Rt. Rev. F. X. Blanchet.

Rt. Rev. Francis Xavier Blanchet, D. D., vice-general of the archdiocese of Oregon, died suddenly at 3 o'clock Tuesday morning at his residence in Portland. A feeling of gloom pervades the offices of the archdiocese and of St. Vincent's Hospital, with which the priest was intimately connected.

Monsignor Blanchet had long been a sufferer from bronchial and asthmatic troubles; and for several days past had had a severe cold. Nevertheless, he said mass yesterday morning and performed his daily duties as usual. In the evening a few friends were with him and he seemed to be in no alarming condition. After the departure of his guests his condition suddenly changed for the worse, and the sister who was attending him, becoming alarmed, sent for Father Edward P. Murphy, who as soon as he reached the bedside perceived the indications of impending dissolution and sent for Dr. A. C. Smith, of the St. Vincent's staff.

"It is the beginning of the end," said the dying priest. "I realize that I shall pass away tonight."

The last rites of the church were performed, and at 3 o'clock the end came. The vicar-general was conscious up to the last and died peacefully.

Francis Xavier Blanchet was a native of Canada, the son of French parents. He was ordained priest at Quebec and came to Oregon in 1862, where he has labored continuously for 44 years. He was a nephew of Rt. Rev. Monsignor Blanchet, the first archbishop of Oregon, and of Bishop Blanchet, who first had charge of the diocese of Washington. He was 70 years of age.

He became vice-general many years ago and has constantly discharged the duties of that office in Portland. He was chaplain of St. Vincent's hospital and gave much of his time to comforting the sick and dying in that institution. He is universally spoken of as a man of great kindness and charity, and of great ability in his work. Speaking in the name of Archbishop Christie this morning, Rev. Edward P. Murphy said:

"The archbishop feels that in the death of Monsignor Blanchet the archdiocese has met a great loss, and the archbishop personally realizes that he has lost a wise counsellor and a very sincere friend."

It was the request of Monsignor Blanchet that he be buried at St. Paul, Or., where the remains of his uncle, the late archbishop, lie, and for that reason it has not yet been possible to arrange the details of the funeral. As soon as the body is prepared for burial it will lie in state at the cathedral until Friday morning, but the hour in contingent upon the arrangements that may be made for transportation of the funeral party to St. Paul.

A Positive Necessity.

Having to lay upon my bed for 14 days from a severely bruised leg, I only found relief when I used a bottle of Ballard's Snow Lintiment. I can cheerfully recommend it as the best medicine for bruises ever sent to the afflicted. It has now become a positive necessity upon myself."

D. B. Byrnes, merchant, Doversville, Texas. 25c, 50c and $1. D. J. Fry.

Some Hop Contracts.

Several hop contracts have been filed with the county recorder. So far something like 78,000 pounds have been contracted for.

Five contracts are held by the firm of B. O. Sebucking & Co., of this city, as follows: G. A. Pelland, St. Paul, 10,000 pounds; J. J. Coyle, St. Paul, 15,000 pounds; W. D. Pugh, Salem, 5000 pounds; A. E. Haggerty, Salem, 10,000 pounds; Sam Lee Louis, Salem, 14,000 pounds, all at 10 cents. Other contracts are A. Lehman & Co., at 10 cents; D. E. and Sarah Pendleton, Butteville, 5000 pounds; Julius Paulsen and Christ Klinder, Aurora, 10,000 pounds; John Given, of Shaw, 9000 pounds to S. Farrar at 8 cents.

Growing Aches and Pains.

Mrs. Josie Sumner, Bremond, Tex., writes April 15, 1902: "I have used Ballard's Snow Lintiment in my family for three years. I would not be without it in the house. I have used it on my little girl for growing pains and aches in her knees. It cured her right away. I have also used it for frost bitten feet, with good success. It is the best lintiment I ever used." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by D. J. Fry's drug store.

Unveiling Patriotic Memorial.

South Royalton, Vt., May 23.—An interesting ceremony will take place here this afternoon, when the memorial monument erected here to commemorate the burning of Royalton by the British and Indians in 1759 will be unveiled. A highly interesting program for the exercises has been arranged. The monument will be unveiled by six little girls, all descendants of families who suffered through the destruction of Royalton. A number of prominent speakers from out of town will deliver addresses of a historical and patriotic character. The Rev. William Skinner Hazen, of Beverly, Mass., will be among the principal guests at the dedication ceremony.

OREGON STUDENT DROWNED

Dudley R. Newell Shoots Rapids at Eugene and Meets Death

University of Oregon, Eugene, May 23.—Dudley R. Newell, a junior at the University of Oregon, was drowned in the Willamette river last evening after "shooting" the rapids near the rapids at the head of the mill race. With Charles Neal, as a companion, Newell went up the race in a canoe and paddled some distance above the rapids. At this time of the year the rapids are so rough that a boat requires skillful handling to pass them safely, but both students agreed to risk a ducking and let their boat drift with the current.

According to Neal, the survivor, they had safely reached the bottom of the rapids when the canoe struck a rock and capsized, throwing both into the water. After a short struggle each regained the overturned canoe and floated down stream safely enough, until, as they attempted to right the half-submerged boat, it slipped away under the water.

Newell then started to swim for shore, while Neal, afraid to attempt the distance, waited for the canoe to reappear, and, as he caught it, glanced across the water to see his mate sink for the last time. Panic-stricken, he left the boat, swam ashore and ran nearly two miles to secure help.

The news spread like wildfire, and almost immediately 200 students were on the scene and five boats supplied with grappling hooks and divers were searching for the body, but the water is very swift and murky, so there is little hope of recovering the body.

Newell was one of the most popular students attending college, and held a very responsible position as manager of the Oregon Weekly. He was a resident of Eugene, but was originally registered from Nehalem, Tillamook county, where his father was a prominent politician.

Exposure.

To cold draughts of air, to keen and cutting winds, sudden changes of the temperature, scanty clothing, undue exposure of the throat and neck after public speaking and singing, bring on coughs and colds.

Ballard's Horehound Syrup is the best cure. Mrs. A. Barr, Houston, Tex., writes, Jan. 1, 1902: "One bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup cured me of a very bad cough. It is very pleasant to take." Sold by D. J. Fry.

Men Wanted.

Sawmill and lumber yard laborers, $2.25 per day. Woodsmen, $2.25 to $3.00. Steady work. Apply to Booth-Kelly Lumber Co., Eugene, Or. 5-22-tf

Hottman Finished Slaughter While Lover Held Her Husband.

A Kansas City Dispatch says of Frank Hottman and Mrs. Aggie Myers, who are to be hanged June 29:

The murder of Clarence Myers by his wife, Aggie Myers, and Frank Hottman, her lover, was most cold blooded. Myers was a printer and lived with his wife in a small cottage on the outskirts of the city. Hottman was a frequent caller at the houses. Hottman and Mrs. Myers it developed at their trial, deliberately planned to get Myers out of the way so they could marry.

On the night of the murder the woman let Hottman into the house. Hottman in the darkness struck Myers with a billiard cue. Myers called to his wife for help. In reply she stabbed her husband repeatedly in the back with a pair of scissors and held him while Hottman finished the job. Mrs. Myers gave Hottman money with which he fled to Walla Walla, Wash., where he was arrested.

Hottman confessed, implicating the woman.

THE HIGH AGAINST CHEMAWA

Keens, the high school twirler, was the hero of the game yesterday afternoon, and when the game was over his team-mates and supporters carried him on their shoulders, just as in the long ago the Franks hoisted King Clovis upon their shields. When Keens sent the last ball careening beyond the whitewashed fence, pandemonium broke loose, the winsome co-eds screamed their loudest, the grand stand sat up and took notice, and the rooters hugged one another and shouted for joy. The high school has a good team, and it played an interesting game yesterday. The Chemawas, too, put up the real article, and the contest, as a whole, was the most spectacular game of the season. Twelve innings was necessary to decide which team would be victorious. The final score was 7 to 6.

Jones, who wields the big mit for the Salem boys, displayed good head work, and batted well.

The prtiest field catch of the day was made by Eyre, the center fielder for the high school, who, with a kangaroo leap, froze to one of the swiftest drives ever made by Saunders, the big Chemawa first baseman. Eyre slipped, fell and rolled over and over again, to the delight of the Indians, who thought he had ropped the ball, but, with a grin on his face, he got up, with the ball peacefully resting in his mit. Then the crowd cheered and yelled loudly. It is unnecessary to comment on the work of the different players; all played the game of their lives. The high school battery did especially good work. For Chemawa Bagnell was the star. Teabo, the catcher, played his usual good game, but did not do very effective batting. Rube Saunders, at first, was there with the goods. The lineup of both teams follows:

Salem—Jones c, Roberts ss, Harrison 3b, Keens p, Moores 2b, Perkins lf, Fisher rf, Gabrielson lb, Eyre cf.

Chemawa—Bagnell ss, Poland 2b and p, Casey 3b, Teabo c, Saunders lb, Sartor lf, Bill 2b and p, David cf, McCully and Washoe rf.

Fortunate Missourians.

"When I was a druggist at Livonia, Mo.," writes T. J. Dwyer, now of Graysville, Mo., "three of my customers were permanently cured of consumption by Dr. King's New Discovery and are well and strong today. One was trying to sell his property and move to Arizona, but after using Dr. King's New Discovery a short time he found it unnecessary to do so. I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as the most wonderful medicine in existence."

Surest cough and cold cure and throat and lung healer. Guaranteed by J. C. Perry, druggist. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

Baseball Coming.

Another good game of baseball is in store for the lovers of the great national game. Next Saturday the University of Oregon cohorts come to try conclusions with the Willamette team. The Eugene men believe they will administer the severest drubbing the Methodists have ever had at the hands of the wearers of the lemon. Such talk however, to the Willamettes sounds as tinkling cymbals, and is looked upon as mere "hot air." The last game between the two teams was won by the Salem boys by the score of 7 to 6, and it was played in the enemy's territory, too. Willamette does not fear for her laurels, though she expects a particularly interesting game.

High School Stock Up.

The result of the baseball game yesterday has raised the high school baseball stock above par. It is expected a large crowd of rooters will accompany the team to Portland next Friday, when the locals will cross bats with the Portland high school nine. There is a strong belief that the Salem boys will win the day. Few of the local fans had ever realized the possibilities of the high school boys until yesterday, but the outcome of that game has inspired confidence in the players and their backers. On to Portland, boys! Go to 'em, and win!

International Philathelic Exhibition.

London, May 23.—The International Philathelic Exhibition was opened here today, and stamp collectors from all parts of the world, particularly from Great Britain and the European continent, are assembled here in large numbers to visit the interesting session. One of the most interesting exhibits is the collection of Hawaiian stamps, collected by H. J. Crocker, of San Francisco, which is valued at more than $45,000. It was sent from San Francisco to London only a few days before the earthquake, and thus fortunately escaped destruction.

They Caught the Salmon.

There are two lucky women in Salem. On Monday afternoon Miss Lena Buck and Mrs. James Olinger, of 1098 Mill street, saw a salmon in Mill creek, just back of their residence. They at first tried to throw it out with a rake, but they were not quick enough. Miss Buck then ran for a pitchfork, and they chased the salmon up stream. After a short run, the fish turned and swam with the current. As it passed under a small foot bridge Mrs. Olinger plunged the fork into the salmon, and landed it safely. The fish weighed nine pounds.

NIGHTS OF UNREST.

No Sleep, No Rest, No Peace for the Sufferer from Kidney Troubles.

No peace for the kidney sufferer—Pain and distress from morn to night. Get up with a lame back, Twinges of backache bother you all day.
