TREES SHOULD REMAIN

A Correspondent Registers Protest Against Cutting Trees on State St.

Salem, Oregon, June 15. To The Editor of the Capital Journal: It has been currently reported that when the cement sidewalks are placed on State street, the grade will be considerably lowered and that this will necessitate the cutting down of that line of handsome shade trees along the border of the campus of Willamette university. If this is true it is greatly to be deplored. One of the chiefest charms of this beautiful capital city is the luxuriant shade trees that adorn the central portions of the town. And in no part of the city are the trees so beautiful as in the campus of Willamette university.

Surely there can be some way to lay a sidewalk along State street without the ruthless despoiling of these magnificent trees. The cry of "Woodman, spare that tree," was never raised in a more worthy cause than this.

The present city council has been guilty of many sins, both of omission and commission, but for one I do not believe that body will for a single moment order any improvements that will cause to be considered this contemptible act of vandalism.

I am almost ready to say that people living in the vicinity would be justifiable in preventing this wanton butchery of trees by force of arms.

The most charitable view to take of the matter is that any one who would advocate the cutting of these trees is crazy.

It requires a generation for trees to grow that a fool can cut down in an hour.

I hope that you will use the influence of your popular paper to prevent this act of wanton waste and bad taste.

I sincerely hope that there is sufficient civic pride left in Salem to prevent this from being done. Yours, H.

The Burnham Plans.

To Architect Daniel H. Burnham, of Chicago, the leveling of San Francisco appears a golden opportunity for artistic reconstruction. Mr. Burnham's plans have long been discussed, and at this time they form a subject of vital interest to the municipal authorities and the league. Although the working of these plans has been greatly simplified by the fire, the necessary funds will not be so readily found. Vast areas are now bare that would have been condemned by the city government.

These are the Burnham plans: The raising of the grade on Market street below Kearney; the creation of a civic center at the corner of Van Ness avenue and Market streets; the extension of the Pan-Handle to this point and thence in an arc across the Mission to the Pacific Mail dock; the construction of a boulevard around the city; a park and stadium on Twin Peaks, and the adornment of Suro Heights.

In the civic center at Market street and Van Ness avenue, as designed by Burnham, a park will extend from City Hall avenue to Market street and thence to Van Ness avenue. The Administration buildings will be grouped about this park.—Rea Irvin in the Pacific Monthly for June.

Will San Francisco be Rebuilt?

Will San Francisco be rebuilt? The same question was asked concerning Chicago, in 1871, and the Chicago of today is one of this country's greatest sources of pride. And when Galveston, in 1900, only six years ago, was swept away and her population decimated, there were many who freely prophesied that the city of Galveston notwithstanding, still survives, a greater and a better city than ever before. Charleston, too, in 1886, suffered greater damage from earthquake in proportion to her size and wealth than San Francisco did a few short weeks ago.—George C. Pardee, governor of California, in the Pacific Monthly for June.

Identification for Warships.

The German admiralty has resolved upon furnishing ships of war with means for recognizing each other's identity at distances too great for reading the name of the vessel. This is to be effected by the use of rings or bands on the chimney stack, differing in number and color. The colors used will be black, white, red and yellow. According to several liberal German journals, the ships of the opposing squadrons frequently mistook a friend for an enemy during the recent maneuvers, owing to the absence of any means of identification.

COLLEGE AGAINST SCHOOL

The University Defeats High School by a Score of 7 to 6 Yesterday

The High School baseball team went down to defeat before the representatives of Old Willamette yesterday afternoon. It was a closely, stubbornly fought contest, and when the last half of the ninth inning ended the score was 7 to 6 in favor of the college boys. With the exception of Coleman, who pitched for the high school players, the varsity men played their regular positions. The high school aggregation was re-enforced by recruits from the Ramblers.

Willamette scored two points in the first inning, three in the fifth, one in the seventh and one in the ninth; and the school ball tossers came sailing home once in the second inning, twice in the fourth and three times in the ninth. Errors were frequent and besides a few spectacular plays the contest was tame. The crowd in the grand stand was small and did not appear to take much interest until the end of the game, when it seemed as if the High School players would pull out of the hole.

A KENTUCKY WOMAN

TELLS HOW DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS RESTORED HER HEALTH How She Gained Fifteen Pounds in Weight and Became Well for the First Time in Two Years.

There comes a time in the life of every woman when the bloom of youth begins to fade from the cheek, the elastic step, the ringing laugh, the brightness of the eyes give way to the more sober tones of middle age, and headaches, dizziness, faintness and spells of the "blues" show a tendency to appear. Women at 40, or thereabouts, have their future in their own hands. There will be a change for the better or worse, for the better if the system is purified by such a tonic as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Mrs. D. C. Wedding of Hartford, Ky., writes as follows concerning the difficulties which afflicted her.

"I was seriously ill and was confined to my bed for six or eight months in all, during two years. I had chills, fever, rheumatism. My stomach seemed always too full, my kidneys did not act freely, my liver was inactive, my heart beat was very weak and I had dizziness or swimming in my head and nervous troubles.

"I was under the treatment of several different physicians but they all failed to do me any good. After suffering for two years I learned from an Arkansas friend about the merits of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I decided that I would try them. The very first box I took made me feel better and when I had taken four boxes more I was entirely well, weighed 15 pounds more than when I began, resumed my household duties, and have since continued in the best of health. I have recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to many people on account of what they did for me, and I feel that I cannot praise them too strongly."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills restored Mrs. Wedding to health because they actually make new blood and when the blood is in full vigor every function of the body is restored, because the blood carries to every organ, every muscle, every nerve, the nourishment necessary to do its part. Because Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make the blood rich and red they restore lost weight strengthen and revitalize the nerves, bring color to the cheeks, banish rheumatic pains and bring good health and spirits to the depressed. Any woman who is interested in the cure of Mrs. Wedding will want our book, "Plain Talks to Women," which is free on request.

All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

CASTORIA For Infants and Children. The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of J. C. Hatcher In Use For Over Thirty Years CASTORIA

Portland and San Francisco. There will be no permanent advantage or benefit to other cities as a result of San Francisco's misfortune, for it must not be forgotten that the transportation facilities now enjoyed by San Francisco are equal to those of Chicago at the time of her great fire. If any city is to profit, however, that city must be Portland, for the great Harriman system of railroads are just as strongly entrenched here as at San Francisco; their one line south and their short line east both have their terminus at this harbor. Every influence and power that the Harriman interests can control, as well as the full force of the great Santa Fe system, will be concentrated on San Francisco.—Tom Richardson in the Pacific Monthly for June.

Summer Session. The Capital Business College remains open during the summer months. A number of new pupils have entered recently—some for full courses, and others for special studies. Anyone interested in such studies as shorthand, bookkeeping, penmanship, typewriting and business arithmetic, will find the summer months an excellent time to pursue these branches at this school. Call or send for information.

Good going ten days and returning ninety days from sale date; but not beyond October 31, 1906. For particulars call on agents. A. L. Craig, General Passenger Agent, Portland, If Weight of the World. The world is to be weighted once more, doubts being entertained by scientists as to the accuracy of previous estimates, but whether the error be a case of short weight or over-weight has yet to be settled.
