KINDT ENDORSES HAWLEY

Kinton, Or., May 21, 1906.

To the Editor: W. C. Hawley, "made in Oregon" 42 years ago, will be the first native son to occupy a seat in the halls of congress from this district. A typical American, a splendid example of the products of our states, he has in him the right kind of stuff for a very successful and useful member of congress. I have had a casual acquaintance with Mr. Hawley for some time, and have frequently heard him make short introductory talks at Chautauqua meetings at Gladstone Park. But his recent speech at Hillsboro, in this county, was the first extended effort I have ever heard him make. Those who have been most familiar with Mr. Hawley and his work have spoken so highly of him, that, to me, it was an agreeable surprise to know that he had not been over estimated as a public speaker. His address was not indeed like campaign addresses, a eulogy of one party and a denunciation of the opposition, but rather a larger view of things political and in this respect it was much superior to a certain class of political harangues. This meeting was largely attended and enthusiastic in its reception to the speaker. Mr. S. B. Huston who was one of Mr. Hawley's opponents for the nomination to congress presided, and made a short but very appropriate address, in which he pledged his support to Mr. Hawley, and urged the necessity of Republican victory all along the line in this campaign. Hawley's athletic build and powerful physique will be of good service to him when he gets to Washington, because the life of a congressman, especially from the West, is one continued round, not of pleasure, but of hard work. I lived for three years in Washington city, and I know from observation something of the unending tasks which confront senators and representatives there. Each member is on from three to six committees, and each committee meets once a week at 10 o'clock in the morning. Congress meets at noon, and is usually in session five or six hours. A multitude of matters require daily attention at the various departments of the government, and the mail of the average congressman brings 50 letters daily, so that it is not at all difficult to see that his time is fully occupied. Mr. Hawley is the kind of man who will succeed in congress. He is not egotistical, arrogant or overbearing, but approachable, pleasant and courteous in his treatment of others. He has in an eminent degree the power of public speech, and that will be of inestimable benefit to him. It is true there are representatives who exercise large influence, and who are not famed as speakers, but, other things being equal, the man who has a good presence, a good voice, a good command of choice language, a sound and thorough education and a knowledge of the fundamental principles of law, history, political economy and the problems of the day will win every time over the man who is deficient in these respects. Mr. Hawley possesses these qualities. He has good judgment, is not rash of speech, erratic or flighty, but rather philosophical and conservative, such as every man who takes a broad view and whose vision is not limited and obscured by petty details. Having a thorough education and a well-trained mind, he comes to the performance of duty well equipped. From a somewhat extended observation I know that in ability and capacity he is above the average congressman.

Park Place, Or., May 20, 1906. Comrades: The fifth annual reunion of the Association of Veterans of First Oregon Cavalry and Infantry Volunteers will be held in conjunction with the state encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Grants Pass, Oregon, on June 21, 1906. All comrades and their families are cordially invited to be present and participate. J. T. APPERSON, Com. W. M. Hilleary, Adjutant.

A Positive Necessity.

Having to lay upon my bed for 14 days from a severely bruised leg, I only found relief when I used a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment. I can cheerfully recommend it as the best medicine for bruises ever sent to the afflicted. It has now become a positive necessity upon myself."

COUNCILMEN HAVE REDHOT ARGUMENT

South Commercial Street and the Mistake in the Grade Stirs up Bayne Who Pokes Balance of Menagerie

The South Commercial street improvement question was again the bone of contention at the council meeting last evening. The discussion which ensued was led by Councilman Bayne on the one side and the members of the street committee on the other. Alderman Wallace and Alderman Downing practically admitted that a mistake had been made in the survey establishing the grade or the improvement of the street. Mr. Bayne presented a petition asking that the Warren Construction Company be requested and required to make the improvement on the grade established by ordinance, and stipulated in the contract, and introduced a resolution in accord with the petition. The adoption of the resolution launched a lively debate, tinged with the exchange of personalities between Messrs. Bayne, Downing and Wallace. Mr. Bayne spoke in favor of the adoption of the resolutions, and said: "I am always sorry to have to make a fight for the rights of my neighbors, when their rights are so clear." He related his conversation with members of the committee, and said that he regretted that the matter had been delayed for so long. He believed that the city ought to protect itself against the establishment of a grade different from that agreed to by contract. He stated that the grade established by Mr. Bushey was practically the same as recently made by Mr. Fisher, of Albany. The surface rock now placed on the street is not, said Mr. Bayne, as required by the contract.

Councilman Wallace said that the problem of the South Commercial street reminded him of Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice," and that the citizens along Commercial street were playing the role of Shylock. The people, in the majority of cases, are satisfied with the street. "There has been a mistake made somewhere, gentlemen, I do not deny it," the speaker feared a lawsuit might result.

Chairman Downing, of the street committee, did not think the resolutions were manly. He termed them "a baby act." He said he had been told that there was a conflict between the grade ordinance and the assessment bearing on the same. He did not see how it would be possible now to make the improvement on the grade of the ordinance, even if it could be ascertained.

Councilman Acheson said that the property owners were divided on the question of the improvement.

Councilman Jacobs thought a competent surveyor should be secured to resurvey the grade of the street.

A motion was passed by a vote of 5 to 5 to defer the discussion of the proposition until Friday evening. Councilman Bayne moved that the Warren Construction Company and Citizens' Light & Traction company be requested to discontinue their work until council passes on the question next Friday evening.

Councilman Wallace stated that a mistake of about a foot had been made by the surveyor in taking his starting point from the monument near Mission street. When brought to a vote there was 10 ayes and 3 nays for the adoption of the Bayne resolution. The announcement was a sort of emancipation proclamation to a number of interested citizens who had listened to the prolonged discussion.

In the absence of Mayor Waters P. L. Frazier was chosen as presiding officer. The roll call showed all the councilmen present. The first incident of the session was raised by the motion of Councilman Baker to dispense with the reading of the minutes, which was lost by a vote of 7 to 6.

The committee on current expenses reported on the following bills, which were allowed, and warrants ordered drawn for the same:

John Hughes	$ 3.25
Savage & Fletcher	2.55
Ben Drake	4.00
White & Cummins	2.00
D. A. White & Son	2.80
Statesman Pub. Co.	13.75
E. S. Budlong	$9.00
Z. J. Riggs	2.40
Salem Truck & Dray Co.	2.00
C. K. Bigges	2.00
C. W. Yankus	2.00
Wade, Pearce & Co.	1.19
C. L. & T. Co.	22.00

Siegmund & Co.	6.55
C. L. & T. Co., lights	24.70
Savage & Fletcher	58.00
Salem Water Co.	138.32
Capital City Transfer Co.	2.25
J. Darr	5.00
W. H. Burghardt & Co.	.85
S. H. White	.50
C. L. & T. Co.	381.40
House Furnishing Co.	3.00
Capital Improvement Co.	35.25

The committee on the South Commercial street improvement reported they were handicapped by the absence of ex-City Commissioner Byars, and wished more time to investigate the matter.

Relative to a sprinkling district the committee reported that abutting property owners could not be assessed, but that provisions for sprinkling the streets could be made out of the general fund.

Mr. Gesner, of the bridge committee, reported that it had been decided to make much needed repairs on the steel bridge across the Willamette river, and that the county would give the matter attention and that the city would pay its proportionate share of the expenses. He suggested that some work was needed on the Fifth street bridge and the State street bridge, but wished an extension of time for thorough examination.

Councilman Goodale moved that the motion of Councilman Low, which was tabled at the last session, be taken up for discussion. Since there appeared to be a difference of opinion as to the intrinsic meaning of the motion, Councilman Bayne moved that the representatives of the manufacturing concerns of these chemical engines be granted the privilege to present their bids to the council. Motion was adopted. The bids presented by the A. G. Coffey Company and the American LaFrance Engine Company were then read. The bids were the same. The matter was referred to the committee on fire and water for investigation, to be reported upon next Friday evening.

The committee on the Breymann fountain said they had consulted with a plumber to make the repairs necessary and to re-bronze the fountain, and had expected to present the figures at this meeting, but were unable to do so.

Alderman Bayne's motion that it be the sense of the city council to purchase an up-to-date road grader was laid on the table until Friday evening.

It was voted that the street committee investigate the records and report Friday evening in the matter of establishing a uniform grade for the cement sidewalk on the west side of Liberty street between State and Court.

Alderman Lowe was given the power to purchase a suitable horse for the street cleaning department.

The application of August Schreiber for a liquor license was placed in the hands of the committee for consideration.

The famous long-delayed health ordinance was passed. It establishes a board of health and provides for the maintenance of the health of the city in general. The present county physician, Dr. F. E. Smith, will act as secretary of the city board of health until the council elects some one to the position.

The resignation of Street Commissioner W. L. Skipton, who is to remove from the city, was accepted and H. R. Page was unanimously chosen to fill the vacancy. Ben Drake was elected as assistant street commissioner.

A warrant for the sum of $7 was ordered drawn in favor of Heckman & Hedrick for freight delivery due them on coal for the fire department.

Postmaster Robbed.

G. W. Potts, postmaster at Riverton, Ia., nearly lost his life and was robbed of all comfort, according to his letter, which says: "For 20 years I had chronic liver complaint, which led to such a severe case of jaundice that even my finger nails turned yellow; when my doctor prescribed Electric Bitters; which cured me and have kept me well for 11 years." Sure cure for biliousness, neuralgia, weakness and all stomach, liver, kidney and bladder troubles. A wonderful tonic. At J. C. Perry's drug store. 50 cents.

TOWN DAFT ON TENNIS

The lawn tennis bacilli are in the air and the fever is becoming contagious. Various clubs have been organized, and courts have been built by those who "love" the game. The University has a strong tennis club, and two courts are constantly thronged with the wielders of the racket. Another court has also been constructed in the yards of A. N. Moores and H. Pohle, which are being used by the students of the high school's tennis clubs. D. J. Fry is building a court, which is destined to be the ideal one of the city. It is to have a cement foundation, and will probably cost $500 when finished. A number less pretentious courts are also being built, and it is probable that a tournament will be held among the tennis clubs of the city.

Fortunate Missourians.

"When I was a druggist at Livonia, Mo.," writes T. J. Dwyer, now of Grayville, Mo., "three of my customers were permanently cured of consumption by Dr. King's New Discovery and are well and strong today. One was trying to sell his property and move to Arizona, but after using Dr. King's New Discovery a short time he found it unnecessary to do so. I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as the most wonderful medicine in existence." Surest cough and cold cure and throat and lung healer. Guaranteed by J. C. Perry, druggist. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

COWS KILLED AT STATION.

Chemawa Man Sustains Heavy Loss, and Has No Recourse.

Three cows, the property of William Goodrich, a farmer living near Chemawa, were killed by the Southern Pacific overland, which passes Chemawa at 11 o'clock at night. The cows were struck just in front of the depot, where a few days ago another cow owned by Mr. Goodrich was killed, being thrown from the track and tearing out a corner of the depot.

The loss will fall heavily on Mr. Goodrich, as he will have no recourse, the cows being killed in the station yard. Goodrich claims that the cows were driven on the track by some person or persons unknown.

General Summary.

The week was showery and cool. The rains were heaviest in the western counties and lightest in the central and southeast portions of the state. The soil is now well soaked nearly everywhere west of the Cascade mountains, and fairly well wetted in the northeastern counties. The temperatures during the forepart of the week were much below normal, and light frosts occurred on Wednesday and Thursday mornings. During the latter part of the week the temperatures were about normal. The sunshine was deficient, especially in the western counties. High winds occurred locally, but they were not destructive.

Bank Money Orders

Make the best form of remittances—better than postoffice or express money orders. They cost less. You don't have to fill out a complicated "application blank." If a Bank Money Order is lost or stolen you get your money back without trouble, red tape or tedious delay. Another thing: If the party you send your money to claims he did not receive it, you can come to the bank and get the records and documents to prove that you sent it. A $100 bank money order costs 10 cents—just half as much as post-office or express orders.
