

Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicine greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts and in solution much better than alcohol. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable solvent, nutritive, antiseptic and antispasmodic. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherrybark, Golden Seal, Queen's root and Queen's root, combined in "Golden Medical Discovery" in treating chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchitis, throat and lung affections, and all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities. In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal, Queen's root, Queen's root and Black Cherrybark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe, recurrent, chronic coughs, bronchitis and laryngeal troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures. Send for and read the little book of extracts, treating of the properties and uses of the several medicinal roots that enter into Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and learn why this medicine has such a wide range of application in the cure of diseases. It is sent free of charge. Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. The "Discovery" contains no alcohol or harmful, habit-forming drug. Ingredients all printed on each bottle wrapper in plain English. Sick people, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and absolutely confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for one copy, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy.

Baltimore Horse Show Opens.

Baltimore, Md., May 23.—The Baltimore horse show, the most fashionable event of the spring, will open this afternoon on the grounds of the Elkridge Hunt Club, and will continue to the end of the week. The arrangements are completed, and everything has been done to insure the comfort of the visitors. The list of entries has never been as large, and never before has a better class of horses been shown here than at this exhibition. Some of the finest horsemen are among the judges, like P. M. Ware, who will be the sole judge of trotters and roadsters; R. F. Smith, of Berwyn, Pa.; Reginald Elmes, Henry V. Colt, Jr., Charles H. Wheeler and James K. Madhux, of Baltimore.

Honor to Longfellow.

Washington, D. C., May 23.—Strong efforts are being made to induce congress to make the necessary appropriation for the purpose of securing a site upon which a memorial monument in honor of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow is to be erected. The matter has been brought to the attention of congress by the house committee on library, which recommends the appropriation of $4000 for the preparation of a suitable site. The monument, for which the Longfellow Memorial Association has already raised a considerable sum, is to be erected in this city, and the government will be asked to give a suitable site somewhere on the public grounds, other than the grounds of the capitol or the library of congress.

ABOUT COOS BAY

Marshfield Merchant Talks About Affairs Down on the Coast

"Portland and Coos Bay have interests which are to a great extent identical and the residents of both places should co-operate on the most friendly terms," said Ira S. Smith last night. Mr. Smith is a Marshfield merchant who is in Portland to attend the meetings of the Oregon Development league as the representative of the Marshfield chamber of commerce. While here he is calling upon the local wholesale dealers with a view of bringing about a better understanding between them and the Coos Bay business men.

"There has been a certain prejudice against Portland among the people of the Coos Bay section, which is due to a large extent, I believe, to a misunderstanding. However, they are ready and anxious to work in harmony with this city, and I believe that the best of relations between the two places will result."

Wants Harbor Appropriation.

"There is one thing which Coos Bay wants above all else, and that is an appropriation for her harbor. Residents along the bay feel that Portland has not worked heartily for this appropriation. They realize, too, that they need the help of this city to get the money desired, and if Portland will work with them for the appropriation they will be willing to throw their trade as much as possible to Portland jobbers in preference to those of San Francisco."

"Coos Bay has a deep water harbor that is superior to all others in the state except the Columbia, and it should be classed with that harbor instead of with the smaller bays, as is sometimes done. It now has 24 feet of water on the bar at low tide and 26 feet at mean tide, as was ascertained by Senator Fulton, who witnessed soundings in the bay and announced the result in a public address at Marshfield."

"While this gives entrance to the smaller vessels, it does not admit the larger sea-going craft, which are most needed. The country has untold wealth in timber, and needs the large vessels because they can give a more favorable rate on lumber. We believe that $1,000,000 to $1,500,000 would do the necessary work. All that we ask is that the project as outlined in 1899 be completed. At that time it was estimated that $2,444,000 would be required. About $552,000 was expended on the south jetty, which is half way completed. The maintenance expense brings the amount to $691,000. The difference between this and the original estimate would complete the north jetty and build the south one."

Asks Portland's Help.

"If Portland wishes the complete friendship of the Coos Bay people she must convince them that she is ready

CRISIS OF GIRLHOOD
A TIME OF PAIN AND PERIL

Miss Emma Cole Says that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has Saved Her Life and Made Her Well.

How many lives of beautiful young girls have been sacrificed just as they were ripening into womanhood! How many irregularities or displacements have been developed at this important period, resulting in years of suffering!

Miss Emma Cole

A mother should come to her child's aid at this critical time and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will prepare the system for the coming change and start this trying period in a young girl's life without pain or irregularities.

Miss Emma Cole of Tullahoma, Tenn., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"I want to tell you that I am enjoying better health than I have for years, and I owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

"When fourteen years of age I suffered almost constant pain, and for two or three years I had soreness and pain in my side, headaches and was dizzy and nervous, and doctors all failed to help me."

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended, and after taking it my health began to improve rapidly, and I think it saved my life. I sincerely hope my experience will be a help to other girls who are passing from girlhood to womanhood, for I know your Compound will do as much for them."

If you know of any young girl who is sick and needs motherly advice ask her to write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., and she will receive free advice which will put her on the right road to a strong, healthy and happy womanhood. Mrs. Pinkham is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge."

to help get this money for harbor improvement. At present there is an impression there that neither the people of Portland nor Oregon's delegation in congress have co-operated in this matter as they should.

"The merchants of the Coos Bay towns are anxious to give their trade to Portland. They realize that the up-building of the city helps them. Because of the prejudice that has existed, however, Portland has got only about one-fourth of this trade and San Francisco has got the rest. If this prejudice is done away with, I believe that Portland would get fully 75 per cent of the business. The Coos Bay people in turn also stand ready to do everything possible to help along Columbia river appropriation."

Can Hold the Trade.

"Now is the best time to further friendly relations between the two sections. Since the San Francisco disaster all of the Coos Bay trade has come to Portland. This will bring the merchants in touch with one another as they have never been before, and if a complete understanding exists Portland can hold the great bulk of this trade, which is large and is constantly increasing.

"Since the fire at San Francisco there has grown up at Coos Bay among some of the merchants the opinion that Portland firms have raised the prices of goods to them because with the California houses wiped out they know that they had to trade there. I have made a thorough investigation of this matter and believe that there is no ground for such a belief. I do not think that there has been any advantage taken of the condition on the part of the Portland jobbers. The only articles that are higher in Portland than they were in San Francisco are those which are shipped to Portland from San Francisco and then shipped back to Coos Bay, thus making a double freight tariff over part of the distance. On these things Portland can hardly expect to get the Coos Bay trade, but the rest of it she can have permanently as soon as the Coos county merchants are certain that Portland is ready to work in sympathy with them."

Market for their Coal.

"There is just one other thing that the Coos Bay people desire in Portland, and that is a market for their coal. They have an abundance of excellent coal which they can lay down here at better prices than is being paid for that brought from other states. They ask for a trial on this and would be glad if the Portland commercial bodies would help them secure a market in the local field.

"I heartily believe that a better feeling is to exist between the two localities in the future. I find that merchants and members of the commercial bodies show a very friendly spirit toward Coos Bay. This I am sure will be reciprocated and that both Coos Bay and Portland will work together for their common good."
