FOR THE CITY OF ROSES

Salem Will Send a Carload to What Was the Beautiful Metropolis of Sonoma

The Salem committee for the California sufferers held a meeting last evening, and decided to forward a carload of provisions to the people of Santa Rosa, who are suffering from the effects of the recent disaster. Some money will also be sent in response to the telegram received recently from Mayor J. P. Overton, of Santa Rosa, and which was published in yesterday's Journal. The car will be sent Wednesday and the people are asked to bring in their contributions early so as to not delay the shipment. Only provisions will be forwarded—no bread is wanted for this carload.

Miss Julia Fraser to Speak

Miss Julia Fraser, Pacific coast field secretary for the Woman's Board of Home Missions, will speak on "Foreign Immigration" in the First Presbyterian church tomorrow (Wednesday) evening at 7:30. Miss Fraser has had a vast amount of experience in the mission field, and her unusual powers of observation make her one of the best informed and interesting speakers of the day. Those who heard her at the North Pacific board meeting in Portland, were delighted with her. Come and hear her.

THE BANK HABIT.

Possibly you who read this have never kept a bank account. If not, let us suggest that you try the experiment. You will find it helpful in many ways. Aside from the fact that your money will be safe from theft and fire, such a habit tends to thrift, economy, discipline, and a general understanding of business principles, all of which are essential to success. It also affords a convenient method for the payment of bills; and, as the checks are always preserved and returned to you, they serve as receipts for the amounts paid.

OBTAIN THEIR DEGREES

Doctors and Nurses Graduate Tonight From Old Willamette

This evening, at the M. E. church the Medical College of Willamette University will hold its 41st annual commencement. Not only will 14 bright young men obtain their doctor's degree this evening, but the following young ladies will be graduated as professional nurses: Lola Myers, of Scio; Helen Walling, of Portland; Anna Downey, of Stayton; and Elsie L. Richter, of this city.

It seems that woman always has the worst of it. The young men who graduate tonight have all kinds of possibilities. All the women can expect is employment. Yet it may well be questioned, whether the 14 young doctors or the four young girls who go out into the world to attend the sick will do the more good or save the more lives. Dr. Willis R. Morse, talking to a Journal reporter this morning, and suggesting this theme, says: "It is undoubtedly true that the trained nurse has saved what the doctor, otherwise, would have lost." It is her watchfulness, her tender, womanly sympathy, her gentle touch, her motherly instinct, her kindly administration, her soothing and quiet presence, the vigilance that makes the mother wake at the infant's stir, the ever-existing desire to aid the suffering, that makes her work efficient. Last at the cross and first at the tomb, she has ever been an angel of mercy, and the hope and salvation of the world. While The Journal has only the best and kindest feeling for the young men who graduate tonight, it much more ardently hopes for the prosperity and happiness of the little women who enter on their lives' work without hope of fame, and moved only by a sense of duty and mercy and infinite pity.

Clean Up the Campus.

The students of the University voted themselves a holiday today. But instead of whiling the hours away, the boys gave themselves up to the beautifying of the campus, and in this endeavor they were materially assisted by the winsome co-eds. This is a commendable display of college spirit; one that means much more than idle yelling at an athletic contest. Boys, here's to you!

COACH LEAVES TODAY

Virgil Garvin, the crack professional baseball player, who has been coaching the high school baseball team, left today for Portland. Garvin will join the "Beavers" and deliver the sphere for Portland's representatives. Speaking of the outlook for baseball on the coast this summer, Mr. Garvin is of the opinion that the withdrawal of the California teams from the league will have a tendency to the formulating of a league in the Northwest, which will probably include Portland, Tacoma, Seattle, Butte and other cities where the great national game has devotees who want the art to flourish.

Garvin believes Salem has some very promising baseball material. He spoke in highest terms of the work of Cary Colman and King. The thing that impressed him most was the willingness of the men to do what they were told, and to listen and abide by any suggestions he might make. This was Garvin's first attempt at coaching, though he has played the game since boyhood. "My work has been very pleasant," said the "Beaver's" great pitcher, "I appreciate the kindness shown me during my stay in Salem, and I leave with pleasant memories of the few weeks spent here." The high school boys are sorry to lose Garvin, for they all, players and supporters of the team, hold him to be a "jolly good fellow." Then too, the little boys, who gathered about him every afternoon to listen to his stock of stories, will also miss him.

Bouillard, who is also appointed executor without bonds. The value of the property is estimated at $1500, and consists of a house and small tract of land west of Jones' nursery, on East State street. CENTRAL HOWELL GRADUATES

Fully 400 people witnessed the exercises last evening. It was a splendid audience. The class that graduated has the honor of being the first to complete the ninth grade work at Central Howell. This class is exceedingly bright. Their motto: "No victory without labor." Class color: Cardinal. Class flower: White carnation. Salem, Silverton, Turner, Macleay and Pratum were represented among the spectators. The comedy was a decided hit. The recitations, songs, solo, drill and orchestra were highly appreciated by all, which was evidenced by the hearty applauding and encores received. Earl DeSart introduced the class. We understand that Earl has been neither absent nor tardy for three consecutive school years. The representatives of the class, salutatorian, class prophet, class historian and valedictorian, did their parts exceptionally well. The valedictorian, in the name of his class, paid high tribute to the principal, Miss Lizzie Cornelius, and the assistant, Miss Clara Harper. The orchestra, under the leadership of E. E. Washburn, principal of the Silverton schools, furnished several pleasing pieces.

Rev. Albyn Esson, of Silverton, a strong character, oratorical and of pleasing address, gave the class rich thought and timely advice in his splendid address. The following program was rendered.

The daughter is Mrs. Clara Robertson, wife of Postmaster Frank Robertson.

Mr. and Mrs. Cannon were married 62 years last Wednesday. Decensed was all his life a good neighbor, a loving father, and died a consistent member of the Christian church. His funeral will be held at Turner Wednesday at 11 a. m. He was a member of the Patrons of Husbandry, and that order will conduct the funeral services.

MORE TIMBER FRAUDS

State Land Agent Oswald West discovered a number of school land certificates, which are a part of the Puter-McKinley land deals. Thirteen of these were sent to the department by the Commercial bank, of Eureka, Cal., covering about 4000 acres, and 15 of the certificates were sent by E. G. Jones, of Appleton, Wis., covering about 5000 acres. Mr. Jones is evidently one of the worst victims of misplaced confidence. He resided at Hood River two years with his brother, who is an expert timber cruiser, but the wiles of the gang caught him.

No Prohibition Ticket in Linn County.

A dispatch from Albany last night says:

"For the first time in 15 years there will be no Prohibition ticket in the county election in Linn county this year. The old method was declared devoid of results at a meeting of the Prohibition county central committee in this city Saturday. After considerable argument the members of the committee decided that they can accomplish more to promote the principles of their party if they vote for good men on the other tickets, instead of having a ticket of their own. There was some talk of endorsing certain candidates on the Republican and Democratic tickets, but it was later agreed that each member of the party should choose for himself what candidates were worthy of a Prohibitionist's vote."

Had Some Experience.

PINEY RIDGE TONIC

Tonight Piney Ridge will play at the Grand Opera house a story of the most real heart interest. The story is laid in Tennessee. The Lyceum Company will be the night. "Piney Ridge" is a story of success, and should have the patronage of the play-loving public.

Miss Jane Kelton will have the role of "Arzelle Deering" in the play. The play will be handled by Wm. H. of "Jack Rose," Miss "Dagamar," and Mr. O'Leary as "Mark Briarson."

The Kealey Sisters, who are the audience's affectionate favorites, appear in different costumes, new songs tonight. It is a salaried vaudeville act in which with any repertoire show act. It might well be imagined that Hart had them in mind when he "Tagioni and Cerito will be pined. For the vigor and grace who movements contained. Even Rigelboche never sang like robe.
