THE BRYAN WAVE.

A skilful advertiser, Wm. J. Bryan, of Nebraska, has assiduously kept himself before the public ever since his second defeat for the presidency.

The Roosevelt administration has taken up a great many of his reform ideas, and has incidentally assisted in bringing him to the front again, and perhaps effectually.

Great journals like the Wall Street organs are slowly but surely turning to the Democratic party. They are instinctively conservative, and fear aggressive politics.

So the Bryan wave is steadily rising and the conservative influences are helping it along by talking up such men as Vice President Fairbanks for the Republican nomination.

The Republican campaign headed by an ultra-conservative chilling proposition like Fairbanks, would be a walk-over for a man of Bryan's magnetic whirlwind style of make-up.

Perhaps the Republicans to save themselves would have to run Roosevelt again in spite of his repeated declarations that he does not want the office for another term.

The enemies of Bryan may be bringing him out prematurely so as to have him killed off. A Democratic candidate to succeed would have to be pretty well rooted in the ground to stand the Republican cyclone.

Cannon and Fairbanks may be able to get up the steam that would carry them to the White Houses against Bryan, but nobody believes they would get much farther than the nomination.

The ground has been pretty thoroughly cultivated by the Lawsons, the Steffens, and the other anti-corruption writers, and the ineradicable impression has been given out that makes Bryan possible.

A GROWING MAGAZINE.

Outing is slowly climbing from a mere chronicle of sports and killings to a literary possibility.

We have read so much of "the man with the muck rake," that we are glad to find that The Outing Magazine has no room for such a person.

To take his place this magazine is publishing a series of articles by Ralph D. Paine about "The Builders"—men who are building, not tearing down.

The chapter which opens the June number, "The Gold Camps of the Desert," describes the amazing growth of cities with all modern improvements, which within the last two or three years have sprung up in the middle of the most desolate and inaccessible desert places left in our country.

The builders of these cities are truly American in their battle against obstacles—obstacles greater than those of the early pioneers.

Another feature in this number that cannot be passed over is the second installment of Jack London's great serial, "White Fang."

The publication of this story, following as it does serials by Stewart Edward White, Alfred Henry Lewis and Charles G. D. Roberts, shows that this

Your Liver

You cannot possibly enjoy good health when the liver is inactive and the bowels constipated. You must keep the liver active. You must have daily action of the bowels. Ask your doctor if this is not true. Ask him at the same time if he knows a better laxative than Ayer's Pills. All vegetable, sugar-coated. Dose, only one pill, at bedtime.

magazine has become one of the leading magazines for the general reader, who likes virile and wholesome fact and fiction, as hopeful and stimulating as the great outdoors which is the peculiar province of The Outing Magazine.

HOW TO STOP A BABY CRYING.

Great subject for an editorial, you will say. So it is. Frank Barkley in "Give the Baby a Chance," in The Outing Magazine for June, has this on the subject:

And now as to the cry of temper and the cry of habit and indulgence. You don't have to be told, little mother, what these cries indicate. You know perfectly well they indicate you have made a false start. You know that blessed baby is crying for a light in his room, to be rocked, to be carried about, for a bottle to be sucked, or to be indulged in some other bad habit you have been the means of his acquiring. Well, the thing has got to be checked right here and now. What are you going to do? There is only one for you to do if you are satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt that it is the cry of temper or indulgence—don't go near the little darling.

"What! let him cry?" Exactly. "But he will go on crying!" Well, God bless his little soul! let him bawl it out, if it takes one, two, or even three hours. "You don't really mean that?" Yes I do. "But he may hurt himself!" No, he won't. If he is a very young baby, you will see that his abominable band is properly applied, and then there will be not the least danger of rupture. And if he is more than a year old, there will be no danger of rupture under any circumstances. "But what will happen if he goes on crying for three hours?" That's easy—he'll stop. And what's more, it's ten to one that the next time he cries from temper or indulgence he will keep it up for ten to fifteen minutes, and then, seeing it's no use, he will quit for good and all.

THE BRYAN WAVE.

(From the Chicago Public.)

That a Bryan wave, spontaneous and not manufactured, has set in is unmistakable to unprejudiced observers wherever they look. It is quite as obvious to Republicans as it is to Democrats. The New York Press, for instance, a Republican daily, concedes that "those who are watching the trend of public sentiment are convinced that Mr. Bryan is stronger with the American people today than he was at either time he ran for the presidency, and that his strength increases with extraordinary force." And the Press finds good reasons "for the better opinion which Americans now hold of him than when they twice had the opportunity to vote for him." One of these reasons involves an error not unattainable to a Republican paper of the East. It is Bryan's supposed abandonment of "his free silver fallacy." Mr. Bryan has not abandoned what the Press calls "his free silver fallacy," which consisted in the quantitative theory of money—the theory that the value of money is determined by supply and demand. He was for silver coinage in order to increase the supply of money when gold was scarce he has not concerned himself about silver recently because the increase in the supply of gold has augmented the quantity of money more than he had hoped for from the free coinage of silver. In other words, nature has supplied the quantity of money in gold which Bryan demanded of the government in silver. To say, then, that he has changed his position is a misrepresentation. Aside from this, however, the Press very correctly accounts for Bryan's popularity. "The events of the last ten years," it says, "have proved that most of the charges which he made concerning the special privileges and defiant crimes of the great corporations are true. By bitter experience in their efforts the evils which Mr. Bryan preached were threatening them, the American people have been convinced that the abuses which he related from the stump are more virulent than the free silver candidate himself declared them to be. They have learned that so-called conservative programmes for correcting what is wrong in combinations of capital and in fulfilling the will of the people have failed to do what must be done. All over the country, therefore, the voters are turning to men of more 'radical' principles and methods for the solutions of the problems which will not be laid aside until they are settled as public sentiment demands and has a right to demand they shall be settled. It is our judgment that unless a Ryan-Belmont combination can corner the Democratic convention two years from now as it cornered that of two years ago, virtually buying the delegates on the hoof, Mr. Bryan or some one like him will be the enthusiastic choice of the Democratic party; and if Bryan is nominated we have no doubt that he will poll the votes of all those who gave him their ballots in 1900 and hundreds of thousands besides." To the same effect is an editorial of another Republican paper, the Chicago Inter Ocean of the 6th, which foresees that the practical problem for the Republican party in 1908 will be "how to beat Bryan." The Inter-Ocean, however, differs as to methods. Whereas the Press would have its party beat Bryan by being more radical, the Inter Ocean would have it "stand pat." But most significant of all signs with reference to Bryan is the action of the Missouri convention of the 5th, which, in obedience to a demand from the people of the counties, names Bryan as the candidate who was defeated by corruption in 1896 and who alone can unite the Democratic party in 1908. Such a union of the party is to be hoped for, for unlike the "union" of 1904, it means union under the leadership of a Democratic Democrat.

COUNTRY CLUB RACES

Boston, Mass., June 14.—The spring racing season of the Country Club will open this afternoon with four interesting races and one minor race for hacks. The principal event of the day will be the steeplechase for the "Duke's Cup," named in honor of the famous steeplechaser, the Duke of Abercorn. The distance is about 2 1/2 miles and the winner receives a purse of $2000 and the cup, which is valued at $250. Next in importance comes the race for the Challenge Cup, presented by the Country Club and valued at $250. It must be won three times before becoming the property of the winner. The distance is the same as in the race for the Duke's Cup and the winner also receives a purse of $1000.

The next racing day will be Saturday, when five races are on the program. The two principal races are the St. Botholph selling steeplechase, and the Myopia steeplechase. The St. Botholph is over a distance of about 2 1/2 miles, and for a purse of $1000; the Myopia race is for hunters registered under the rules of the N. S. and H. A., or the Canadian Hunt Association. It is over a distance of 2 1/2 miles and is for a purse of $1000.

The last and most important racing day will be next Monday, when the Middlesex selling steeplechase, the Country Club Grand Annual steeplechase, and the race for the National Hunt Cup will come off. The Grand Annual carries a prize of $250, including a cup valued at $250, presented by a member, and is over a distance of about 2 1/2 miles.

FUEL FAMINE IS STILL ON.

Little Relief is Promised the Ritzville People.

Ritzville, Wash., June 14.—The fuel famine that has affected Ritzville and vicinity for the past eight months at intervals, promises to extend into next fall and winter. The mill has been shut down for some days for want of coal, and well drills all over the country are idle a good portion of the time on account of the shortage in coal. There is some wood in town, but the choice fir and tamarack that was so plentiful is not to be seen here. The dealers are advising everybody to stock up for the winter, as the famine of last winter is almost sure to be repeated.

Deadly Serpent Bites.

Are as common in India as are stomach and liver disorders with us. For the latter, however, there is a sure remedy. Electric Bitters, the great restorative medicine, of which S. A. Brown, of Bennettville, S. C., says: "They restored my wife to perfect health after years of suffering with dyspepsia and a chronically torpid liver." Electric Bitters cure chills and fever, malaria, biliousness, lame back, kidney troubles and bladder disorders. Sold only on guaranteed by J. C. Peery, druggist, Salem, Or. Price, 50c.

INSURANCE COMPANIES QUIT.

Germania and Others Will Go Out of Business in California.

San Francisco, June 13.—The Germania Insurance Company, of New York, will write no more insurance in this state, will close its offices and abandon California as an insurance field. Telegraphic instructions have been received from the home office to that effect, and will be followed.

Two reasons are given for this action. One, general in its scope, is that of an ultra conservative company not caring to risk any more of its capital in California losses. The other is more specific, and says the decision of the company was influenced by the legislature and Insurance Commissioner Wolf.

There is every likelihood that a number of companies will follow the example set by the Germania. Smaller companies see in it a precedent under which they may claim a reasonable excuse for quitting the state, and on the other hand it may be the pioneer movement in what may develop into concerted action to secure the repeal of the act at the next session.

There is a soul at the center of nature, and over the will of every man. The whole course of things goes to teach us faith. We need only obey. This is guidance for each one of us, and by lowly listening we shall hear the right word.—Emerson.

It Takes Nerve

Everything depends upon your nerves. It is nerve force that causes the brain to direct the motion of your body; it is nerve force that causes your heart to pulsate, and send the blood through your veins; it is nerve force that causes your stomach to digest food, your kidneys to filter the blood, and the liver to secrete bile.

In fact, nerve force is the power that runs your body, so if you feel worn-out, irritable, nervous, cannot sleep, or eat well, have pain or misery anywhere, your nerves are weak, and your system run-down. To restore this vitality take Dr. Miles' Nerve which will strengthen and build up the nerves. You cannot be healthy without strong nerves.

"For eighteen years Dr. Miles' Nerve and Anti-Pain Pills have been my close companions. Early in married life, while raising children, my nerves became all worn-out—could not sleep; had no appetite; indigestion very bad, and had such awful dizzy spells. Then I began using Dr. Miles' Nerve, and at once I began to improve, and soon found myself in perfect health."

MRS. S. L. YOUNG, 224 Pittsburg St., New Castle, Pa. Dr. Miles' Nerve is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

They Stand Alone.

Standing out in bold relief, all alone, and as a conspicuous example of open, frank and honest dealing with the sick and afflicted, are Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, over-worked, debilitated, nervous, "run-down," pain-racked women, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous remedy for weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness, all catarrhal affections whether of the stomach, bowels, kidneys, bladder, nasal passages, throat, bronchia, or other mucous passages, also as an effective remedy for all diseases arising from thin, watery or impure blood, as scrofulous and skin affections.

Each bottle of the above medicines bears upon its wrapper a badge of honesty in the full list of ingredients composing it—printed in plain English. This frank and open publicity places these medicines on a footing all by themselves, and is the best guaranty of their merits. They cannot be classed as patent or secret medicines for they are neither—being of known composition.

Dr. Pierce feels that he can afford to take the afflicted into his full confidence and lay all the ingredients of his medicines freely before them because these ingredients are such as are endorsed and most strongly praised by scores of the most eminent medical writers as cures for the diseases for which these medicines are recommended. Therefore, the afflicted do not have to rely alone upon Dr. Pierce's recommendation as to the curative value of his medicines for certain easily recognized diseases.

A glance at the printed formula on each bottle will show that no alcohol and no harmful or habit-forming drugs enter into Dr. Pierce's medicines, they being wholly compounded of glyceric extracts of the roots of native, American forest plants. These are best and safest for the cure of most lingering, chronic diseases. Dr. R. V. Pierce can be consulted FREE, by addressing him at Buffalo, N. Y., and all communications are regarded as sacredly confidential.

It is as easy to be well as ill—and much more comfortable. Constipation is the cause of many forms of illness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, two a mild cathartic. All dealers in medicines sell them.
