It Is Up to the Doctor.

A lady wrote us from Winchester, Va., that she had been under a doctor's care for four years for dyspepsia, the pain appeared to center under the left shoulder blade, and was so severe at times that she could neither eat nor sleep. She had lost faith in her home doctor, and asked us to send her sample of Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills which had been recommended to her. We sent her two pills, and in a few days she sent for a box. Now she writes that the pain under her shoulder blade has left her entirely, she enjoys her meals and never sleeps less than eight hours every night, and this has all come about in two weeks, and cost her 50 cents for two boxes of pills. Says the doctor charged her $55, and that she told him he had better take the $50 and invest it all in Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills and build up his practice. Sold by druggists for $25c per box. Any one having dyspepsia, bilious spells or sick headache can get a speedy cure by the use of these pills.

A Pleasant Way to Travel.

The above is the usual verdict of the traveler using the Missouri Pacific railway between the Pacific coast and the east, and we believe that the service and accommodations given merit this statement. From Denver, Colorado Springs and Denver there are two through trains daily to Kansas City and St. Louis, carrying Pullman's latest standard electric-lighted sleeping cars, chair cars and up-to-date dining cars. The same excellent service is operated from Kansas City and St. Louis to Memphis, Little Rock and Hot Springs. If you are going east or south, write for particulars and full information.

STANFORD
LISTED

Stanford university lies about five miles to the eastward of Portola fault. The shocks succeeding each other instantly were tremendous, and the tall structures and the unfinished buildings with soft mortar suffered greatly. The injuries are summarized as follows:

1. The Memorial church. The spire of wood weighted by tiles plunged through the nave of the church. The concussion of air forced off the church front with the great mosaic, "The Sermon on the Mount." The flying buttresses of the tower fell crashing through the apses. Otherwise the church suffered little. The bells and the organ are unharmed, the steel-braced walls are perfect, and the mosaics and stained glass windows are mostly intact. The church will doubtless be at some time restored, but with a Spanish dome, rather than the spire and buttresses of its American prototype, Trinity church in Boston. These structures represented the chief deviation from Spanish types of architecture in the quadrangle. The arcades, or cloisters, forming a singularly effective part of the architecture of the quadrangles, are little harmed.

2. Wreck of the unfinished library. The great dome and its steel supports are unharmed; their swaying completely wrecked the rest of the building of stone and brick.

3. Wreck of the new gymnasium, of brick faced with stone.

4. Wreck of parts of the art museum which were made of brick faced with cement. The central part of concrete strengthened by steel rods is intact.

5. The Stanford residence in San Francisco, a huge wooden structure, heavily built, was not harmed by the earthquake, but is completely consumed by fire. The Stanford residence on the Palo Alto campus, a thick walled brick stucco building, was crushed.

6. The inner quadrangle and engineering shops, of heavy masonry, and one story high, are unharmed.

7. The outer quadrangle contains four large buildings reinforced by steel, the laboratories of zoology, botany and physiology, with the temporary library and the assembly hall. These are virtually unharmed.

8. The power house was wrecked by the tall stone chimney, which was snapped off like the lash of a whip.

9. The Memorial arch had its upper part snapped off and is split almost to the base, so that it is an entire wreck. This structure was of brick, reinforced with steel and faced with stone.

10. The Chemistry building lost all its chimneys and is externally damaged by the fall of part of its stone facing. The building and its contents are little injured.

11. The four large buildings of the outer quadrangle, of brick faced with stone, are somewhat damaged, the History building least, the incomplete Mining building most.

12. Roble Hall, the women's dormitory, of concrete with steel wires, is absolutely unharmed except for the fall of two ornamental chimneys.

13. Encina Hall, the men's dormitory, a very large, finely built stone building, was injured by the fall of stone chimneys, one young man being killed. The building also has a serious crack in each of two corners, but is otherwise unharmed.

The loss in all amounts to between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000. The first aspect of the buildings is appalling.

But discouragement is an unknown idea in California. It is men, not buildings, which make a university. The future will know generous givers, as well as the past, and the example of the unstinted devotion of the founder will not be lost on the university students and friends.—David Starr Jordan writes Pacific Monthly for June.

An Alarming Situation.
