

SALEM'S SWEET JUNE BRIDES

PARTIES RECEPTIONS GRADUATIONS

Make Everybody Sit up and Take Notice and Also Dress up in Their Best Duds

The social season is fast drawing to a close, although the past week has been gay and many events are chronicled for the coming week. Many are making preparations for their vacations, and contemplated trips for the summer season, and it will not be long before the town will be very quiet, as far as social life is concerned.

This month, the month of weddings, promises to have a number of offerings, the marriage of Miss Strong to Mr. Thielson opening the list, and being an elaborate affair.

Commencement is attracting a great deal of attention now and every night next week will be filled with university graduations, or the high school festivities. The alumnae banquet and entertainment of the university will bring a great many people from out of town to the scenes of their school days.

The marriage of Miss Ama Leone Strong to Mr. Fred Delahayne Thielson was solemnized at the St. Paul's Episcopal church Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the presence of about 200 friends.

The church was decorated with beautiful palms and fragrant Easter lilies and the altar was an attractive setting for the bridal party. The wedding march was played by the groom's father, Mr. Henry B. Thielson, assisted by H. N. Stoudenmeyer on the trombone. As the first strains of the wedding march began, little Miss Margaret Rodgers came up the aisle, scattering flowers, immediately preceded by the bride, who was attended by Miss Ellen Thielson, sister of the groom, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaid, Miss Ruth Gabrielson. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Edward Thielson. The bride was given away by her mother, Mrs. Ada Strong. Rev. Barr G. Lee, rector of St. Paul's, performed the words of the beautiful Episcopal ring service which made the two one. Little Miss Josephine Baumgartner was ring bearer. The ushers were Chauncey Bishop, Will Burghardt, Paul Wallace and Robert Kinney of Portland.

The bride was beautiful in her wedding robe of white silk elysee over white taffeta, made princess, entrain. The yoke was made entirely of point lace, and was exquisite in design. She wore a veil and carried a shower bouquet of brides roses.

The bridesmaid and maid of honor both wore pretty white costumes and white picture hats, and carried pink carnations.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. W. G. Westcott on Court street, to about seventy-five of the relatives and intimate friends.

The house decorations were beautiful. The hall was fragrant with quantities of sweet briar. The parlors were in white and green. A frieze of silver birch extended around the room, while baskets of the same and ferns were effectively used. Roses and other white flowers were also in evidence. The dining room was especially beautiful, the color effect being red and green, roses and silver birch being the main ornaments.

The bride's bouquet, which was divided in three parts, was caught by Miss Evelene Calbreath, who captured the heart, Miss Gretta Looney the thimble, and Miss May Heinz of San Francisco the dime.

Refreshments were served during the evening, the bride cutting the wedding cake.

The presents, which were many, consisted of cut glass and silver, and were costly and beautiful.

The couple are well known society people of the capital city. The bride is the only child of Mrs. Ada Strong and is a sweet and winsome young lady. She was born in Salem and grew to womanhood here, although she received some of her education in California. The groom is a man of sterling qualities and has a large circle of friends, among whom he is very popular. He is an employe of the Ladd & Bush bank.

The young couple are spending their honeymoon at Shasta Springs, after which they will return to Salem to make their home. Among the guests were many from Portland, San Francisco and other points.

Salem Girl Entertained.

A miscellaneous shower was given Friday afternoon in honor of Miss Bessie Shepard, by Miss Adna Raley and Miss Alice Van Nuys, at the home of the former on College street. Miss Shepard, who has been a popular teacher in the Pendleton high school during the past year, is soon to be united in marriage to State Engineer John H. Lewis, and it was in honor of this coming event that the shower was given.

The marriage will take place at the country home of the bride's parents, about seven miles west of Salem, but owing to the serious illness of her brother the exact date has not yet been fixed. Mr. Lewis is also located in Salem and they will make their home in the capital city.

About 25 of her lady friends were present at the handsome Raley home, and Miss Shepard was the recipient of many beautiful gifts. The Misses Raley and Van Nuys proved to be charming hostesses, and the hours from 2:30 to 5:30 passed very pleasantly for all present.—Pendleton Tribune.

Miss Shepard has returned to Salem and is at the home of her parents in Polk county. Many Salem people will remember Miss Raley, she having visited here last summer.

Pleasant Card Party.

Among the pleasant parties of the early summer events, was the "500" party given by Mrs. E. C. Cross at her home on Thirteenth street last Friday afternoon. The rooms were decorated with flowers and plants and were attractive settings for the large number of handsomely gowned ladies.

The hostess was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. A. F. Hofer, Mrs. Chas. A. Gray, Mrs. C. L. Dick, Mrs. Will Thielson, Miss Nellie Thielson, Miss Marie Hofer and Miss Veda Cross.

The prizes were won by Mrs. J. R. Whitney and Mrs. W. S. Mott.

Student Reception.

President and Mrs. J. H. Coleman gave a reception to the students and faculty of the Willamette university at Lausanne hall Wednesday evening, which was the main social event of the school year.

The rooms were decorated profusely with summer blossoms and greenery from the woods, the double parlors being in pink and green, carried out with the fragrant sweet briar. The back parlor was in white, roses and marguerites being extensively used. The dining room was in red and green, red roses and trailing vines making an effective arrangement.

Dr. and Mrs. Coleman were assisted in receiving the guests by the following hall girls: Misses Ethel Gerding, Elizabeth Gerton and Artheta Stevens. The dining room was in charge of Miss Veva Bartlett, who was assisted in serving by the Misses Annie Solomon, Gladys Wood, Ella Evans, Alma Hales, Lena Schindler, Gussie Booth and Ruby Coryell.

The affair was attended by the entire student body and faculty and was a delightful gathering in every way.

Former Salem Lady Graduates.

The graduating exercises of the North Pacific Sanitorium of Portland, were held Friday evening, June 8, at the First Presbyterian church. Among the graduates was Mrs. Emma Royal Singleton, formerly of this city.

Miss Giltner Weds.

Miss George McBride Giltner and Mr. Pink Charles Patterson were married at the home of the bride's father, E. C. Giltner, in Portland Thursday. The affair was a brilliant event.

Moreland-Cooper.

The ceremony that made Mr. W. D. Moreland and Miss Pearl Cooper husband and wife was performed in the Presbyterian church of Independence at high noon Tuesday. The interior of the church was a bower of fragrant beauty. White and pink roses exhaled a sweet perfume and ferns and palms lent an added charm. The bride, attired in a rich white lace dress and wearing a white tulle veil, carried a bouquet of white carnations. Miss Myrtle Lee, the maid of honor, in pink silk mull, carried a shower bouquet of maiden-hair fern and little Miss Dorothy Paddock in immaculate white, preceded the bridal couple, scattering rose leaves in their pathway. Mrs. May Babbitt played the wedding march and Mr. F. A. Martin acted as best man. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. J. Thompson, this making his 1284th couple he has married. The bride was given away by her father.

The bride is the third daughter of Mr. J. S. Cooper and commands the esteem of a large circle of acquaintances. She is a graduate of the Good Samaritan hospital of Portland and has been a resident of the metropolis for some time. The groom is a business man of Chehalis, Wash., though his people live in St. Paul. They left yesterday via Salem for Chehalis, which will be their home.—Westside Enterprise.

The First Presbyterian church held a pleasant social Wednesday evening at which time the Kinder-Spiel was repeated. Refreshments were sonable character were served by the young ladies of the church throughout the evening.

St. Helen's Hall Graduates.

Among the graduates at St. Helen's Hall at Portland this year are Miss Gertrude Jones, daughter of M. L. Jones, of "Labish Meadows," and Miss Janet Gray, formerly of this city. The class consists of eight young ladies from the academic course and six from the kindergarten training course.

Diogenes Entertain.

The Diogenes Literary society of the Salem high school spent a pleasant evening at the home of Miss Murah Hatch last Monday evening. Games were played, and the affair was delightfully informal in every way. About 40 were present.

Junior Banquet.

Prof. and Mrs. W. C. Hawley gave the junior of the Willamette university a banquet at their home Thursday evening, at which the senior class and faculty were honor guests. Mr. John Elliott was toast master, and called upon Mr. Frank Grannis to make a speech for the senior class. The juniors were well represented by Mr. Andrew Marker.

After the banquet the guests gathered in the parlors and sang college songs.

The senior class were given a dinner by Prof. and Mrs. Hawley Monday evening, which was much enjoyed. Covers were laid for ten.

High School Commencement.

The Salem high school commencement proper begins tomorrow, when Rev. P. S. Knight will deliver the farewell sermon to the students at the First Congregational church. Tuesday evening, June 12, will occur the athletic benefit program, which will be one of the special features of the week.

Wednesday evening, June 13, the senior class will give their play, and Friday evening, June 15, the graduating exercises of the school will occur. This is the first class to graduate from the new school, and they are justly proud of the honor. Saturday, June 16, the senior class will organize the alumni.

Portland Ladies Entertain.

The Misses Wiley of Portland are guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Calbreath. They have been delightfully entertained during their stay here.

Popular Albany Couple Weds.

Mr. Charles H. Stewart and Miss Georgene Payne were married in Albany Wednesday evening. They are prominent in society circles in Albany, and have many friends there, and in this city.

They are spending their honeymoon in Seattle.

Lawn Party.

Miss Mabel Smith entertained a number of her girl friends at a delightfully arranged lawn party last Saturday afternoon in honor of her friend, Miss Marion Huss, who leaves soon for Denver, Colo., to reside. The lawn was provided with hammocks, small tables and chairs, and was cozily arranged. Progressive anagrams was played, Miss Madeline Walker receiving the prize, a dainty water color picture.

Punch was served throughout the afternoon, and refreshments toward the close.

Those present were: Gertrude Erixon, Lola DeLong, Claudine Rose, Eva McAllister, Mildred Rhodes, Edna Moores, Zoe Olmstead, Mildred Bagley, Elsie Smith, Floy Houston, Barbara Durbin, Madeline Walker, Helen Pearce, Dorothy Pearce, Sophia Catlin, Marguerite Klein, Florence Metcalf and Frances Pohle.

O. A. C. Hop.

The junior hop, given by the junior class in honor of the senior class, of the O. A. C. last evening, was a brilliant social event. A large number of people from Portland, Salem, Albany and Eugene attended. Steelhammer's orchestra of this city furnished the music.

An Interesting Contest.

A trip in a Pullman palace car to Chicago, a visit to Niagara Falls, a ride down the scenic Hudson, seeing the sights in New York city, a visit to the nation's capital, and meeting the President of the United States, a visit to the wonderful Jamestown exposition June 15, and take part in the opening festivities, is what Philip S. Bates of the Pacific Northwest is offering to 33 young ladies of the state of Oregon.

In order to gain more subscriptions for his paper, which, by the way, is a very fine agricultural paper, he has made this offer to any young lady who will secure the largest number of subscriptions in their county. The one receiving the highest number of the 33 counties will be given the right to name the chaperone to accompany the party. A young lady will be chosen from each county, providing she lives in the county districts. This contest will give them more chance, as heretofore the city girls have been given the more preference.

Mr. Bates will accompany the party, and he will see that nothing is left undone for their pleasure. The total expenditure of the trip will be $8000.

Among the young ladies in this county who have been suggested are: Miss Frankie Barnett, Turner; Miss Matilda Hunt, of Silverton; Miss Ilda Jones, Brooks; Miss Helen Stiewer, Jefferson; Miss Birdie Murphy, Aumsville; Miss Dean Kimsey, Mehama, and Miss Zella Patton, Macleay.

A Pink and White Social.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Godfrey on Church street, was the scene of festivities on last Thursday evening, the occasion being a pink and white party, given by Misses Godfrey, Hansit and Klinger.

The young ladies proved themselves to be royal entertainers. From the four corners of the rooms swung garlands of pink and white roses, which met and were fastened to the chandeliers by pink and white ribbons, while bouquets of ferns and roses, artistically arranged, added beauty to the scene. An orchestra of six pieces furnished music and rendered many pleasing selections.

Progressive whist was the game of the evening; the first prize falling to Mr. Harry Damon, second prize to Mr. Louis Nerod, while Mr. Mac Parker captured the consolation. A dainty luncheon of ice cream, candies, cake and orange punch was served in the dining room by charming young ladies, who were gowned in pink and white.

Those present were: Misses Jessie Keaton, Bertha Klinger, Georgia Booth, Laura Bennett, Alice McCaully, Addie Swart, Virginia Milne, of Sacramento; Joy Turner, Margaret Hansit, Emma Godfrey, Mrs. L. Campbell, of Portland; Miss Genevieve Campbell, Mrs. Godfrey, Mrs. Watt, Miss Clo Bashor, and Messrs. H. C. Damon, Ted Burton, A. E. Huckenstein, Herbert Nutter, Harvey Parker, Ivan Martin, Clyde Lawhead, Fred Kurtz, Harry O'Reilly, Mac Parker, Edward Capper, Lyle Lewis, Frank Prickey, Louis Nerod, Elden Damon, William Lord Jr., Russell Stephens, Frank Rhodes, Mr. Godfrey.

At Home.

Cards are out announcing the "At Home" Wednesday, June 13th, at which Mrs. F. A. Wiggins and Mrs. Geo. F. Rodgers will be hostesses, at the home of the former, corner of Oak and Winter streets.

Salem Boy Graduates.

Walter E. Keyes of this city, who recently was admitted to the Oregon bar, and afterwards went to Washington, D. C., where he entered the George Washington university, is a member of the 1906 graduating class of that school. His many friends in this city will be pleased to learn of his success. The George Washington school is one of the finest in the United States.

Visiting Friends.

Mrs. Myra B. Nichols and daughter, Miss Ina, late of Chicago, are visiting friends in this city. They have been spending the past two months at Mrs. Nichols' home in Junction City, and came to Salem to visit old acquaintances, and look after property interests. They have made Chicago their home for the past three years, where Miss Ina has been studying vocal music. Mrs. Nichols was formerly a teacher in the Salem public schools.

Surprise Party.

Miss Alice Warner was the recipient of a surprise party at her home on South Liberty street last evening, when a number of her friends gathered, and spent the time in playing games, and having a general good time. Ice cream and cakes were served.

Those present were: Catharine Carson, Nellie McIntire, May Rowe, Maude Evans, Mable Rasmussen, Maude Hicks, Viola DeLaney, Hattie Swenick, Mabel Jerman, Rose Viesko, Delma Viesko and Willie Daniels, Paul Jerman, Arthur Soesbee, Lee Williams, son, Ross Van Orsdol, Maxwell Peterson, George Johnson and Lloyd Luman.

Marshfield Public Schools.

Graduating exercises of the Marshfield public schools took place Friday evening, under the direction of Professor F. A. Golden, the principal. The graduates gave a fine musical and literary program, and their names are: Albert Hansen, Bessie E. Cooke, Minot, Selma F. Holm, Mildred Cooke, Edna A. Weeder, Dorothy W. Alpha Mauzey, Homer Mauzey, Dibble, George Rasmussen, Eugene Jan, Pearl Watkins.

Chenawa Won.

The Ramblers suffered their defeat yesterday at the hands of Chenawa's second team. The final score stood 13 to 6. The diamond was muddy, but the Braves did not mind it, and walloped the Ramblers in good style.

Eli Hay Bale

We are now taking orders for hay presses for immediate or later delivery, both horse power and steam power.

The Eli is a press that will apply to any practical pressman, on account of its convenience, as well as its durability.

It has an automatic condensing roller, which is a great labor-saver to the feeder, and the block dropping device, which is absolutely reliable in action, drops the block at the end of the chamber instead of the usual method, thus saving a stroke or two each time. Call and inspect, or send for catalog.
