High Naval Retirements.

Washington, June 23.—No one has been able to find out just what will be the result of the sessions of the board of admirals, who are meeting to eliminate officers in the line of the navy, in order to furnish the statutory number of officers in the commissioned personnel on July 1. In previous years the board has announced from time to time the number of applications for various grades for retirement, and the result that it was easy to figure out just how many voluntary retirements there would be. This had the effect of discouraging senior officers from applying for retirement. This different policy has been adopted.

ed, with the idea that every one who has any, even the remotest, intention of retiring voluntarily, may send in his application. In this way it is expected there will be vacancies obtained in the grade of captain which will result in benefit by promotion all down the line. This is the reason for the reticence of the naval authorities in regard to prospective retirements. It is evident, however, that there will be sufficient applications for retirement to make unnecessary the selection of officers to go out of active service.

Brookline, Mass., June 23.—The all-round championships of the Amateur Athletic Union will be held on the Massachusetts Institute of Technology field this afternoon. TEDDY GOES A HUNTING

Orders That the Railroads Be Investigated and Prosecuted if They Gave Rebates

Washington, June 23.—The President's order for an octopus hunt is not confined to the Standard Oil. He ordered his huntsmen to go after the railroads also, and wherever they can find that the roads granted rebates to the Standard to bring suit against the road as well as the Standard. Moody, who had determined to retire to private life this summer, will remain as chief huntsman, at the earnest request of Roosevelt. The Pennsylvania, New York Central, Chicago & Eastern, Illinois, Rutland, Central Vermont, Burlington, Alton, Missouri & Southern Pacific are to be investigated, and there may be others.

Tooez Elected Principal.

Silverton, Or., June 23.—Professor F. J. Tooez, of Monroe, Michigan, a brother of Hon. Walter L. Tooez, of Woodburn, has been elected as principal of the Silverton high school. He will move his family to Silverton early in the fall.

CORNELL WINS RACE

Great Inter-Collegiate Regatta Took Place at Poughkeepsie N. Y. Today.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 23.—Today is the day of the great intercollegiate regatta and the town is rapidly filling with visitors from all parts of the east, who are eagerly waiting for the great events of the afternoon. Probably never before has the interest in the intercollegiate contest of oarsmen been as intense as this year, and those who are in a position to know believe that the races will be more spirited than for many years. Last year Cornell won the principal event, the 'varsity eight race, with ridiculous ease; but it seems to be the general belief that the Cornell crew will not find it so easy this year to carry off the trophy. Syracuse, always particularly eager to defeat Cornell, has been hard at work, and their crew has done some exceptionally good work during the past week. Pennsylvania and Wisconsin also have sent splendid crews and their practice work justifies the belief that they will give a good account of themselves this afternoon.

Twenty Indictments.

Portland, June 23.—A total of twenty indictments have been returned by the grand jury investigating election frauds, and more are expected. Officials of the Oregon Water Power and the breweries are among the indicted.

other three are further out, under the third span. This change helps to equalize the conditions, and the crews further in-shore are not under the disadvantage as in previous years. Formerly an outside position under certain weather conditions was easily worth one or two lengths to the lucky crew assigned to that position.

Cornell seems to be the general favorite and many bets are made on the success of the red and white. Syracuse has many friends among the spectators and it would be a sad disappointment to them should Syracuse be the loser in every one of the races. Philadelphia has made a good showing, but its friends are not as enthusiastic as those of Cornell and Syracuse. However, at the present time it is impossible to foreshadow the outcome of the great regatta, probably the most interesting ever held in this part of the country.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 23.—The great intercollegiate rowing races come off here today. The weather is unfavorable, being damp and cloudy. All the crews took to the water this morning long enough to row their shells to the one-mile mark, where they will be embarked when the struggle is begun. The coaches followed in launches, but made no attempt to get speed out of them.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 23.—4:30 p. m.—Cornell won the four-oared race, Syracuse second, Columbia third, Pennsylvania fourth.

To Establish School of Fine Arts.

New York, June 23.—A movement is on foot in this city to build here a school of fine arts, under government control, on the line of the famous Ecole des Beaux Arts in Paris. It is understood that at least $3,000,000 will be needed for site, building and endowment. The movement is distinct from the plan of the ways and means committee of the Fine Arts federation, of which John W. Alexander is chairman, to raise at least $3,000,000 for a United Fine Arts building. It is expected that Andrew Carnegie, J. Pierpont Morgan and several other art patrons in this city would contribute generously toward the endowment of the proposed school. Most of the artists in this country are in favor of the plan and it is believed that the proposition will receive general support among the art-loving people of the United States. The school is to be a free institution, not depending for its financial support upon the money received for tuition.

Mayor McClellan Sails for Europe.

New York, June 23.—Mayor McClellan, accompanied by Mrs. McClellan, sailed on the American Line steamer New York for Europe today. They expect to make an extended tour through Europe and will return in September, probably by the steamer St. Paul of the American line. During the mayor's absence Patrick F. McGowan, president of the board of aldermen, will be acting mayor and as Mayor McClellan will be away longer than thirty days, the acting mayor will exercise all the powers of the mayor's office, including those of removal and appointment.

Railway Mail Clerks Meet.

Washington, June 23.—The annual convention of the third division of the Railway Mail Clerks' association opened here today. It is of more than ordinary importance, as at this convention the delegates will be chosen for the national convention, which will be held at Chicago on October 2, of this year.

TO HATCH MISS HOGAN

Woke up too Soon and Has Taken up Her Quarters in an Incubator

New York, June 23.—The sudden arrival of little Miss Hogan created a commotion at the home of her parents this morning, and a hurry call brought Mrs. Mary McEwen, whose speciality is the reception of tiny visitors. Mrs. McEwen hurried to Bellevue with the infant, placed it in an incubator and will probably save its life. The doctors say little Miss Hogan awakened several months too soon, and, although she only weighs three-quarters of a pound is perfectly normal and likely to thrive. She appears to be satisfied with the little glass oven in which she has taken apartments.

Can't Withdraw Their Deposit.

Albany, N. Y., June 23.—Justice Pitte, of the supreme court, today refused the Baidso Insurance Company, of Switzerland, permission to withdraw the $200,000 deposited according to the laws of the state when the company did business in this country, the court holding that the company is still doing business in the Philippines, and it must answer to the law as still doing business in the United States.

From an early hour this morning people began to stream toward this city from every direction. They came on foot from the surrounding districts, in buggies, carriages and automobiles, on bicycles and motor-cycles and every train from the north as well as from the south emptied a large number of people into the depots. The ferry between Poughkeepsie and Highlands, usually not overburdened with passengers, made trip after trip and going and coming it carried heavy loads of passengers. Hundreds of picnic parties started from here and other places in this vicinity during the forenoon and occupied every spot along the shore on both sides of the Hudson, from which a good and unobstructed view of the course may be had. Particularly near the finish line, which is about one mile below the long bridge, the hill sides are already swarming with people. The observation train with its endless string of flat cars, bearing rising rows of benches, is standing on the Westshore railroad tracks, ready for the thousands of people whom it will carry up and down the shore, following the struggling crews. The arrangements are practically the same as last year and promise to give general satisfaction.

There will be three races. The first race, for Varsity four-oared shells, will start from up the river at 4 o'clock. The distance is two miles and the winning crew will be awarded the Kennedy challenge trophy, presented in 1899 by Davidson Kennedy of Pennsylvania, to be held by the winner for one year. The alignment of the crews, from west to east, will be: Cornell, 1; Columbia, 2; Syracuse, 3; Pennsylvania, 4; Wisconsin, 5.

The second race, for Freshmen eight-oared shells, will start at 4:45 o'clock. It will be over a course of two miles, and for the Steward's cup, presented in 1900 by Franklin S. Bangs of Columbia, to be held by the winner for one year. It is now held by Cornell. The crews will be aligned as follows: Columbia, 1; Syracuse, 2; Cornell, 3; Pennsylvania, 4; Wisconsin, 5.

The third and last, as well as the most important race, for Varsity eight-oared shells, will start at 6 o'clock. It will be over a course of four miles, and for the Varsity challenge cup, presented in 1898 by Dr. Louis I. Seaman of Cornell, to be held by the winner for one year. It is now held by Cornell. The alignment will be as follows: Syracuse, 1; Columbia, 2; Wisconsin, 3; Cornell, 4; Georgetown, 5; Pennsylvania, 6.

An important change has been made in the arrangement of the courses as compared with former years. The courses 1, 2 and 3 are laid under the second arch of the Poughkeepsie bridge, near the Highland side. The

WASH DAY AT PACIFIC

Willamette Not Alone in Having All on the Clothes Line But its Bathing Suit

Forest Grove, June 23.—The subject of paramount interest in the college city is the outcome of the faculty quarrel terminating a few days ago in the resignation of Professor George E. Coghill, A. M., Ph. D., of the chair of biology and neurology. The real trouble is the opposition of the students and certain members of the faculty to William Nelson Ferrin, acting as president of the university. Ever since his election to the presidency, after the departure of President McClelland from the college to accept the presidency of Knox college, at Galesburg, Ill., there has been some opposition to Professor Ferrin in becoming the head of the college. The trustees, however, elected him to the presidency, because of his ability as a financial manager.

The finances of the school have been kept in good condition under the Ferrin regime, but the attendance, due to the persistent 'knocking' of the students against the head of the college, has fallen off considerably, much to the dissatisfaction of the townspeople and of the alumni. The fight against the president is of long standing, and was plain to the casual observer who visited the campus. Members of the faculty, Professor Louis Bach, of the chair of modern languages, and Dr. G. E. Coghill have seen that the current against President Ferrin was real and gaining strength, and they, too, have become opposed to him.

The trouble came up to a head when it was found that one of the students, who had been active in the raising of funds for the building of the new girls' dormitory, was to receive a commission from the president for raising the money.

It seems that $500 was to be paid the student for the soliciting of funds in Portland, for which he seemed particularly fitted by acquaintance with the business men. The student body was patting the solicitor on the back for his apparent earnest college loyalty and display of college spirit, and the faculty did not know what sum he was drawing for his work. When the scheme leaked out the students who were working on the '$10,000 student fund' refused to work any further. Prof. Bach investigated the matter, and reported to other members of the faculty. The deal between the college president and the student solicitor was too much for Dr. Coghill, and he handed in his resignation.

Such is the situation at Pacific. Naturally everything is kept very quiet, but it is clear to see that the movement is a rebellion against the present management of the school. It is left to the trustees to act; either dismiss the president or make changes in the faculty that will bring about harmony. Professor Robertson and Professor Bradley have gone to the University of California to pursue advanced work during the summer. Dr. Coghill has an offer to do special research work in one of the large institutes in the East, and will avail himself of the opportunity. What will the outcome be is the question that agitates the minds of the powerful people of the classic college town.
