THE STORY OF
CLASSIFIED TOWN

CHAPTER XV.

Here's the professor with smiling face;
In Classified Town he's a model of grace.
He teaches dancing, ball room or stage,
And teaches it well, no matter the age.

As a teacher of dancing he made a success,
But there's one little thing he will freely confess,
If he was a teacher of music or art
Success would be his, he knows, from the start.

Like all who are wise he would quickly engage,
A few lines of space on the Classified page.
Journal want ads each day he would use;
For they are the ads the people peruse.

(To be continued tomorrow.)

Woodburn Swatted Albany.

Before one of the most enthusiastic bunches of ball fans ever assembled in Woodburn, the baseball team of that place walloped the Albany colts yesterday afternoon by the score of 14 to 4. This victory is the seventh consecutive triumph for the Woodburn team, and their home town is exceedingly proud of their record.

They will be decorated anew and painted, and will present a gorgeous appearance in the greatest civic parade ever seen in the Capital City. G. A. R., Attention.

The general committee who are so ably handling the general plans for the coming Fourth of July celebration are very anxious to have the old soldiers of the G. A. R. in line for the parade, and to this end sent an invitation to the post, which was acted upon at our last meeting, June 19th, the invitation being accepted. Indefinite action, however, was taken, the matter being left to the commander, who was then at Grant's Pass attending the encampment. Since my return I have consulted all the comrades I could meet, and a general desire seems to prevail to turn out and show our good will, and respond to the best of our ability to all the efforts put forth to make this the greatest day for Salem in its history. So comrades, we will be in line on the Fourth, and I hope every old soldier will be with us who can stand to march for about five blocks. This means every old soldier, whether he belongs to the post or not. Come out comrades, and let us show our good will. We will meet at the post hall at 9:30 a. m. on July 4th. Don't forget our regular meeting on July 3d, at 8 p. m., when arrangements will be completed and reports, heard from representatives to the department encampment. By request of Gideon Stolz, commander Sedgwick Post, G. A. R. 6-30-7-2
