ELECTION DATES TO REMEMBER.

Canvassing votes for nominating state and district candidates May 5.
Last day for filing nominating petitions for county offices May 19.
Last day for filing certificates of nomination May 5.
General election June 4.

ELECT THE WHOLE TICKET.

That is the best thing to do under all the circumstances. Nothing can be gained by Republicans defeating any nominee of the direct primary.

Those who are bitterly opposed to Jonathan Bourne cannot help themselves by electing a Democrat June 4th, and then defeating him in the legislature.

THAT WOULD ONLY LEAD TO THE DEFEAT OF THE NEXT REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR THE UNITED STATES SENATE, AND MAKE THE STATE ENTIRELY DEMOCRATIC.

The friends of clean men and people's policies should support Mr. Bourne, and two years hence, if they want a new man in place of Mr. Fulmer, they can vote on some man like Lowell and try it out at the primary.

The election of Mr. Hawley as congressman will give the friends of that gentleman a trial of him as a leader in this district, and if he is not satisfactory can be set aside.

The same way with the state ticket. IT IS NOT IN EVIDENCE THAT A SINGLE DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE IS ON RECORD FOR REFORMS ANY MORE, OR AS MUCH AS THE REPUBLICANS ARE.

A vigorous campaign will elect the whole ticket and heal the party dissensions, and give the people a better state administration. At least that is what we hope for.

A NEW PORTLAND BANK.

The Oregon Trust and Savings Corporation has opened its doors for business in an elegant new banking house, corner Sixth and Washington streets, Portland, Oregon. It has all the modern facilities and conveniences for doing a general banking business, even to a gentlemanly floorwalker, who directs customers to the various wickets where they are waited upon by experienced employees. This guide takes pains to ascertain what each person wants, and even instructs them how to transact their business. Thus the time of customers and employees is not wasted. This is a valuable feature in any modern, up-to-date business. The president of the new bank is Walter H. Moore, who began business less than 20 years ago as one of the firm of Moore Bros., in eastern Oregon, in the little town of Moro, Sherman county. From small beginnings the Moore brothers worked their way up into the confidence of the business world, until today one of them, with his associates, is at the head of a million dollar institution. It shows what good business ability, backed by character and perseverance, can accomplish in Oregon.

FREE RURAL MAIL.

Few persons realize the convenience, the social advantage, and the real practical benefit of the free rural mail to the farmer and dwellers in suburban homes.

The traveling postoffice and postmaster combined not only gathers and distributes mail, but sells postage stamps, stamped envelopes and wraps.

A habit is formed through repetition of the same act. If you will covenant to lay away a certain sum every week, and keep faith with yourself, you will have formed a habit that is worth something. The fruits may be gathered in old age, or in time of need, and may prove of untold benefit.

Savings deposits of one dollar or more received at any time. Interest paid at the rate of three per cent per annum compounded semi-annually.

per, but does many little errands, courtesies and accommodations for the entire neighborhood.

Many of the free rural carriers are doing a cancellation business larger than the postoffice which they displace. For instance, Roy Simeral, the Masclevy carrier, is cancelling from $1.50 to $3. per day, and never less than $20 per month.

He is on the road seven to eight hours, and makes 25 to 30 miles per day, rain or shine, and for this service receives $7.00 per year. He furnishes two horses and a cart. The feed, repairs, extra clothing, wear and tear, replacement, and other expenses amount to about $200 per year, leaving him $400 for his services. It would seem that the government should give these men at least $50 per month and an allowance of $300 for maintenance.

BUILDING DIRT ROADS.

Road Supervisor W. W. Lander has been doing some excellent work in constructing a first class dirt road from Lake Labis to Brooks, a stretch of about three miles. He has been using a grader very intelligently, and is finishing his work with a split log drag and roller. He has good, straight lines and well opened ditches, with a clean cut berm on each side. He has taken out nearly all the plank culverts and put in sitch tiling, leaving the road perfectly smooth and the tiling will not rot away like the plank.

Where tiling can be had for culverts there is little excuse for putting down plank. Mr. Lander is setting a good pace for the other road supervisors and is showing what can be done in constructing a highway out of just common ordinary Marion county dirt. The dirt road, where it is properly built, makes the best driveway and will carry all ordinary farm traffic.

For speeding a good trotting horse or driving a team of fine roadsters to the family carriage there is nothing equal to a good earth roadway. Mr. Lander is a believer in the virtues of the split log drag as a road making implement. He smoothed up a half mile of road last winter and it was better traveling and hauling than ever before. He employs the drag to force the grade up in the center, to smooth the roadway and make it solid. There should be more of these used in the Willamette valley.

A MOUNTAIN BAND.

One of the best brass bands in the state is known as the Parrott Mountain band. This musical aggregation is led by James Parrott, a natural musician, and is composed of 18 performers.

Their home is in the country, high up in the mountains of Yamhill county. They not only maintain a good band, playing difficult compositions with good tempo and fine expression, but they wear good blue uniforms, trimmed with gold braid. They have played at all the pioneer day celebrations at Champoug in honor of the organization of the provisional government, and if a war broke out tomorrow, with a foreign foe, and to protect the honor of Old Glory, the Parrott Mountain band would be found ready to furnish patriotic music.

Pioneer Days.

(By S. A. Clarke.)

Many of the old pioneers and leading men of the state have endorsed Mr. S. A. Clarke's history as being complete and correct in history of Oregon and Indian wars. He touches with much interest upon the following topics:

- Lewis and Clark expedition, Astor expedition.
- Great Annual Fairs of the Indians, Legends of Nehalem.
- Life and Times of Dr. John McLaughlin.
- Methodist Mission.
- Whitman's Mid-Winter Ride.
- Emigrations from 1842 to 1845.
- Willapaw Massacre, 1847.
- Pioneer Currency and Making of Beaver Money.
- Judge Thornton's Life.

Mr. Clarke has his papers and notes of early days and was Dr. McLaughlin's lawyer. This history is most interesting and should be in every home. On sale at Patton Bros.' book store.

Survival of the Fitter.

A fitter who squeezed into a boiler at the railroad station at Crews, England, apparently increased in size while inside, for he could not get out. The engine was obviously not of the kind known as triple expansion, and a problem of the most serious order faced the other employees. At first it was proposed to get up steam and drive him through the safety valve in the ordinary way. His previous good character, however, and the possession of a large family, secured him a reprieve. The boiler was taken to pieces, the incident ended, according to a London journal, in the "survival of the fitter."

For fine meats at right prices go to Parrington's market, State street.

A. B. Newland, who recently came here from Oakland, Cal., left last evening for a business trip to Portland. Mr. Newland had charge of the physical work in the Hoover University, and was for some time physical director of the Bellanca Athletic Club. Mr. Newland is now engaged in business and will make his headquarters in this city.

A Mountain of Gold

Could not bring as much happiness to Mrs. Lucia Wilke of Caroline, Wis., as did one 25c box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, when it completely cured a running sore on her leg, which had tortured her 23 long years. Greatest antiseptic healer of piles, wounds and sores. 25 cents at J. C. Perry's drug store.

HE WASN'T DRESSED BUT HE WAS CERTAINLY DRUNK

Jim Kerr is an exceptional man. Everybody says so, the marshal, Judge Fitzgerald and Jim himself.

To prove the matter it is only necessary to remark that while very many men try to break out of jail, history recalls but few who have succeeded in breaking in. This latter is the feat Jim accomplished yesterday afternoon with the aid of Judge Fitzgerald, who had the authority and the city marshal who had the keys.

The judge was footing up how much the March sin account totaled yesterday afternoon, when he was interrupted by an unobtrusive though very drunk and very battered individual.

"I want to go to jail," stuttered the visitor, pointing a wavering finger indefinitely toward the horizon.

"That's where you are bound, whether you want or not," said the judge severely, mindful of the dignity of his court.

The man sank into a chair with a satisfied sigh and waited for his sentence.

"I'm not a thief or a desperado," he explained, "but I am pretty drunk. I have been drunk for a month, and can't get sober. I want to go to jail until I can sober up."

And that is why Jim Kerr was the complaining witness in the case of the city of Pendleton vs. Jim Kerr, now serving an indeterminate sentence in the calaboose.—Pendleton Tribune.

Herbina.

Will overcome indigestion and dyspepsia; regulate the bowels and cure liver and kidney complaints.

It is the best blood enricher and invigorator in the world. It is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, and should you be a sufferer from disease you will use it if you are wise.

B. N. Andrews, editor and manager Cocoa and Rockledge News, Cocoa, Fla., writes: "I have used your Herbina in my family, and find it a most excellent medicine. Its effects upon myself have been a marked benefit. D. J. Fry."

The Whale.

An English schoolboy gives his views regarding the whale: "The whale is not called a fish because it is so big, so it is called a creature. They eat cockles and worms and jellies. The whales swim in shoals, and they have a tarpoon at the end of their tails, when he moves his tail, with one blow he will smash the side of the ship. It has a very big head and two fins, or flappers, on one side of its body. Fishmongers catches whales all the time. Some people eat whales with salt and piper and bread, and some with potatoes. If you keep a whale's head under water he will die for want of breath."

Postmaster Robbed.
G. W. Fouts, postmaster at Biverton, Ia., nearly lost his life and was robbed of all comfort, according to his letter, which says: "For 20 years I had chronic liver complaint, which led to such a severe case of jaundice that even my finger nails turned yellow; when my doctor prescribed Electric Bitters; which cured me and have kept me well for 11 years." Sure cure for biliousness, neuralgia, weakness and all stomach, liver, kidney and bladder troubles. A wonderful tonic. At J. C. Perry's drug store. 50 cents.
