REFUTES BOURNE SLANDERS

The following telegram received at the Republican headquarters, speaks for itself:

Portland, Or., May 28, 1906.
Hon. Chas. A. Murphy, Chairman Republican County Central Committee, Salem, Oregon:

Your attention is called to the fact that through the Democratic party slanders and untrue circulars are being sent through the mails to every voter in the state against Jonathan Bourne, Jr. It is a clear case of union between the Democratic party and enemies of the primary law to defeat the Republican nominee at the polls with Gearin, and then defeat the primary law in the legislature with a senatorial candidate of the trusts. It would be a disastrous rebuke to President Roosevelt's administration, that the Republican party cannot afford. You are requested to give the widest publicity to the facts through your county committee and the local press. Instruct all your speakers to make a special effort for Bourne.

G. A. WESTGATE,
Chairman Republican Central Committee.

FACTS AND NOT FANCIES

Nothing Ideal About Politics and the Good Women Would be Shut Out;

Many women are being deluded by suffragist orators into believing that the right of franchise will make a heaven of this earth. The literature sent broadcast over the state by the suffrage association is also misleading to both sexes.

A woman, writing to one of the Portland evening papers, expresses herself as follows: "It would not be many generations before women would be nearly mentally equal to men. Instead of useless gossip their thoughts would be turned to the bettering of social conditions, devising ways and means whereby all could be more social and happy. Oh, I do hope and pray that the men of Oregon will give us the right to help ourselves and to help them also at the same time, and together the men and women will make this state a glorious dwelling place." The ideals of this poor soul, who thinks that if women are given the right to vote, that this will be a "glorious dwelling place" are founded upon as firm a foundation as he who built his altar upon the drifting sands. She appears modest as to the mental equality of the sexes, a generation is a long time, and many generations a very long time.

The harsh reality of woman suffrage is exemplified in the four states where it has been in operation for many years. In each of these states political conditions are worse than in any other state of the Union. This being true, how do men or women expect Oregon to be an exception? We must not forget that there are ignorant women, foreign women, the wives of ignorant laborers, and bad women, in Oregon, as well as good women. These different classes of women are on a par with the same classes of men, numerically. Then if the men are divided politically, and then divided again into the men who want clean politics and the men who do not, is it not reasonable to presume that the women will be divided, and that woman suffrage will only result in increasing the bad element? It certainly has proved itself to operate in this way in the states that have adopted it. And the reason is obvious. The woman with the ideal, with only good in her heart, and there are many such, soon discovers that she must associate with an element that all her pure instincts shrink from and she gives up the desire, if she ever had any, to mingle in politics. On the other hand, her less fortunate sisters glory in the roek and filth of political life. They vote regularly, some of them often, especially the women of the brothels. The consequence is, that the results of woman suffrage simply adds to the worst political element, placing in the hands of unscrupulous politicians more power than that class ever possessed before. It simply results in corruption, bribery and political conditions that no true citizen should tolerate.

Burch and Reiss Will be Here With a Train Load of Animals Friday

Among the many and novel animal and other feature acts of Burch and Reiss' World's Greatest Dog and Pony Shows, which will exhibit in this city afternoon and night on Friday, June 1st, are scores of trained Shetland ponies, dogs, monkeys, goats, pigs, camels, llamas, pumas, zebras and others, bos indicus, mules, and dozens of all kinds of pheasants, owls, parrots, emeus, swans. All these birds and animals are skillfully trained. The aggregation numbers upwards of 350 performing animals, and about 100 beautiful birds of all species. In conjunction with the trained animal and bird feature will be scores of Japanese and European aerialists, gymnasts, acrobats jugglers and novelty acts. Messrs. Burch and Reiss have especially engaged Gregory's Royal Italian Banda Rossa for this, their first western tour. This is, without question the finest musical organization ever carried with a tented exhibition, and will give free concerts before the afternoon and night performances of the shows daily. A grand free street carnival and children's fairland parade will be given on the morning of the exhibition, at which time the entire company of over 300 actors will be seen decked out in their gay trappings. Messrs. Burch and Reiss earnestly and cordially invite the public to witness this street demonstration, as it will be a guarantee of the excellence of the stock and equipment. A special feature of these shows aside from their great novelty and educational worth, will be the free pony rides for the children after the afternoon performance. Over 100 Shetland ponies will be turned over to the tots, and this will be absolutely free. This feature will under no circumstances, be omitted. No boy or girl will be permitted to leave these shows disappointed. These shows were conceived to furnish clean, wholesome amusement for ladies and children, and everything tending to promote amusement and comfort will be done.

SALEM'S WATER SUPPLY

Company Settles a New Crib Into Place and Perfects the System

A gradual sinking, until the top was below the surface, a sudden plunge to the bottom, a wild scrambling for shore by the workmen, and the new crib being put in by the Salem Water Company, to increase their water supply, was in position. For some weeks the company has been preparing for the summer period of low water, and have now completed a new crib for the filtering in-take 280 feet long, with a capacity of 400 cubic yards, or 85,000 gallons. During a couple or three months in the summer the water in the river is so low that it is difficult for the company to get proper suction for their pumps, and, to overcome this difficulty, a new crib, increasing the filtering capacity considerably, was decided on. The government dredge was secured and a channel dug, into which the new crib was to be set. C. M. Parmenter, who built the first crib, was awarded the contract for building the new one, and this morning the work was completed, when the new crib sank to the bottom of the channel prepared for it. Nothing now remains but to fill in the gravel around the crib, and all danger of water famine will be gone. For a few days there will be another period of roilly water, and then clear, cool and pure drinks will be Salem's portion.

The new crib lies at a depth of eight feet below the low water level of the Willamette, and it was necessary to remove 10,000 cubic yards of sand and gravel to prepare its bed. After it was built it was floated to position, connected to the old crib by pipes, and anchored with iron piling. Then the workmen began piling sand and gravel on top of it to sink it. Gradually it settled until its deck was awash, and about 10 o'clock this morning it suddenly went to the bottom, and there lies on its gravelly bed. It will soon be completely covered with the gravel of the bar wherein it lies and Salem water drinkers will quench their thirst through the hot weather without thought or fear of typhoid or other diseases due to bad water.
