UNFORTUNATE TANGLE AT WILLAMETTE

Ministerial Association Gets Mixed up in the Boyer Muddle and the End is not in Sight

Let us Hope the Family Linen Will Come Clean from the Wash, and Look Well on the Clothes Line

The breach widens. Those closest to the theatre of action of the management of the affairs of Willamette University, no longer deny that the president, the trustees and the faculty, are not working in harmony among themselves and with each other. It is given out that Prof. W. P. Drew, who occupied the chair of Greek and Latin was not fired for undue political activity alone. It is said that there were other reasons. This brings into the limelight again the back door of a certain Salem saloon. A couple of decades ago its owner began to sit up and take notice whenever a preacher made an attack on his saloon or saloons in general; and if one of these ministers had to leave Salem under a cloud, he forewith inscribed his name on the back door of his gin mill. During the past fifteen or twenty years this list has grown into a dozen or so.

It is hinted that the back door roll may soon have to be augmented with the names of a couple of college professors.

The ministerial association of Salem has taken up the cudgels and Monday appointed a committee to look into the matter with the probable end in view of having Professor Drew reinstated or at least in making a martyr of him. They began action on the theory that Dr. W. was removed on account of his activity in the anti-saloon movement. The committee of the ministers is composed of Rev. F. W. Cliffe, of the Baptist church; Rev. Davis Erret, of the Christian church; Rev. H. A. Deck, of the United Evangelical church and Rev. W. M. Robinson, of the Presbyterian church. This committee met President Coleman of the university on Monday night and put the question to him squarely: "Was Drew fired on account of his fight on the saloons?"

"I decline to say," said the university president.

Then it is said that Dr. Coleman was dragged over the coals.

"I have it on good authority," said one of the committee of preachers, "that you, Dr. Coleman, have said that you have a contribution of $7,500 for the university that was given on condition that you be re-elected as president and that such was not the case; that the money was given by Mr. Kendall unconditionally."

"Who told you that," roared the president.

"I decline to tell you," replied the preacher.

At the next meeting of the Ministerial Association, this committee will make a report to the full body and it has been expected that a formal protest will be made.

However, it is said that if certain rumors are true, the ministers will keep silent and try to get out of the uncomfortable position as gracefully as possible.

On the day of the meeting of the trustees, when officers and professors were elected, it was given out that Prof. Charles O. Boyer, principal of the Normal school and professor of Physics and Geology, had been re-elected. It is now stated by members of the board of trustees, that such was not the case. It is said that the election of Prof. Boyer has been held up, pending the investigation of charges that have been made by the student body. It has been rumored that the Normal school principal has at divers times shown a decided propensity for social pleasures that does not entirely harmonize with his dignity as a university professor. Prof. Boyer came to Willamette from the Puget Sound University, a school maintained at Tacoma by the Methodist church. It is given out that the professor left Tacoma for similar reasons.

It is said on good authority, that the committee on faculty, of which Dr. John Hamline Coleman is chairman, is engaged in investigating the conduct of Prof. Boyer, and that the committee has written letters to Tacoma to ascertain his standing in that community.

It is an open secret that President Coleman is a partisan of Prof. Boyer and those who desire the removal of Boyer say they expect the committee will bring in a report that will completely whitewash the man on trial.

However, it is said that the student body will bring every influence possible to have Professor Boyer leave the school. It is said that at the commencement exercises, the graduating class of the normal school asked the President to refuse to allow Professor Boyer to sign his name on the diplomas, as has been the rule, he being the dean of that school. And it is stated that as a matter of fact Boyer's name does not appear on the diplomas, but that the space remains blank.

In this connection, a story is told that President Coleman was averse to one of the graduates of the law school receiving a diploma and for a long time refused to place his name on the young lawyer's sheepskin. It is told that the president was persuaded into signing the diploma by other members of the faculty.

Philip Buehner, of Portland, is the new president of the Board of Trustees, and it is said to be probable that he will soon be asked to call a meeting of that body to consider these vexed questions. It is asserted that a part of the trustees are determined that Prof. Boyer shall be made to walk the plank, and that there is another bunch who is equally eager to have the venerable president, Dr. Coleman, resign. They say he has outlived his usefulness in this institution and that he assumes too much dictatorial and arbitrary power and has all along refused to "play" if any member of the board of trustees, or even member of the board of trustees, is "persona non grata" to him.

In the meantime the friends of the university, whose names are legion, deeply deplore that the university authorities are washing all this foul mud in semi-public; still they believe that the moral wave which has hit the school squarely between the eyes will be its ultimate salvation.

It is stated on every hand that Willamette University is the oldest and most justly celebrated school in the west; that it has every thing to make it great. It has back of it a history of many great achievements, and is backed up with the glamor of legendary lore. It is under the auspices of one of the wealthiest and

It Is Up to the Doctor.

A lady wrote us from Winchester, Va., that she had been under a doctor's care for four years for dyspepsia, the pain appeared to center under the left shoulder blade, and was so severe at times that she could neither eat nor sleep. She had lost faith in her home doctor, and asked us to send her sample of Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills which had been recommended to her. We sent her two pills, and in a few days she sent for a box. Now she writes that the pain under her shoulder blade has left her entirely, she enjoys her meals and never sleeps less than eight hours every night, and this has all come about in two weeks, and cost her 50 cents for two boxes of pills. Says the doctor charged her $52, and that she told him he had better take the $50 and invest it all in Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills and build up his practice. Sold by druggists for $25c per box. Any one having dyspepsia, bilious spells or sick headaches can get a speedy cure by the use of these pills.
