

Bronchitis

The next time you meet your doctor, ask him his opinion of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in cases of bronchitis. Then when you have a hard cold in the chest you will be ready to follow his advice. Doctors very generally endorse this old, standard, family cough medicine. They know all about it. They prescribe it in just these cases.

We have no secret! We publish the formulas of all our medicines! Lowell, Mass.

THE SCHOOL ELECTION.

The annual school election in the Salem district will be held Monday, June 18th.

Salem is acquiring an enviable reputation for good schools, and should keep it up.

Without levying a special tax, and without creating a bonded debt, a new high school has been built.

The district has some floating debt that is drawing six per cent. This should be carried at five per cent.

There are repairs needed on the various buildings, and new demands will be made on the district.

But with increased valuations of all property, there is prospect of providing for all at lower rate of taxes.

The annual election of teachers takes place Saturday night, but not many changes are expected to be made.

USING COOS BAY COAL.

Portland and Salem people are gradually awakening to the importance of using coal mined in Oregon.

Thos. Armitstead, of the Hazelwood Cream Company, of Portland, was in the city today, and says he has ordered Coos Bay coal.

Over ninety per cent of the total cost of coal is in labor and transportation, and is money expended in the state.

Money spent in the state for labor enriches Oregon, makes Oregon a better place to live in, and employs Oregon people.

Salem people, when buying coal, should ask for Coos Bay coal if they are sincere in wanting to develop the resources of this state.

The way to develop Oregon industries is to buy and use Oregon products, instead of sending our money to other states so much.

IMMIGRATION AND CITIZENSHIP.

In the early days of the republic the Democratic party strongly encouraged immigration. But at present some of its wisest leaders are looking askance at the hordes pouring in upon us from Asia and southeastern Europe.

Senator McCreary of Kentucky, in a recent speech on the immigration bill, urged the regulation of immigration so as to confine our acquisitions only to the worthy. The present increase he characterized as startling—the immigration for the last year numbering as many as for the entire first 100 years of the history of the country.

At the present rate only four generations would be necessary to bring the population of the country up to the density of China. He called attention to the increase in recent years of the immigrants from southeastern Europe and to the falling off from northwestern Europe, and also the unequal distribution of the immigrants in our north-eastern states after their arrival. He predicted that this uneven distribution would soon present a serious problem.

OF INTEREST

TO YOUNG MEN

"If there is one thing that is not listed among antiques it is opportunity."—Sat. Eve. Post.

Never in the history of the world have the young men had the chance they have today—the chance to make something of themselves—the chance to accumulate money and become recognized as solid, influential citizens.

One of the preparatory steps is to start a bank account—it will be a real help all your life. Our Savings Department pays three per cent on savings accounts.

to the people of the large eastern states.

Organized labor in this country is urging the restriction of immigration, and Senator Patterson of Colorado, who is its champion in the senate, defended the contract labor law. But for that law, he said, immigrant laborers would be brought into the country to take the places of the striking coal miners, and expressed apprehension that persons allowed to enter as farm laborers would turn to other occupations which give more continuous employment at better wages. Hence he contended that the restrictions should not be removed, but rather that they should be enforced.

General Hop Report.

Waterville Market: There is nothing new to say of hop conditions and there have been no transactions. The cold weather has retarded the growth so that the crop is later than usual. The situation seems to be that the newer and best yards are looking well and promise a good yield, while the older and worn out yards do not promise a very large crop.

New York Market, N. Y. Journal & Bulletin, June 1: The spot market is quiet but steady on the basis of previously quoted prices. Nothing is being done on the coast, but heavy rains are reported in some quarters. Advices from up state note continued quiet, but state that the yards are looking well in spite of the recent cold snap.

On the local market we understand that one sale of a carload of Oregon hops has been consummated at 13c net to the seller, but otherwise the local market continues to present a very dull and lifeless appearance with practically no business going on either between dealers or with brewers. Advices from up state and the Pacific coast report unchanged markets with little if any trading going on, but purchases could undoubtedly be made at a shade under prices prevailing a week or so ago. All coast advices continue to speak well of the growing crop. Reports from Oregon indicate continued fine growing weather with the vine progressing very rapidly. Estimates of the Oregon crop range as high as 140,000 bales. California and Washington also report exceptionally fine growing weather and all indications point to larger crops than last year. In New York state the frosts the early part of this week did no damage of account as the vines were too backward to be affected. Latest reports are that the weather has been more favorable and the vines are commencing to grow nicely. Reports of missing hills seem to have been somewhat exaggerated, but old yards will undoubtedly show some loss. Newer yards are in excellent condition and with good growing conditions an average crop should be realized.

The Cooperstown Journal, May 24, says: The local hop market continues to remain inactive. Reports as to the coming on of the vine are various. The cold snap of a few days ago undoubtedly had a tendency to give them a setback. A large number of winter killed hills are reported.

The Oneida Post, May 26, says: Hop growers have been busy this week having their hops tied. Many vines are one-third way up the poles and are of a good cank color.

Hop Conditions in England.

Kentish Observer, May 17: The Brewers' Journal states: Quietness continues to predominate the markets for hops and where at time during the month the inquiry has appeared to improve, the scantiness of supplies on offer at the moment has precluded the possibility of business assuming any very large proportion. With the exception of these brief intervals of returning activity almost uniform dullness has prevailed since the middle of April, and next to nothing in the way of sales or purchases has been done to serve as a test to the stability or weakness of prices, as the case might be, so that quotations as approved of by the borough merchants have undergone scarcely any variation. Neither buyers nor sellers seem to be in favor of trying conclusions with each other, the former because they are not inclined to give more money for what they may require, the latter for the reason that hops may become dearer as the season advances, and no definite steps are taken to lend force to any fresh movement in the trade that might present itself. Foreign markets do not differ in any essential respects from our own, and operations on an extensive scale are generally in abeyance.

Messrs. Wild, Neame & Co., London, S. E., report: Our market continues quietly firm at last quotations.

Messrs. Manger & Henley, London, S. E., report: The demand for useful copper hops continues but is restricted to present requirements. Price, although unchanged, has a firmer tendency.

Messrs. W. H. & H. Le May, hop factors, London, S. E., report: There is more inquiry, the low prices for English hops is causing those brewers who have not stocked up to do so.

Messrs. Cattley, Gridley & Co. report: There has been somewhat better demand during the past week for English and Pacific coast hops, but stocks are so limited that little general trade can be done. The backward condition of the plantations in England is not causing any anxiety, as with normal weather during the next few months there is good prospect of a fair average crop in England. The Pacific coast market has again advanced and cables report that stocks remaining in the open market are extremely limited. Export demand for new business has practically ceased, prices being now far above English parity.

Worcester hop report: Plantation growth is backward, but the young shoots have made better progress during the last few days and tying will be commenced generally this week. Trade remains very quiet and no hops passed the public scales last week, the small orders for immediate consumption being executed out of merchants' stocks. Values remain unaltered.—J. H. Meredith & Co.

It Costs Nothing

To find out for a certainty whether or not your heart is affected. One person in four has a weak heart; it may be you. If so, you should know it now, and save serious consequences. If you have short breath, fluttering, palpitation, hungry spells, hot flushes; if you cannot lie on left side; if you have fainting or smothering spells, pain around heart, in side and arms, your heart is weak, and perhaps diseased. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure will relieve you. Try a bottle, and see how quickly your condition will improve:

"About a year ago I wrote to the Miles Medical Co. asking advice, as I was suffering with heart trouble, and had been for two years. I had pain in my heart, back and left side, and had not been able to draw a deep breath for two years. Any little exertion would cause palpitation, and I could not lie on my left side without suffering. They advised me to try Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nerveine, which I did with the result that I am in better health than I ever was before, having gained 14 pounds since I commenced taking it. I took about thirteen bottles of the two medicines, and haven't been bothered with my heart since."—MRS. LILLIE THOMAS, Upper Sandusky, Ohio.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails he will refund your money.

OUR $15.00 SUITS

Are so good that we say to you, buy one and you will get the $15.00 back if you don't like the suit. If we make any sort of mistake, bring the suit back and let us make it right. Call it our generosity, call it your generosity, call it fairness, call it any thing you like.

BUT DO IT.

By the way, $15.00 is the price where we can put the most value in to our suits. Why?—that's a long story.

The suit tells it.
We do what we say we do,

Dawn.
Throw up the window! 'Tis morn for life
In its most subtle luxury. The air is like a breathing from a rarer world; And the south wind is like a gentle friend,
Parting the hair so softly on my brow. It has come over gardens, and the flowers
That kissed it are betrayed; for as it parts
With its invisible fingers my loose hair I know it has been trifling with the rose
And stooping to the violet. There is joy
For all God's creatures in it. The wet leaves
Are stirring at its touch, and birds are singing
As if to breathe were music, and the grass
Sends up its modest odor with the dew,
Like the small tribute of humility.
—N. P. Willis.
