NEW YORK AS BAD AS CHICAGO

Conditions in the Slaughter Houses Similar to Those in the Windy City

New York, May 30.—It has just been learned that Neill and Reynolds have spent a few days investigating the slaughtering industry in this city, and found many conditions duplicating those in Chicago. George Christian, secretary of the butchers' union, says there is no great difference between conditions in Chicago and New York.

Day Observed Universally.

Washington, May 30.—Memorial day was observed throughout the country, and an effort was made to decorate the graves of every dead soldier. The military organizations in every city participated. The principal services here were at Arlington.

CHICAGO PACKERS BLAMED

Berlin, May 30.—The press is unanimous in the arraignment of the American packers, and demands protection for the German public. One paper declares: "The rest of the civilized people adopt Christianity, the Americans unblushingly adopt Satan as the inspiring spirit of public life." Others are even stronger in their denunciations.

King Edward's Birthday.

London, May 30.—The birthday of King Edward, who was born November 9, 1841, was officially celebrated today, in accordance with the wishes of the king. The towns throughout the kingdom were gaily decorated and beflagged and the shipping at the various ports made the gayest display of bunting. The day was observed at all the home military and naval headquarters with parades and salutes.

The chief celebration was the ceremony of "trooping the colors" on the Horse Guards parade grounds. Thousands of spectators witnessed the interesting ceremony.

Make the Packers Pay.

Washington, May 30.—Packers are exerting every effort to defeat the Beveridge bill, placing the cost of inspection upon the packers. Officials declare that this is the only sensible way to raise money for the cost of inspection, which they say now costs nearly a million a year, in addition to the clerical work in the department here.

Battleship Ashore.

London, May 30.—The battleship Montague went ashore during the maneuvers. She lost her propellers. There is a hole in her bottom, and her engine rooms are flooded.

The number of entries is larger than last year, and a highly interesting contest is expected. Some of the best crews of the New York, Brooklyn and Long Island boat clubs are represented among the entries. The list of events includes junior singles, intermediate singles, senior single, veteran singles, junior doubles, intermediate and senior doubles, junior, intermediate and senior four-oared gig, senior four-oared shell, junior, intermediate and senior eight-oared shell, and a naval reserve cutter race.

Popular Science Monthly.

We may now proceed to state the probable cause of volcanic eruptions. They are caused, I conceive, by a development of heat resulting from radio-activity in limited tracts at a depth of one to three—at the very utmost not over four—miles from the surface, which is sometimes sufficient to melt the rocks affected by it. The melting is gradual, and when a sufficient quantity is melted the matter which it contains becomes explosive and usually suffices to break through the covering, constituting an eruption. When all the lava is erupted, and the reservoir is exhausted, it closes up for a time. If the heat continues to be generated, more lava is melted, and in due time another eruption occurs. The process may be repeated again. It may be repeated hundreds or thousands of times. The volcanic action may continue in the same place for hundreds of thousands, or even millions, of years, or it may even occur only once. Indeed, it may fall altogether to erupt to the surface, and in many cases does fall. In other words, it goes through the entire process of preparing for an eruption and does not consummate it.—Major C. E. Dutton in The Popular Science Monthly.

ROUSING MEETING AT SILVERTON

The Republicans held a rousing rally at Silverton last evening, and the Silverton brass band helped to enliven the occasion. The meeting was called to order by County Chairman Murphy, and Mr. Van Valkenburg, the precinct committeeman, presided over the meeting. Speeches were made by Dr. J. N. Smith, Frank J. Miller, candidate for joint senator; Lloyd T. Reynolds, D. G. Dringer, George F. Rodgers, T. B. Kay, R. D. Allen, J. H. Settlemier and Frank Davey, whose remarks were loudly applauded. The Republicans will poll a remarkably large vote in Silverton and adjoining precincts.

The Republicans are waging a tremendously vigorous campaign, and are being met at all points with great enthusiasm. The speeches of the various candidates are making strong impression on the voters. Out of respect to the day and its memories, there were no rallies held on Memorial Day. Tomorrow there will be meetings at Mt. Angel at 2 p. m. and Hubbard at 2 p. m. The candidates will divide into two parties, one attending the rally at Mt. Angel and the other will address the voters at Hubbard. In the evening a grand demonstration will be held at Aurora, at which time the eagles of Republicanism will scream loudly, and presage the victory of the entire party ticket.

MEMORIAL DAY IS OBSERVED

North and South, East and West, Pay Tribute to the Dead With a Wealth of Fragrant Blossoms

Washington, D. C., May 30.—Decoration day, the great national holiday dedicated to the memory of those who fought in the Civil War, was celebrated today throughout the country. In the north as well as in the south, wherever there are graves of Union soldiers, the day was observed in a more or less impressive and elaborate manner. In the national capital Decoration day is always generally observed, not only by all the patriotic and veteran organizations, but by the citizens in general. Everywhere flags waved from the mastheads, not from half mast, as in former years. This change was due to the position taken by Commander in Chief Tanner of the Grand Army, and to his explicit recommendation in his Memorial day order.

In accordance with previous arrangements the various posts of the G. A. R. and affiliated organizations met at their respective halls and marched to the various cemeteries assigned to them, to decorate the graves of the Union soldiers buried there. The most important exercises were held in the Arlington National cemetery, where not only thousands of enlisted men are buried, but where rest the remains of hundreds of prominent officers. One of the interesting features of the exercises was the visit to the cemetery by the members of the Cuban legion, who decorated not only the graves of the sailors of the Maine, but also the graves of those who had fallen during the Spanish-American war.

Norfolk, W. Va., May 30.—Never in the history of this city did the celebration of Decoration day attract so enormous a crowd of visitors from the surrounding districts as this year. This was due to the fact that President Roosevelt had consented to deliver the Memorial address at the exercises of the Army and Navy Union in the naval hospital cemetery at Tidewater, near Norfolk.

President Roosevelt, accompanied by Secretary Loeb and several personal friends, arrived here this morning on board of the Mayflower and landed at the pier of the navy yard. Rear Admiral P. F. Harrington and the members of his staff were there to receive the President. After the exchange of greetings the President and his party seated themselves in carriages and were driven through the city to the naval hospital cemetery grounds at Tidewater. In front of the Portsmouth courthouse, which the President passed on his way to the cemetery, a grand stand had been erected, which was occupied by the school children of the town. They received the President with cheers and the waving of little flags. The President stopped and briefly addressed the children. A few minutes later he continued on his way to the cemetery, where the Union and Confederate veterans of Norfolk, Portsmouth and Berkeley were already assembled, awaiting the arrival of the President. A salute was fired when the President entered the cemetery grounds and proceeded to the grand stand, from which he addressed the assembled veterans and citizens.

At the conclusion of the address the President returned to the navy yard, where he was the guest of Rear Admiral P. F. Harrington. In the afternoon, after luncheon, the President will receive the officers of the naval station and then he will return to the Mayflower and start for Washington.

Richmond, Va., May 30.—A monument to William Smith, twice governor of Virginia and a brave Confederate general, was unveiled here today. The ceremony formed part of the Memorial day celebration in this city. Judge Keith delivered the presentation address and Governor Swanson replied in behalf of the state.

New York, May 30.—The G. A. R. and other military and patriotic organizations of New York and Brooklyn are celebrating Decoration day in the customary manner. The various posts of the G. A. R. and affiliated organizations met and marched through the city to the various cemeteries containing soldiers' graves. At every one of the cemeteries special exercises were held and after one or more addresses the graves of the soldiers were decorated with flowers and flags. In Brooklyn the Order of Foresters and several thousand members of the Royal Arcanum marched with the veterans and took part in the decoration exercises. In the afternoon Henry M. Shady's equestrian statue of Washington, donated to the city by ex-Register James R. Howe, will be unveiled on the Brooklyn plaza of the Williamsburg bridge, where it will stand directly in front of the block containing the new building of the Williamsburg Trust Co.

Canton, O., May 30.—The local G. A. R. posts celebrated Decoration day in the usual manner. Thousands of visitors from the surrounding districts came to this city and many floral offerings were deposited upon the tomb of the late President McKinley. A large crate was sent from the White House and other offerings came from Chicago, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Cleveland, Pittsburgh and eastern cities.

Boston, Mass., May 30.—Throughout New England Memorial day was observed today with impressive ceremonies. The Grand Army posts in the various towns and villages marched to the various cemeteries and decorated the graves of their comrades with flags and flowers. In many churches memorial services were held. The day also generally marked the opening of the yachting, canoeing and horse racing season.

In this city the Gaelic Athletic association of Greater Boston held its annual field day on the Locust street grounds.

New Haven, Conn., May 30.—In connection with the Memorial day celebration in this city a C. S. Bushnell memorial was dedicated today in the park at the junction of Chapel street, Winthrop and Derby avenues.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 30.—As usual, Memorial day was observed here by the various posts of the Grand Army and affiliated organizations. There was a general parade in which nearly 3000 men took part. The various cemeteries were visited and the graves of the Union soldiers decorated. In every cemetery exercises were held, consisting mainly of the reading of Lincoln's Gettysburg address and of an appropriate oration.

Syracuse, N. Y., May 30.—This afternoon an open air meeting will be held on Clinton Square, when that square will be dedicated to memorial purposes. It is intended to erect a soldiers' monument on that square and a considerable fund has already been collected for that purpose.

Sacramento, Cal., May 30.—The Memorial day exercises in this city were even more solemn and impressive than in former years. There was no parade, but the various veteran organizations held memorial exercises in the cemeteries.

Baltimore, May 30.—Under the auspices of the Grand Army Decoration day will be observed here in the customary manner.

Elizabeth, N. J., May 30.—The cornerstone of the proposed Soldiers' and Sailors' monument was laid today as one of the features of the Decoration day celebration.

Campmeeting a Success.

The services at the campmeeting on North Liberty street are well attended and are of a very profitable character. The old-fashioned gospel is being proclaimed with power. The conference convened at 2:30 p. m. today, and subsequent sessions will be held from 8:30 to 11:45 a. m. each day.

Marriage License.

A marriage license was issued yesterday to Albert Jairl and Frances A. Hoffman.
