TIME TO TAKE A BATH

Salem Water Will Now Soon Flow Pure as Crystal

Superintendent Park, of the Salem Water Company, announces that the work of filling in the new and enlarged crib over on the gravel bar has been completed, and everybody can get ready to take a bath. Most people will be glad it is all over, and that the Willamette nectar will flow pure as of yore. For about a month the Salem Water Company has been making extensive repairs to its crib, or base of supply, and many people have been distressed because the fluid was more or less muddy. It is already flowing purer in the lower parts of the city. But now the mains are to be flushed out and the reservoir thoroughly cleaned for summer. There is going to be a little more disturbance, but it will soon be over, and everybody will enjoy the better water supply as much as the company will in furnishing it.

Nurses Should Be Pretty.

Trained nurses in this city are deep in discussion of a speech recently made by Dr. George Preston, head of one of the big hospitals in Baltimore, before a graduating class. He said that every girl who intended to be a nurse should be pretty. The opinion of the doctor has not been received by the heads of hospitals in this city with unanimous approval, though they all say a nurse should make herself as attractive as possible. But many doctors agree with Dr. Preston, and say the presence of a really pretty woman is oftener far more beneficial than medicine to a patient. There have been cases where an ill person has asked to have his nurse changed because what she lacked in looks she made up in strictness regarding diet and medicine. A matron in one of the largest hospitals says that a pretty girl, if she does not become conceited, makes a better nurse than a plain-looking girl, for she has more influence over her charge.—Portland Journal.

The horse editor has horse sense, even though as Dr. Anna Shaw gave it to him in the solar plexus, "he had never been a horse." All trained nurses are pretty, some more so. If they were all too handsome what would be the use of curing a fellow? He wouldn't leave the hospital.

Nowhere in the world can you see such handsome men and women as are to be met in the United States. They all use Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea, 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Dr. Stone's drug store.

Back From Pendleton.

Judge Thomas G. Halley, of the supreme court, returned home last night from Umatilla county, where he has been on personal business. Judge Halley says that the wheat crop in that part of Oregon looks better than it has for years, and if nothing unforeseen occurs, the wheat output in Umatilla will be bigger this season than it has been for a long time.

Judge Halley says that Pendleton is recovering from the effects of the recent flood, and the town is preparing to build a levee that will prevent any recurrence of the flood. The railroad company is repairing its tracks that were washed out.

Have You a Cough?

A dose of Ballard's Horehound Syrup will relieve it. Have you a cold? Try it for whooping cough, for asthma, consumption, for bronchitis. J. Fry.

And "Der Schumacher."

F. W. Buettner writes to The Capital Journal from San Jose that everything is booming in that city, and that the grounds at Stanford have been cleaned up, and all is now ready for the erection of new buildings. Not a single brick building was destroyed in San Jose. Mr. Buettner sends his regards to all Salem people and "Der Schumacher."

OPEN PUBLICITY THE BEST GUARRANTY OF MERIT.

When the maker of a medicine sold through druggists for family use, takes his patients fully into his confidence by frankly and fearlessly publishing broadcast as well as on its bottle wrappers, a full list of all its ingredients in plain English, this action on his part is the best possible evidence that he is not afraid to have the search light of investigation turned full upon his formula and that it will bear the fullest scrutiny and the most thorough investigation. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of the weaknesses, periodical pains and functional derangements of the organs distinctly feminine, is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for woman's special use, the maker of which is not afraid to take his patients into his full confidence by such open and honest publicity.

A glance at the published ingredients on each bottle wrapper, will show that it is made wholly from native, American, medicinal roots, that it contains no poisonous or habit-forming drugs, no narcotics and no alcohol—pure, triple-refined glycerine of proper strength being used instead of the commonly employed alcohol, both for extracting and preserving the active medicinal properties found in the roots of the American forest plants employed. It is the only medicine for women's peculiar diseases, sold by druggists, that does not contain a large percentage of alcohol, which is in the long run so harmful to woman's delicate nervous system. Now, glycerine is perfectly harmless, and serves a valuable purpose by possessing intrinsic value all its own, and besides it enhances the curative effect of the other ingredients entering into the "Favorite Prescription."

Some of the ablest medical writers and teachers endorse these views and praise all the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is composed—recommending them for the cure of the very same diseases for which this world-famed medicine is advised. No other medicine for women has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any number of ordinary testimonials. If interested, send name and address to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for his little book of extracts from the works of eminent medical writers and teachers, endorsing the several ingredients and telling just what Dr. Pierce's medicines are made of. It's free for the asking.

X-RAYS

John Barrett is coming to Portland this fall to visit. No wonder the weather got warm in the collar.

The city council last night quit violating its own ordinances, and closed the slot machines and swore off.

Tacoma makes some nice distinctions about gambling. For instance, it permits the festive game of poker, but forbids "twenty-one." Nothing like being dainty in one's instinct and habits.

An ancient horse near Portland dropped dead at sight of an automobile yesterday. Well, he isn't the only antique in Oregon that is scared to death at the first sight of new methods and improvements.

The dispatches to The Journal yesterday said a wealthy Nebraska banker had pleaded guilty to fencing the government domain, and had been sentenced to 12 years in jail. The horse editor cocked up his ears at it and nearly ran away, but it was "copy," and so it went. The item was all right, only it was "hours," instead of "years," which makes a difference.

Yesterday in mentioning the game of baseball between the yarn-twisters and weavers and the boys who work where the gentle-voiced and patient mule runs the merry-go-round in the brick yard, the horse editor stated that the woolen mill won. The plaintive remonstrance from the mule aforesaid and the touch of nature that makes mules and horse editors akin compels the latter to state that the adobe bakers were the winners.

Want Chamberlain in Idaho.

The citizens of Nampa, Idaho, have invited Governor Chamberlain to make the Fourth of July address at the celebration they will hold in that city. Nampa is preparing for a big time and the committee telegraphed the governor that all Idaho will be present.

Governor Chamberlain will be out of the city until next Friday, but before he left he stated he would accept no invitations to speak at the approaching holiday.

A Pleasant Way to Travel.

The above is the usual verdict of the traveler using the Missouri Pacific railway between the Pacific coast and the east, and we believe that the service and accommodations given merit this statement. From Denver, Colorado Springs and Denver there are two through trains daily to Kansas City and St. Louis, carrying Pullman's latest standard electric-lighted sleeping cars, chair cars and up-to-date dining cars. The same excellent service is operated from Kansas City and St. Louis to Memphis, Little Rock and Hot Springs. If you are going east or south, write for particulars and full information. W. C. McBRIDE, Gen. Agt., 124 Third St., Portland, Ore.

THE STORY OF CLASSIFIED TOWN. CHAPTER IV. This is the housewife of Classified Town. Whose face seemed to wear a continual frown. Domestic troubles bothered her so. That her life was filled with worry and woe. Domestic came, and domestics went. It seemed by the evil one they were sent. Maids broke dishes and cooks burned stews, Housemen were lazy, and some drank booze. Her health was failing, her husband was sad. Till one day she tried a Journal want ad. All day the applicants came to her door; Cooks, maids and butlers, more than a score. She got what she wanted, no wait, no delay; That's why she's smiling serenely today. (To be continued tomorrow.)

WEATHER BUREAU REPORT.

General Summary. An excess of cloudiness prevailed during the week, and, while showers occurred nearly every day in the north west counties, and on two or three days in the southern and eastern sections of the state, the total amount of rainfall was not excessive, and all rivers and streams have slowly fallen. The mornings averaged from one to two degrees below normal, but the afternoons, on account of cloudy weather, were much cooler than usual, especially in the Willamette valley and the coast counties. The soil is well moistened, and a spell of bright, warm weather is now desired. No frosts occurred and the winds, while high in a few localities, were not damaging; their prevailing direction was from the southwest.

Willamette Valley.

Portland, Multnomah county, local office, weather bureau.—The week was showery and cool. Rain fell on every day but one. The cloudiness was excessive, and, in consequence, the afternoons were unusually cool. The heaviest rains occurred on Friday and Saturday, and amounted to 1.06 inches. The winds were light and most from the southwest. Forest Grove, Washington county, D. J. Taylor.—Continued cloudy weather prevailed, with considerable rain; on Tuesday a high wind blew. Corvallis, Benton county, E. P. Erwin.—Warm, showery weather prevailed all week, with a heavy rain on Friday. No frost or high winds occurred.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC VIGILANT.

View With Alarm the Possibility of a Road to Falls City. H. E. Lounsbury and H. A. Hershall, of the traffic department of the Southern Pacific, with headquarters at Portland, and A. P. Stever, of the same system, with headquarters at Washington, D. C., came to Salem last night, and this morning drove out through Polk county to look at and size up the possibilities for freight in that favored section. It is said that the Southern Pacific views with some alarm the prospective completion of the Salem, Dallas and Falls City railroad and the prospect that its operation will have in bringing all the heavy freight in that section to Salem and on to Portland and the sea by way of Willamette river boats. It is believed that the visit of the Southern Pacific officials at this time is to try in some way to circumvent the plans of the Falls City people.

At the Edison.

Last night the emotional society drama, "A Wife's Peril," was presented to a good-sized and appreciative audience. The play tells the story of a young wife who is enticed from her home during her husband's absence, by an Italian artist. As soon as she leaves her home she realizes that she has taken a false step. Her husband, George Fane, returns unexpectedly soon after her departure. He immediately hurries after her, and begs her to return home, not for her sake, but for the sake of their child, who has been injured by a fall during the mother's absence, and who cannot recover without its natural comforter, its mother. She returns home, the child recovers. They move to another country, and the husband is about to forgive her for her long reported past, when the Italian appears on the scene. The husband discovers him, and kills him in a duel. The comedy interests are strong, and there is not a dull moment during the entire play. Miss Iva Shepard, as the young wife, makes the most of the extremely difficult part. Mr. Chas. Caulkins, as the husband, played his part well, and held the sympathy of the audience. Mr. Percy Brigham, as the Italian artist, appeared to good advantage, and played his part well. On the whole, this week's play promises to be one of the most interesting yet presented by Salem's popular little stock company.

Off for the Sound.

Professor W. H. Mahaffie, of Willamette university, left yesterday for the Sound country, where he will spend his vacation doing work in biological lines. Together with professors from the Puget Sound university and the University of Washington, he will study and do research work among marine plants. Their experiments will consist in microscopic investigation and in the preparing of specimens for study in the class room. During July and the first part of August the biologists will do their work in the Puget Sound university laboratory. The remainder of their work until the reopening of the school year will be carried on in Seattle. Professor Mahaffie was accompanied by his family and expects to return to Salem early in September.

Following the Flag.

When our soldiers went to Cuba and the Philippines, health was the most important consideration. Willis T. Morgan, retired commissary sergeant, U. S. A., of Rural Route 1, Concord, N. H., says: "I was two years in Cuba and two years in the Philippines, and being subject to colds, I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which kept me in perfect health. And now, in New Hampshire, we find it the best medicine in the world for coughs, colds, bronchial troubles and all lung diseases. Guaranteed at J. C. Perry's drug store. Price, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Three U. of O. boys have started out to spend their vacation on foot. They intend to strike the coast from Eugene and up past the various resorts.
