties on Third. Athens, Greece, May 1.—H. W. Kerrigan, of Portland, Oregon, who represented America in the running high jump, today tied for the third place with a Greek.
